Trejos takes readers along with her on her journey. She meets with a financial planner and a therapist to deal with all the issues young people face today from credit card debt and student loans to impulse buying and emotional spending to the cost of having a social life to buying a house with someone during a potentially impermanent relationship and more. Trejos learns what causes these problems in herself, how she can fix them, and how she can pass that advice on to other young people going through the same experiences. Even better, she shows readers how they can address these problems without completely giving up their lives. No give up your latte a day type advice here. Trejos' personal and unique voice along with her experiences that everyone can relate to will lead readers to relatively painless financial security.

Mobile Influence Chuck Martin, 2025-08-22 The explosion of mobile access across the globe has shaken the foundations of the traditional sales funnel and businesses are scrambling to adapt and find new ways to tap into the market. For all their effort, many have failed to realize that the issue is not how to reach the customer where they are but where they are going and their mindset at the moment. With the staggering growth in the use of mobile technology as both product research and purchase point businesses have yet to fully understand the important role mobile devices play in the basic structure of the traditional shopping model and the new importance on linking behavior with location. With the death of the traditional sales funnel comes author Chuck Martin's new model, the Mobile Shopping Life Cycle. Based on the author's in depth research, Martin has identified the six specific moments in the timeline of the sale which marketers must target effectively in order to reach the mobile buyer. From location based marketing to mobile payment systems, Martin's model gives marketers access to the tools necessary to build a new sales framework that properly addresses the future of the market.

Smart Girls Don't Kiss Aliens Alina Jacobs, Crash land on an alien barbarian planet and told there's no way home. LMAO I'm a rocket scientist. Miss me with that noise. Anyone else might have a nervous breakdown but I was abducted with my besties. Between us we have fifteen PhDs. We will be getting off this planet. Trust No I will not be finding an eternal bonded mate among the seven foot tall alien males. No I will not be wearing a furkini and walking around barefoot. And no I will not be moving into a cave with no internet or running water and accepting my fate like the rest of the freed human women on this craft cocktail forsaken planet. Two liquid hydrogen rockets and a smidge of deep space travel later and we're back home on Earth. Except that our spaceship had stowaways. Now there's a seven foot tall alien named Cassius in my Los Angeles condo. He's calmly explaining that according to the ancestors we are to be eternally mated and have a litter of children. Also he's wearing a loincloth. And he has horns. Wipe that smirk off your face. No it is not as sexy as it sounds. He barked at my cat. He harassed my busybody Karen neighbor. Actually I'm okay with that one. And he's obsessed with the ice maker in my fridge. What's a smart girl to do. The smart thing is to build a rocket ship and send Cassius and his other hot alien friends back to their home planet The not smart thing to do is fall into those deep blue gray eyes and let him show me just how good that forked tongue feels And the downright stupid thing to do is fall in love with an alien This is a stand alone full length laugh out loud romantic comedy complete with bad space puns hot guys with horns and enough steam to cause a supernova Happily ever after guaranteed Home to Hollywood Celine Wallace,2014-02-28 This book offers a no nonsense guide to help educate actors making the move to Los Angeles Offering accessible tools and templates to follow it covers all topics from work visas housing transport unions representation auditions resumes reels classes and all else in between Home to Hollywood provides you with all the information you need to get yourself set up as an actor actress in the entertainment capital of the world The information in the book is also supported by the advice and guidance of current industry professionals who have been there done that and seen it all This is a guide with heart for all those who have a dream and know they will need more than stardust to achieve it
