faculty in information studies communication studies rhetoric new media and more Connected Viewing Jennifer Holt, Kevin Sanson, 2013-12-04 As patterns of media use become more integrated with mobile technologies and multiple screens a new mode of viewer engagement has emerged in the form of connected viewing which allows for an array of new relationships between audiences and media texts in the digital space This exciting new collection brings together twelve original essays that critically engage with the socially networked multi platform and cloud based world of today examining the connected viewing phenomenon across television film video games and social media The result is a wide ranging analysis of shifting business models policy matters technological infrastructure new forms of user engagement and other key trends affecting screen media in the digital era Connected Viewing contextualizes the dramatic transformations taking place across both media industries and national contexts and offers students and scholars alike a diverse set of methods and perspectives for studying this critical moment in media culture Proceedings of the fourth Asia-Pacific Research in Social Sciences and Humanities, Arts and Humanities Stream (AHS-APRISH 2019) Shuri Mariasih Gietty Tambunan, 2023-05-27 This is an open access book According to Castells power now rests in networks the logic of the network is more powerful than the powers of the network quoted in Weber 2002 p 104 it is whether nation states or local communities are deeply affected especially by inclusion in and exclusion from the global networks that structure a various sectors in society at any level Thus it is also crucial look closely at exclusion from and inclusion in different kinds of social structures where connectivity and access to networks are essential being aware that people at the bottom are those who with nothing to offer the network are excluded Castells arguments shows us how the new forms of network society offer challenges in a way that despite the disappearance of conventional ties exploitation marginalization exclusion and differentiation remain In what follows scholarships are invited to build an academic discussion on characterizing the structure and dynamics of societies in the world of the twenty first century Thus scholar may come to look at the meaning of being in a network society by examining the role of network society within the complexity of socio cultural political and economic circumstances in strengthening the role of science in overcoming local national regional and global problems But scientific research is also required to identify a wide variety of solutions to societal problems enhanced by the network society which no longer relate solely to a particular discipline but are multi and trans disciplinary In addition recent research has changed the traditional role of academia demanding more collaboration in the production of science not only among universities but also among researchers social practitioners and policymakers Considering these issues the fourth Asia Pacific Research in Social Sciences and Humanities APRiSH will be hosted by the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences Universitas Indonesia FISIP UI in 2019 under the theme The Network Society Continuity and Change Scientific inputs from all parts of the world are welcome academically and practically Various perspectives based on mono disciplinary multi disciplinary or trans disciplinary research are expected to examine the problems and contribute to solutions Replayed Henry Lowood, 2023-06-06 The purpose of this book is to consolidate the author's far flung publications into a single work to give students and scholars the opportunity to read and teach his scholarly output as a single corpus of thought This book offers the author's most significant pieces on game history game historiography software preservation software collections virtual worlds machinima play capture and documentation

Digital Scholarly Editions Beyond Text Tessa Gengnagel, 2024-02-07 Scholarly editions contextualize our cultural heritage Traditionally methodologies from the field of scholarly editing are applied to works of literature e.g. in order to trace their genesis or present their varied history of transmission What do we make of the variance in other types of cultural heritage How can we describe record and reproduce it systematically From medieval to modern times from image to audiovisual media the book traces discourses across different disciplines in order to develop a conceptual model for scholarly editions on a broader scale By doing so it also delves into the theory and philosophy of the digital humanities as such

Digital Humanities Olivier Le Deuff, 2018-04-16 Where do the digital humanities really come from Are they really news What are the theoretical and technical influences that participate in this scientific field that arouses interest and questions This book tries to show and explain the main theories and methods that have allowed their current constitution The aim of the book is to propose a new way to understand the history of digital humanities in a broader perspective than the classic history with the project of Robert Busa The short digital humanities perspective neglects lots of actors and disciplines The book tries to show the importance of other fields than humanities computing like scientometry infometry econometry mathematical linguistics geography and documentation

Laying the Foundation John W. White, Heather Gilbert, 2016-03-15 Laying the Foundation Digital Humanities in Academic Libraries examines the library's role in the development implementation and instruction of successful digital humanities projects It pays special attention to the critical role of librarians in building sustainable programs It also examines how libraries can support the use of digital scholarship tools and techniques in undergraduate education Academic libraries are nexuses of research and technology as such they provide fertile ground for cultivating and curating digital scholarship However adding digital humanities to library service models requires a clear understanding of the resources and skills required Integrating digital scholarship into existing models calls for a reimagining of the roles of libraries and librarians In many cases these reimagined roles call for expanded responsibilities often in the areas of collaborative instruction and digital asset management and in turn these expanded responsibilities can strain already stretched resources Laying the Foundation provides practical solutions to the challenges of successfully incorporating digital humanities programs into existing library services Collectively its authors argue that librarians are critical resources for teaching digital humanities to undergraduate students and that libraries are essential for publishing preserving and making accessible digital scholarship
