Creation And Humanity The Sources Of Christian Theology:

Creation and Humanity Ian A. McFarland, 2009-01-01 This major sourcebook provides significant primary readings from the history of Christian theology on the topics of creation and humanity Beginning with an extended introduction McFarland fleshes out the topics of creation and humanity in sections such as God as Creator The Human Creature Evil and Sin and Providence and provides a brief introduction to each selection that demonstrates its importance and establishes its historical context This collection will be of special value in classrooms allowing students to experience firsthand some major works that shaped efforts to forge a sound Christian understanding of creation and humanity Creation and Humanity Ian

Alexander McFarland, 2009 Since the Beginning Kyle R. Greenwood, 2018-09-04 Few passages in the Hebrew Bible have been subject to more scrutiny than Genesis 1 and 2 In this volume a diverse international team of experts guides readers through interpretations of the Genesis creation stories throughout history inviting them to consider perspectives from the earliest times to the present The book offers an accurate description of how these chapters have been read through the centuries explaining each interpretive approach in its own terms Each chapter includes sidebars and suggestions for further reading The Soul of Theological Anthropology Joshua R. Farris, 2016-11-25 Recent research in the philosophy of religion anthropology and philosophy of mind has prompted the need for a more integrated comprehensive and systematic theology of human nature This project constructively develops a theological accounting of human persons by drawing from a Cartesian as a term of art model of anthropology which is motivated by a long tradition As was common among patristics medievals and Reformed Scholastics Farris draws from philosophical resources to articulate Christian doctrine as he approaches theological anthropology Exploring a substance dualism model the author highlights relevant theological texts and passages of Scripture arguing that this model accounts for doctrinal essentials concerning theological anthropology While Farris is not explicitly interested in thorough critique of materialist ontology he notes some of the significant problems associated with it Rather the present project is an attempt to revitalize the resources found in Cartesianism by responding to some common worries associated with it The Holy Spirit and Christian Formation Diane J. Chandler, 2016-12-05 This volume discusses the importance of a multidimensional and multidisciplinary approach to Christian formation based upon godly love and the imago Dei Latin image of God Grounded biblically and theologically this interdisciplinary collection offers perspectives drawn from spirituality ethics philosophy psychology counselling ecclesiology physical health sciences and leadership studies Contributors address spiritual emotional and psychological formation while highlighting how suffering has the potential to draw one closer to God and others The book also details vocational development appropriate stewardship of the physical body and the ways in which the Eucharist sacramentally contributes to the process of formation The book concludes with a call for further exploration of additional research trajectories not the least of which is how Christian formation contributes to the missio Dei the mission of God Creating Women's Theology Monica A. Coleman, Nancy R.

Howell, Helene Tallon Russell, 2011-09-22 Creating Women's Theology engages women's questions. Can women from different religious traditions engage one theological approach? Can one philosophical approach support feminist religious thought? What kind of belief follows women's criticism of traditional Christianity? Creating Women's Theology offers a portrait of how some women have found room for faith and feminism. For the last twenty-five years, women religion scholars have synthesized process philosophy with their feminist sensibilities and faith commitments to highlight the value of experience, the importance of freedom, and the interdependence of humanity. God and all creation. Cutting across cultural and religious traditions, process relational feminist thought represents a theology that women have created. This volume offers an introduction to process and feminist theologies before presenting selections from canonical works in the field with study questions. This volume includes voices from Christianity, Judaism, goddess religion, the Black church, and indigenous religions. Creating Women's Theology invites new generations of undergraduate, seminary, and university graduate students to the methods and insights of process relational feminist theology. Natural and Cosmic Theodicy Jongseock James Shin, 2022-10-21 This book presents a third way to envision the Creatorship of the Triune God who is both compassionate and eschatologically redemptive in providential presence rather than biasedly gravitating toward the openness of a self-limiting God or God's all-determining sovereignty. Not only is God in with and under creation, God's kenotic presence invites creatures to participate in the self-giving love of God through both general and special divine action in a top-down through bottom-up mode. Creatio continua is God's own journey of fulfilling the eschatological promise for creation. This redemptive presence of God in creation is a Trinitarian co-protesting against the power of death, sin, and evil, considering the cosmic dimensions of the eschatological hope promised in the resurrection of Jesus. The new creation is the ultimate fulfillment of creaturely freedom and contingency divinely granted in creatio ex nihilo. In arguing this, Shin engages in a comparative and critical study of natural and cosmic theodicy advanced by Catherine Keller, Arthur Peacocke, Wolfhart Pannenberg, and Robert Russell. An Introduction to Christian Theology Richard J. Plantinga, Thomas R. Thompson, Matthew D. Lundberg, 2022-11-03 A journey in Christian theology through biblical, historical, and thematic perspectives with special attention to the context of today's world.

