Improvement and Reform Paris S. Strom,Robert D. Strom,2015-11-01 People generally acknowledge the superiority of adolescents in using technology tools needed for learning in the future The purpose of this book is to describe an online polling strategy that allows adolescents to make known how they view conditions of learning at their school A school improvement model illustrates how to combine results of student polling with stakeholders perceptions in the scheme of school reform Student polling differs from other strategies because the target for gathering data is a single school This deliberately narrow base for sampling student opinion ensures poll results have local relevance that can motivate stakeholder involvement and guide their response Over 14 000 secondary students have completed polls examined in the text These ten polls include career exploration time management selective attention and distraction motivation for Internet learning tutoring peer support cheating frustration cyberbullying and school stress Students are the stakeholders with the most to gain or lose in efforts to keep American education competitive Accordingly their views should be sought as part of decision making about reform When student opinion and adult observation are considered an intergenerational perspective can emerge that more accurately portrays institutional strengths and limitations School principals superintendents and state department of education leaders are invited to consider a collaborative project with the authors Software offers administrators rapid feedback on whole school results Finding out how special education gifted and talented and second language acquisition students view their conditions of learning gives additional insight about school improvement media marketing Equality and Differentiation in Marketised Higher Education Marion Bowl, Colin McCaig, Jonathan Hughes, 2018-05-24 This edited collection demonstrates how discourses and practices associated with marketisation differentiation and equality are manifested in UK higher education today Uniting leading scholars in higher education and equality in England the contributors and editors expose the contradictions arising from the tension between aims for increased equality and an increasingly marketised higher education As the authors seek to reveal both the intended and unintended consequences of the intensified marketisation of the sector they critically examine the implications of these changes In doing so they reveal the ways in which institutional policy and discourse are involved in masking the contradictions between an educational marketplace and education as a vehicle for advancing equality and social justice This pioneering volume will be of interest and value to students and scholars of higher education in England education policy and the marketisation of higher education as well as policy makers and practitioners School Choice around the World Christopher J. Counihan, Nick Cowen, Corey A. DeAngelis, Triin Lauri, Kaire Põder, M. Danish Shakeel, Patrick J. Wolf, Toby Young, 2019-06-06 This volume of essays examines the empirical evidence on school choice in different countries across Europe North America sub Saharan Africa and South Asia It demonstrates the advantages which choice offers in different institutional contexts whether it be Free Schools in the UK voucher systems in Sweden or private proprietor schools for low income families in Liberia Everywhere experience suggests that parents are active choosers they make rational and considered decisions drawing on available evidence and responding to incentives which vary from context to context Government educators frequently downplay the importance of choice and try to constrain the options parents have But they face increasing resistance the evidence is that informed parents drive improvements in school quality Where state education in some developing countries is particularly bad private bottom up provision is preferred even though it costs parents money which they can ill afford This book is both a collection of inspiring case studies and a call to action Parents and Grandparents as Teachers Paris S. Strom, Robert D. Strom, 2025-05-30 A guide for families in teaching infants through age 8 this insightful book showcases how both parents and grandparents can support greater family success and how creative collaboration can produce benefits for each generation Having developed the nation s first curriculum for grandparents and field tested the intervention program with support from the American Association of Retired Persons the authors explore topics like trust in infancy family conversations and child language praise and encouragement alone time peer influence resilience and cultural diversity To bring family members closer together and support child development each chapter includes principles for application ten key concepts and questions for reflection Readers can benefit from the Generational Perspectives Activities presented at the end of each chapter and available online that recommend topics for family conversations and self evaluation for parents and grandparents This book will be invaluable for parent and grandparent readers and may also be of interest to students majoring in family studies and developmental psychology and those preparing to become early childhood or elementary school teachers NGO Discourses in the Debate on Genetically Modified Crops Ksenia Gerasimova, 2017-07-20 The development and use of genetically modified organisms GMOs has been a contentious topic for the last three decades While there have been a number of social science analyses of the issues this is the first book to assess the role of Non Governmental Organizations NGOs in the debate at such a wide geographic scale The various positions for and against GMOs particularly with regard to transgenic crops articulated by NGOs in the debate are dissected classified and juxtaposed to corresponding campaigns These are discussed in the context of key conceptual paradigms including nature fundamentalism and the organic movement post colonialism food sovereignty anti globalisation sustainability and feminism The book also analyses how NGOs interpret the debate and the persuasive communication tactics they use This provides greater understanding of the complexity of negotiations in the debate and explains its specific features such as its global scope and difficulty in finding compromises The author assesses the long term interests of various participants and changes in perceptions of science and in public communication as a result Examples of major NGOs such as Greenpeace Oxfam and WWF are included but the author also provides new research into the role of NGOs in Russia

