The Memory of Bones Stephen D. Houston, Stuart David, Karl Taube, 2013-05-01 An analysis of the intellectual and emotional life of ancient Mesoamerican people through studies of figural works and inscriptions All of human experience flows from bodies that feel express emotion and think about what such experiences mean But is it possible for us embodied as we are in a particular time and place to know how people of long ago thought about the body and its experiences In this groundbreaking book three leading experts on the Classic Maya ca AD 250 to 850 marshal a vast array of evidence from Maya iconography and hieroglyphic writing as well as archaeological findings to argue that the Classic Maya developed an approach to the human body that we can recover and understand today Starting with a cartography of the Maya body as depicted in imagery and texts the authors explore how the body was replicated in portraiture how it experienced the world through ingestion the senses and the emotions how the body experienced war and sacrifice and the pain and sexuality how words often heaven sent could be embodied and how bodies could be blurred through spirit possession From these investigations the authors convincingly demonstrate that the Maya conceptualized the body in varying roles as a metaphor of time as a gendered sexualized being in distinct stages of life as an instrument of honor and dishonor as a vehicle for communication and consumption as an exemplification of beauty and ugliness and as a dancer and song maker Their findings open a new avenue for empathetically understanding the ancient Maya as living human beings who experienced the world as we do through the body reverting to either a social or racial deterministic view of identity construction Using a variant of structuration theory phenomenological structuralism this work against contemporary postmodern and post structural theories seeks to offer a dialectical understanding of the constitution of black American and British life within the class division and social relations of production of the global capitalist world system while accounting for black social agency A Protestant Theology of Religious Pluralism Livingstone Thompson,2009 In this book three main things have been accomplished First it locates the emergence of religious pluralism as a problem for Christian theology Secondly it shows the critical weaknesses in the approaches to pluralism that we find in the works of Gavin D Costa George Lindbeck and John Hick all major players in the field of religious pluralism Retrieving theological material from seventeenth century Comenius and eighteenth century Zinzendorf the book shows that the Protestant tradition has suitable theological material that can better serve the development of a theology of religious pluralism Thirdly the book enters into dialogue with Islam and highlights exciting new approaches to addressing the issues of salvation the Qur an and Christology One critical outcome of the book is that it breaks new ground in showing the limitations of liberation theology and proposes a fascinating new pluralism sensitive hermeneutical approach to contextual theology Capitalism, Lakouism, and Libertarian Communism Paul C. Mocombe,2020-02-11 This work highlights the Haitian sociopolitical economic organization Lakous It posits that the Lakou is a form of libertarian communism that must be vertically integrated at the nation state level so that the people can experience total freedom from neoliberal capitalist relations of production and their deleterious effects such as exploitation and climate change Becoming Apostolic Catherine Sexton,2024-07-01 This book explores the experience and understanding of Roman Catholic sisters of their vocation to the apostolic form of religious life as they age Based on interviews with twelve religious women it draws on the practice of Lectio Divina to explore how these women describe their call to service and activity at a time in life when these might be curtailed by physical diminishment and increasingly reduced social interaction and influence As the very institutions of religious life are themselves under threat the book identifies new emerging forms of ministry through presence to each other and to their carers The Vodou Ethic and the Spirit of Communism Paul C. Mocombe,2016-02-04 Using a variant of structuration theory what Paul C Mocombe calls phenomenological structuralism this work explores and highlights how the African religion of Vodou and its ethic i e syncretism materialism communal living or social collectivism democracy individuality cosmopolitanism spirit of social justice xenophilia balance harmony and gentleness gave rise under the leadership of oungan yo manbo yo gangan yo and granmoun yo to the Haitian spirit of communism and the counter plantation system Jean Casimir s term in the provinces and mountains of Haiti What Mocombe calls the Vodou Ethic and the spirit of communism of the African people of Haiti would be juxtaposed against the Catholic Protestant Ethic and the spirit of capitalism of the white mulatto gens de couleur and petit bourgeois free black classes of the island This latter worldview the Catholic Protestant Ethic and the spirit of capitalism Mocombe goes on to argue exercised by the free bourgeois blacks and mulatto elites Affranchis on the island undermined the revolutionary and independence movement of Haiti commenced by subjects agents oungan yo manbo yo gangan yo dokt fey and granmoun yo of the Vodou ethic and the spirit of communism and made it the poorest most racist and tyrannical country in the Western Hemisphere