T&T Clark Handbook of Suffering and the Problem of Evil Matthias Grebe, Johannes Grössl, 2023-07-13 This wide-ranging work provides an extensive exploration of the theology of theodicy, asking questions such as: should all instances of suffering necessarily be understood as evil? Why would an omnipotent and benevolent God allow or perpetrate evil? Is God unable or unwilling to reduce human and non-human suffering on Earth? Does humanity have the capacity to exercise a moral evaluation of God's motives and intentions? Conventional disciplinary boundaries have tended to separate theological approaches to these questions from philosophical ones. This volume aims to overcome these boundaries by including biblical, Part I historical, Part II doctrinal, Part III philosophical, Part IV and pastoral interreligious perspectives, and alternative intersections. Part V on theodicy. Authors include thinkers from analytic and continental traditions, multiple Christian denominations and other religions and both established and younger scholars providing a full variety of approaches What unites the essays is an attempt to answer these questions from the perspective of biblical testimony historical scholarship modern theological and philosophical thinking about the concept of God non Christian religions science and the arts The result is a combination of in depth analysis and breadth of scope making this a benchmark work for further studies in the theology of suffering and evil

Westminster Dictionary of Theological Terms Donald K. McKim,1996-01-01 Defines 6 000 terms on such topics as the Bible worship theology ministry ethics church history and spirituality Christian Theology Christopher W. Morgan,Robert A. Peterson,2020-05-01 In Christian Theology author Christopher W Morgan presents an accessible introduction to the core areas of systematic theology including God revelation humanity sin Christ and his work the church and the future Each chapter highlights Scripture s teaching on a topic as it unfolds in the Bible s story line intentionally connecting readers to the doctrines with a focus on personal application and missional living The Routledge Companion to the Practice of Christian Theology Mike Higton,Jim Fodor,2015-03-24 This Companion introduces readers to the practice of Christian theology covering what theologians do why they do it and what steps readers can take in order to become theological practitioners themselves The volume aims to capture the variety of practices involved in doing theology highlighting the virtues that guide them and the responsibilities that shape them It also shows that the description of these practices virtues and responsibilities is itself theological what Christian theologians do is shaped by the wider practices and beliefs of Christianity Written by a team of leading theologians the Companion provides a unique resource for students and scholars of theology alike

Creation and Humanity Veli-Matti Karkkainen,2015-03-26 The third installment in a wide and deep constructive theology for our time This third volume of Veli Matti Karkkainen s ambitious five volume theology project develops a Christian theology of creation and humanity theological anthropology in dialogue with the Christian tradition with contemporary theology in all its global and contextual diversity and with other major living faiths Judaism Islam Buddhism and Hinduism In constructing his theology of creation and humanity Karkkainen uniquely engages the natural sciences including physical cosmological and neuroscientific theories He devotes particular attention to the topics of divine action in a world subjected to scientific study environmental pollution human flourishing and the theological implications of evolutionary theory with regard to both cosmos and humanity

Christian Theology, Volume Two Thomas N. Finger,2020-03-09 This is one of the first systematic theologies written from a believer s church chiefly an Anabaptist Mennonite perspective Dr Finger develops his themes throughout the volume in careful dialogue with Reformed Lutheran Roman Catholic and other historic approaches The eschatological approach taken by Finger does not represent a fixation on future events Rather it represents a method of inquiry based on the early Christian conviction that the last things had already occurred through Jesus even though their effects were not yet fully realized Chief among these were the resurrection of the dead the outpouring of the Spirit the coming of God s kingdom and the defeat of the powers of evil After outlining this vantage point

