The cell is the basic unit of life. It is the smallest unit of an organism that can perform all the functions of life. The cell is made up of various organelles, each with a specific function. The nucleus is the control center of the cell, containing the genetic material (DNA). The mitochondria are the powerhouses of the cell, producing energy. The ribosomes are the sites of protein synthesis. The cell membrane is the boundary of the cell, controlling the entry and exit of substances. The cytoplasm is the fluid medium in which the organelles are suspended. The cell is constantly changing and growing. It can divide to form new cells. It can also die and be replaced. The cell is the foundation of life.