Private Collecting, Exhibitions, and the Shaping of Art History in London Stacey J. Pierson, 2017-01-12 The Burlington Fine Arts Club was founded in London in 1866 as a gentlemen s club with a singular remit to exhibit members art collections Exhibitions were proposed organized and furnished by a group of prominent members of British society who included aristocrats artists bankers politicians and museum curators Exhibitions at their grand house in Mayfair brought many private collections and collectors to light using members social connections to draw upon the finest and most diverse objects available Through their unique mode of presentation which brought museum style display and interpretation to a grand domestic style gallery space they also brought two forms of curatorial and art historical practice together in one unusual setting enabling an unrestricted form of connoisseurship where new categories of art were defined and old ones expanded The history of this remarkable group of people has yet to be presented and is explored here for the first time Through a framework of exhibition themes ranging from Florentine painting to Ancient Egyptian art a study of lenders objects and their interpretation paints a picture of private collecting activities connoisseurship and art world practice that is surprisingly diverse and interconnected The Digital Transformation of Labor Anthony Larsson, Robin Teigland, 2019-11-11 Through a series of studies the overarching aim of this book is to investigate if and how the digitalization digital transformation process causes or may cause the autonomy of various labor functions and its impact in creating or stymieing various job opportunities on the labor market This book also seeks to illuminate what actors groups are mostly benefited by the digitalization digital transformation and which actors groups that are put at risk by it This book takes its point of departure from a 2016 OECD report that contends that the impact digitalization has on the future of labor is ambiguous as on the one hand it is suggested that technological change is labor saving but on the other hand it is suggested that digital technologies have not created new jobs on a scale that it replaces old jobs Another 2018 OECD report indicated that digitalization and automation as such does not pose a real risk of destroying any significant number of jobs for the foreseeable future although tasks would by and large change significantly This would affect welfare as most of its revenue stems from taxation and particularly so from the taxation on labor directly or indirectly For this reason this book will set out to explore how the future technological and societal advancements impact labor conditions The book seeks to provide an innovative enriching and controversial take on how various aspects of the labor market can be and are affected the ongoing digitalization trend in a way that is not covered by extant literature As such this book intends to cater to a wider readership from a general audience and students to specialized professionals and academics wanting to gain a deeper understanding of the possible future developments of the labor market in light of an accelerating digitalization digital transformation of society at large

Full Protection and Security in International Investment Law Sebastián Mantilla Blanco, 2019-10-24 This book provides a comprehensive study of the standard of full protection and security FPS in international investment law Ever since the Germany Pakistan BIT of 1959 almost every investment agreement has included an FPS clause FPS claims refer to the most diverse factual settings from terrorist attacks to measures concerning concession contracts Still the FPS standard has received far less scholarly attention than other obligations under international investment law Filling that gap this study examines the evolution of FPS from its medieval roots to the modern age delimits the scope of FPS in customary international law and analyzes the relationship between FPS and the concept of due diligence in the law of state responsibility It additionally explores the interpretation and application of FPS clauses drawing particular attention to the diverse wording used in investment treaties the role ascribed to custom and the interplay between FPS and other treaty based standards Besides delivering a detailed analysis of the FPS standard this book also serves as a guide to the relevant sources providing an overview of numerous legal instruments examples of state practice arbitral decisions and related academic publications about the standard

Rising Fascism in America Anthony DiMaggio, 2021-12-30 Rising Fascism in America It Can Happen Here explores how rising fascism has infiltrated U S politics and how the media and academia failed to spot its earlier rise Anthony R DiMaggio spotlights the development of rightwing polarization of the media Trump s political ascendance and the prominence of extremist activists including in Congress Fascism has long bubbled under the surface until the coup attempt of January 6th 2021 This book offers tactics to combat fascism exploring social movements such as Antifa and Black Lives Matter in mobilizing the public When so little scholarship engages the question of fascism Anthony R DiMaggio combines the rigor of academic analysis with an accessible style that appeals to student and general readers

An Ethical Evaluation of Lethal Functions in Autoregulative Weapons Systems Nicole Kunkel, 2024-12-30 This book connects two of the most pressing ethical topics of our time questions of peace and technology materialized in so called autonomous weapons systems which can operate without human control and intervention in real time The author however criticizes the term autonomy as too anthropomorphic and therefore misleading She consequently proposes using the term autoregulation in its place Taking a contingent pacifist stance this book addresses the question of whether such technological means help or hinder peace processes The argument is tripartite First it is demonstrated that the risk of harm to nonparticipants is very likely to increase Second and with respect to responsibility it is indicated that a human machine system can only be operated responsibly if a human is in control Finally this idea is transferred into theological thought through reference to Bonhoeffer's idea of incurring guilt in acting responsibly In that context autoregulative technology might pose the possibility of shying away from responsibility and therefore becoming guilty This book is among the first ethical considerations of lethal autoregulative weaponry from a contingent pacifist stance and brings together peace ethical thinking and theories from various backgrounds

