Getting Into Art and Design Courses Mark Cheeseman, Louise de la Hey, 2019-04-08 The only guide to cover the whole application process from choosing a course to results day plus essential insider advice from admissions tutors Large target audience over 200 000 people apply for creative arts courses each year A whole chapter dedicated to architecture an increasingly popular course including specific preparation and personal statement advice Polling Students for School Improvement and Reform Paris S. Strom, Robert D. Strom, 2015-11-01 People generally acknowledge the superiority of adolescents in using technology tools needed for learning in the future The purpose of this book is to describe an online polling strategy that allows adolescents to make known how they view conditions of learning at their school A school improvement model illustrates how to combine results of student polling with stakeholders perceptions in the scheme of school reform Student polling differs from other strategies because the target for gathering data is a single school This deliberately narrow base for sampling student opinion ensures poll results have local relevance that can motivate stakeholder involvement and guide their response Over 14 000 secondary students have completed polls examined in the text These ten polls include career exploration time management selective attention and distraction motivation for Internet learning tutoring peer support cheating frustration cyberbullying and school stress Students are the stakeholders with the most to gain or lose in efforts to keep American education competitive Accordingly their views should be sought as part of decision making about reform When student opinion and adult observation are considered an intergenerational perspective can emerge that more accurately portrays institutional strengths and limitations School principals superintendents and state department of education leaders are invited to consider a collaborative project with the authors Software offers administrators rapid feedback on whole school results Finding out how special education gifted and talented and second language acquisition students view their conditions of learning gives additional insight about school improvement

Equality and Differentiation in Marketised Higher Education Marion Bowl, Colin McCaig, Jonathan Hughes, 2018-05-24 This edited collection demonstrates how discourses and practices associated with marketisation differentiation and equality are manifested in UK higher education today Uniting leading scholars in higher education and equality in England the contributors and editors expose the contradictions arising from the tension between aims for increased equality and an increasingly marketised higher education As the authors seek to reveal both the intended and unintended consequences of the intensified marketisation of the sector they critically examine the implications of these changes In doing so they reveal the ways in which institutional policy and discourse are involved in masking the contradictions between an educational marketplace and education as a vehicle for advancing equality and social justice This pioneering volume will be of interest and value to students and scholars of higher education in England education policy and the marketisation of higher education as well as policy makers and practitioners University Interviews Ian Stannard, Godfrey Cooper, 2017-10-13 Authored by two school based careers advisers who both have a wealth of experience in guiding students through the interview process Written in direct collaboration with leading universities with unique insider knowledge from admissions tutors on how to impress at interview Packed with detailed sample questions and answers to common and tough questions helping students to prepare thoroughly and cope under pressure Unlike other guides it covers the soft skills needed for interview and the psychology of interviews guidance which is not typically taught at school With coverage of the most competitive interviews including special sections on Oxbridge Medicine and Degree Apprenticeships Betraying a Generation Patrick Ainley, 2016-04-27 Education has betrayed its promises to deliver upward social mobility and a brighter future Young people study harder but learn less running up a down escalator of devalued qualifications to become overqualified but underemployed unable to move forward with their lives From primary to post graduate schools funny phonics through endless testing to phoney apprenticeships and the world's most costly university fees Patrick Ainley explains how English education is now driven by the economy and politics dumbing down rather than wising up Addressed to teachers and students at all levels of learning it concludes by suggesting how schools colleges and universities can begin to contribute towards a more meaningful and productive society Learning a non-native language in a naturalistic environment: Insights from behavioural and neuroimaging research Christos Pliatsikas, Vicky Chondrogianni, 2015-09-02 It is largely accepted in the relevant literature that successful learning of one or more non native languages is affected by a number of factors that are independent of the target language s per se these factors include the age of acquisition AoA of the target language s the type and amount of formal instruction the learners have received as well as the amount of language use that the learners demonstrate Recent experimental evidence suggests that one crucial factor for efficient native like performance in the non native language is the amount of naturalistic exposure or immersion that the learners receive to that language This can be broadly defined as the degree to which language learners use their non native language outside the classroom and for their day to day activities and usually presupposes that the learners live in an environment where their non native language is exclusively or mostly used Existing literature has suggested that linguistic immersion can be beneficial for lexical and semantic acquisition in a non native language as well as for non native morphological and syntactic processing More recent evidence has also suggested that naturalistic learning of a non native language can also have an impact on the patterns of brain activity underlying language processing as well as on the structure of brain regions that are involved expressed as changes in the grey matter structure This Research Topic brings together studies on the effects of learning and speaking a non native language in a naturalistic environment These include more efficient or native like processing in behavioural tasks tapping on language lexicon morphology syntax as well as changes in the brain structure and function as revealed by neuroimaging studies

Parents and Grandparents as Teachers Paris S. Strom, Robert D. Strom, 2025-05-30 A guide for families in teaching infants through age 8 this insightful book showcases how both parents and grandparents can support greater family success and how creative collaboration can produce benefits for each generation Having developed the nation's first curriculum for grandparents and field tested the intervention program with support from the American Association of Retired Persons the authors explore topics like trust in infancy family conversations and child language praise and encouragement alone time peer influence resilience and cultural diversity To bring family members closer together and support child development each chapter includes principles for application ten key concepts and questions for reflection Readers can benefit from the Generational Perspectives Activities presented at the end of each chapter and available online that recommend topics for family conversations and self evaluation for parents and grandparents This book will be invaluable for parent and grandparent readers and may also be of interest to students majoring in family studies and developmental psychology and those preparing to become early childhood or elementary school teachers