Volume I considered eschatology revelation and the work of Christ in its light Volume II begins with anthropology Jesus human work provides the norm for authentic human being Justification comes next and is considered as the eschatological revelation and actualization of God's righteousness through the faithfulness of Jesus Christ After treating the dynamics of personal sanctification Dr Finger explores the context within which it is pursued the church His ecclesiology begins with mission including its approach to non Christian religions and the sociopolitical realm Volume II ends where most systematic theologies begin with God including the humanity and deity of Jesus Christ Thomas N Finger has undertaken an important task that is rarely attempted the production of a constructive systematic theology informed by judicious dialogue with current biblical scholarship Finger's methodological decision to adopt an eschatological approach enables him to work formally as well as materially from within a perspective shaped by the NT writers his innovative organization of the loci of Christian doctrine with its emphasis on the church as a community of believers living out the tensions between Christ's resurrection and Parousia is a direct result of taking the NT seriously Particularly noteworthy is his exposition of the doctrine of justification in the light of recent paradigm shifts in Pauline studies Finger's book is a productive and edifying work for all who care about the ongoing conversation between Scripture and systematics Richard Hays Duke Divinity School Thomas N Finger has chosen an approach to the systematic presentation of Christian Theology which I also have taken since the publication of my Theology of Hope in 1964 He begins with the goal with eschatology With that goal in mind a new light is cast on every single doctrine of Christian theology the light of redemption and the work of the theologian becomes a labor of hope This is a theology of the way With the kingdom of God kept steadily in view it becomes an invitation to walk the way of Jesus Tom Finger's theological prospectus makes a brilliant contribution to ecumenical theological dialogue from the Anabaptist tradition He offers an eschatologically oriented theology for which I can only congratulate him Jurgen Moltmann Professor of Theology University of Tübingen This volume is not only a contribution to the contemporary discussions in systematic theology It is also an important ecumenical breakthrough The Anabaptist tradition stands as an important dialogue partner in the quest for a common ground in the Christian faith Finger approaches the biblical faith from an eschatological viewpoint that is faithful to the Anabaptist tradition but in dialogue with Roman Catholic classical Protestant and contemporary scholars in both of these traditions He has begun a substantive conversation that will be important into the twenty first century Jeffrey Gros Former Director of the Commission on Faith Order National Council of Christian Churches USA

Christian Theology Millard J. Erickson, 2013-08-15 Leading evangelical scholar Millard Erickson offers a new edition of his bestselling textbook now substantially updated and revised throughout This edition takes into account feedback from professors and students and reflects current theological conversations with added material on the atonement justification and divine foreknowledge Erickson's comprehensive introduction is biblical contemporary moderate and fair to various positions and it applies doctrine to Christian life and ministry

All Things New Brock Bingaman, 2014-09-11 For both Maximus the Confessor c 580 662 and Jurgen Moltmann b 1926 understanding what it means to be human springs from a contemplative vision of God This comparative study explores surprising parallels between the theological anthropology of the seventh century Byzantine monk and the contemporary German Protestant Bingaman argues that Maximus and Moltmann root their understanding of the human calling in their Trinitarian and christological reflection in contrast to many modern theologies that tend to devise an account of human being first and then try to find ways in which Christ and the Trinity are somehow relevant to this human being In this constructive work Bingaman demonstrates the intrinsic connection between Maximus and Moltmann s views of human being Christ and the Trinity the church and the human calling in creation Illustrating the richness of these ancient and postmodern theologies in conversation All Things New lays out future trajectories in theological anthropology patristic ressourcement ecologically attuned theology and spirituality and Orthodox Protestant dialogue

The "Two Hands of God" David T Williams,2003-09-14 It comes as a surprise to many Christians that for many decades the dominant concern of the ancient church was the Trinity Recent years have seen a revival of interest in this idea but almost nobody has seen that in his approach to humanity God has provided a pattern for his people to emulate We should act in a way patterned on what he did in sending his Son and Spirit God s two hands Then the Trinity also provides an ideal pattern for humanity to aim at The book discusses the theoretical background for this approach and gives several examples of how this works out in practice such as the marriage relationship and the problems of poverty and the environment An appendix outlines the reasons for belief in the Trinity and sketches the development of the doctrine in Christian history

Introducing Christian Theologies, Volume One Victor I. Ezigbo,2013-08-21 Should Christianity s theological face remain largely European and North American in the twenty first century in the wake of the expansion of Christianity in sub Saharan Africa Asia and Latin America The question about the theological face of Christianity cannot be ignored For too long African Asian and Latin American theologians have been left out of mainstream theological discussions Few standard textbooks on Christian theology acknowledge the unique contributions theologians from these continents have made to global Christianity Introducing Christian Theologies Voices from Global Christian Communities is a two volume textbook that alters the predominantly European and North American theological face of Christianity by interacting with the voices of the Christian communities from around the globe Introducing Christian Theologies explores the works of key theologians from across the globe highlighting their unique contributions to Christian theology and doctrine