Improvisation in Music and Philosophical Hermeneutics Sam McAuliffe, 2023-02-23 In the first book to examine the overlooked relationship between musical improvisation and philosophical hermeneutics Sam McAuliffe asks what exactly is improvisation And how does it relate to our being in the world Improvisation in Music and Philosophical Hermeneutics answers these questions by investigating the underlying structure of improvisation McAuliffe argues that improvising is best understood as attending and responding to the situation in which one finds oneself and as such is essential to how we engage with the world Working within the hermeneutic philosophical tradition drawing primarily on the work of Martin Heidegger Hans Georg Gadamer and Jeff Malpas this book provides a rich and detailed account of the ways in which we are all already experienced improvisers Given the dominance of music in discussions of improvisation Part I of this book uses improvised musical performance as a case study to uncover the ontological structure of improvisation a structure that McAuliffe demonstrates is identical to the structure of hermeneutic engagement Exploring this relationship between improvisation and hermeneutics Part II offers a new reading of Gadamer's philosophical hermeneutics examining the way in which Gadamer's accounts of truth and understanding language and ethics each possess an essentially improvisational character Working between philosophy and music theory Improvisation in Music and Philosophical Hermeneutics unveils the hermeneutic character of musical performance the musicality of hermeneutic engagement and the universality of improvisation

Transmedia Creatures Francesca Saggini, Anna Enrichetta Soccio, 2018-10-19 On the 200th anniversary of the first edition of Mary Shelley's Frankenstein Transmedia Creatures presents studies of Frankenstein by international scholars from converging disciplines such as humanities musicology film studies television studies English and digital humanities These innovative contributions investigate the afterlives of a novel taught in a disparate array of courses Frankenstein disturbs and transcends boundaries be they political ethical theological aesthetic and not least of media ensuring its vibrant presence in contemporary popular culture Transmedia Creatures highlights how cultural content is redistributed through multiple media forms and modes of production including user generated ones from below that often appear synchronously and dismantle and renew established readings of the text while at the same time incorporating and revitalizing aspects that have always been central to it The authors engage with concepts value systems and aesthetic moral categories among them the family horror monstrosity diversity education risk technology the body from a variety of contemporary approaches and highly original perspectives which yields new connections Ultimately Frankenstein as evidenced by this collection is paradoxically enriched by the heteroglossia of preconceptions misreadings and overreadings that attend it and that reveal the complex interweaving of perceptions and responses it generates Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press

The Long Walk to Equality Avis Whyte, Patricia Tuitt, Judith Bourne, 2024-02-20 In 1965 the UK enacted the Race Relations Act while the International Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination ICERD opened for signature and ratification In the US the changes that brought down the walls of segregation conveying some equality to black people essentially began with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 These ground breaking instruments marked a commitment domestically and internationally by the state parties to the ICERD to address racial injustice and inequality through legal means Yet the intervening years reveal the challenges of pursuing racial justice and equality through the medium of law In recent years allegations of institutional racism have been levelled against numerous public institutions in the UK while the rise of populism globally has challenged the ability of law to effect change This edited collection draws attention to the need to reflect on the persistence of racial inequalities and injustices despite law s intervention and arguably because of its unconscious role in their promotion It does so from a multiplicity of perspectives ranging from the doctrinal socio legal critical and theoretical thereby generating different kinds of knowledge about race and law By exploring contemporary issues in racial justice and equality contributors examine the role of law whether domestic or international hard or soft in advancing racial equality and justice and consider whether it can effect substantive change

Overcoming Epistemic Injustice Benjamin R. Sherman, Stacey Goguen, 2019-06-28 Prejudice influences people s thoughts and behaviors in many ways it can lead people to underestimate others credibility to read anger or hysteria into their words or to expect knowledge and truth to sound a certain way or to come from a certain type of person These biases and mistakes can have a big effect on everything from an institutional culture to an individual s self understanding These kinds of intellectual harms are known as epistemic injustice Most people are opposed to unfair prejudices at least in principle and no one wants to make avoidable mistakes But research in the social sciences reveals a disturbing truth Even people who intend to be fair minded and unprejudiced are influenced by unconscious biases and stereotypes We may sincerely want to be epistemically just but we frequently fail and simply thinking harder about it will not fix the problem The essays collected in this volume draw from cutting edge social science research and detailed case studies to suggest how we can better tackle our unconscious reactions and institutional biases to help ameliorate epistemic injustice The volume concludes with an afterward by Miranda Fricker who catalyzed recent scholarship on epistemic injustice reflecting on these new lines of research and potential future directions to explore
