Differentiating Instruction For Gifted Learners A Case Studies Approach:

Differentiating Instruction for Gifted Learners Christine L. Weber, Wendy A. Behrens, Cecelia Boswell, 2021-09-03

Differentiating Instruction for Gifted Learners allows educators and stakeholders to examine issues related to differentiating curriculum and instruction in a variety of contexts. The case studies in this rich resource analyze various differentiation strategies and their benefits to promote classrooms where every student belongs, every student is valued, and every student is nurtured. The cases facilitate conversations about children and their unique needs by situating learning in authentic and meaningful contexts with the goal of helping educators improve services and programs for gifted and talented students. Things to Consider guide the reader's thinking without imparting an explicit action recommendation or solution. Discussion questions, activities, extensions, and suggestions for additional readings support the standards of excellence set forth in the revised NAGC CEC Teacher Preparation Standards in Gifted and Talented Education and the NAGC CEC Advanced Standards in Gifted Education Teacher Preparation. Insights in teacher education: 2022 Stefinee Pinnegar, Ramona Maile Cutri, 2024-04-22. Collaboration, Coteaching, and Coaching in Gifted Education Emily Mofield, Vicki Phelps, 2021-09-03. Winner of NAGC's 2021 Book of the Year Award. This must-have resource provides gifted educators with methods and strategies for successful coplanning, coteaching, coaching, and collaboration. Enables effective management of differentiation. Increases educators' understanding of gifted students' needs. Features the tools and how-to steps for facilitating and maintaining collaborative work in order to challenge and support gifted students all day every day. Encourages professional learning and a focus on shared responsibility and reflection. The book also includes considerations for working with special populations, including twice exceptional students, underachievers, and culturally, linguistically, and economically diverse learners, as well as meeting students' social-emotional needs, collaborating with families and communities, and advocating for gifted education. Best Practices in Professional Learning and Teacher Preparation National Association for Gifted Children, Angela Novak, 2021-09-03. Several states offer additional teacher preparation programs by providing either an endorsement or certification in the field, but these are often pursued by teachers specifically enrolled in gifted coursework rather than in general education programs. Practitioners and researchers agree that time and energy should be spent on training teachers in how to address the needs of gifted and talented students both within the regular classroom and in specialized programs. This three-book series acknowledges this need and provides specific strategies for professional development in a variety of settings using various methods. Drawing on both literature in the field and research-based best practices in professional learning, this series provides the reader with a foundation for designing and implementing effective professional development experiences for educators working with gifted learners. This volume provides strategies and curricular materials/resources for working with gifted learners in specific content areas, i.e., mathematics, science, social studies, literacy, languages, and the arts. Discusses the importance of training teachers to use high-quality curriculum. Builds off of research on talent development cultural awareness and social justice in education Details instructional strategies that are appropriate for challenging gifted learners including developing growth mindset A service publication of the National Association for Gifted Children Washington DC This designation indicates that this book has been jointly developed with NAGC and that this book passes the highest standards of scholarship research and practice Exploring Critical Issues in Gifted Education Christine L. Weber,Cecelia Boswell,Wendy A. Behrens,2021-09-03 Although the best way to provide professional development for educators is through field experiences and hands on practice it is not always easy or even possible to organize such encounters especially in the field of gifted education In order to better prepare educators to work with gifted and talented students Exploring Critical Issues in Gifted Education A Case Studies Approach presents problem based learning scenarios that explore authentic situations found in K 12 classrooms The scenarios can be read and discussed in a short amount of time allow the reader to gain greater understanding through empathy require an analysis of multiple perspectives and support the standards of excellence set forth in the 2010 NAGC Pre K Grade 12 Gifted Education Programming Standards Using the cases in the book educators will gain the insight needed to improve the identification of and services for gifted and talented students in light of these standards Differentiation for Gifted Learners Diane Heacox,Richard M.