Sound and Music Computing Tapio Lokki, Stefania Serafin, Meinard Müller, Vesa Välimäki, 2018-06-26 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Sound and Music Computing that was published in Applied Sciences

Objects, Structures, and Logics Gianluigi Oliveri, Claudio Ternullo, Stefano Boscolo, 2022-03-08 This edited collection casts light on central issues within contemporary philosophy of mathematics such as the realism anti realism dispute the relationship between logic and metaphysics and the question of whether mathematics is a science of objects or structures The discussions offered in the papers involve an in depth investigation of among other things the notions of mathematical truth proof and grounding and often a special emphasis is placed on considerations relating to mathematical practice A distinguishing feature of the book is the multicultural nature of the community that has produced it Philosophers logicians and mathematicians have all contributed high quality articles which will prove valuable to researchers and students alike

Reviving Intellectual Intuition in Metaphysics Kenneth Rose, 2024-11-28 Calling for a revival of intellectual intuition in metaphysics long after its banning by Kant Kenneth Rose overcomes the forgetfulness of being through contemplative ontology Rose argues for the reinstatement of intellectual intuition in metaphysics long after its banning by Kant His claim is not merely the conclusion of a thought experiment or of an exercise in conceptual analysis It is the result of the contemplative recognition of being with a meditatively concentrated intellect nous in Greek and buddhi in Sanskrit Recognizing intellectual intuition as a long neglected faculty of philosophical insight Rose shows how it can result in an immediate intuitive discerning of being He discusses how being parcels itself out into the intellectual forms providing the underlying nonphysical arrangement of the physical and mental worlds By reviving the use of intellectual intuition in metaphysics Rose draws upon historical sources across multiple Asian and Anglo European philosophical schools This is a work of contemplative constructive philosophy that breaks down divisions between science philosophy and religion and between diverse cultures and divergent worldviews

Social Class in the 21st Century Mike Savage, 2015-11-05 A fresh take on social class from the experts behind the BBC's Great British Class Survey Why does social class matter more than ever in Britain today How has the meaning of class changed What does this mean for social mobility and inequality In this book Mike Savage and the team of sociologists responsible for the Great British Class Survey look beyond the labels to explore how and why our society is changing and what this means for the people who find themselves in the margins as well as in the centre Their new conceptualization of class is based on the distribution of three kinds of capital economic inequalities in income and wealth social the different kinds of people we know and cultural the ways in which our leisure and cultural preferences are exclusive and provides incontrovertible evidence that class is as powerful and relevant today as it's ever been Russia, Eurasia and the New

Geopolitics of Energy Roger E. Kanet, Matthew Sussex, 2015-10-05 By combining perspectives from experts in domestic politics regional politics and specialists in international security this edited volume focuses on the central role of energy production and supply in the Russian Western competition across Eurasia The End of Aspiration? Duncan

Exley, 2019-05-15 Why is it getting harder to secure a job that matches our qualifications buy a home of our own and achieve financial stability Underprivileged people have always faced barriers but people from middle income families are increasingly more likely to slide down the social scale than climb up Duncan Exley former Director of the Equality Trust draws on expert research and real life experiences including from an actor a politician a billionaire entrepreneur and a surgeon to issue a wake up call to break through segregated opportunity He offers a manifesto to reboot our prospects and benefit all Big Ideas in Education Dr Russell Grigg, 2016-06-02 Big Ideas in Education What Every Teacher Should Know by Dr Russell Grigg provides an accessible and easily understood introductory guide to the big ideas that really matter in education The teaching profession is saturated with ideas Unfortunately some of these are half baked or fundamentally flawed Dr Russell Grigg moves beyond the unhelpful supposed dichotomies that pervade current educational thinking child centred versus teacher centred traditional versus progressive Throughout the book readers are invited to question assumptions and popular rhetoric and reflect on their own experiences Big Ideas in Education aims to equip teachers with a good understanding of current thinking in a diverse fluid and dynamic field Each of the big ideas is discussed within the framework of four questions what is the big idea who is behind it why is it important and what can you do Big ideas are important distinctive empowering adaptable and simple to understand Dr Russell Grigg provides readers with a concise and reliable introduction to twelve such ideas which are at the core of educational practice The ideas chosen are general rather than subject specific in nature In turn they invite the reader to look at teaching in wider society address elements of learning which teachers actively promote raise questions about why how and what to teach and finally look at ways of improving the quality of education The twelve big ideas under discussion are 1 Education education goes beyond the school gates and is a lifelong experience 2 Childhood children need time and space to explore enjoy learning and develop as children rather than miniature adults 3 Knowledge knowledge is the foundation for learning 4 Skills learners need to develop a broad range of skills in real life relevant contexts 5 Dispositions effective learning depends upon cultivating positive dispositions 6 Ethics teachers conduct should be guided by a moral purpose 7 Instruction direct instruction is a tried and tested means of effective teaching 8 Curriculum the curriculum is all the learning and assessment activities in school both planned and unintentional that contribute to agreed educational goals 9 Feedback providing personalised accurate specific and timely feedback is one of the keys to improving learning 10 Reflective practice good teachers critically analyse their practice with a view to improving what they do 11 Research research has a central role to play in the professional development of teachers 12 Professional leadership effective school leadership operates at all levels and is about shared vision support and securing improvement An ideal book for busy teachers who need to be kept up to speed with the latest thinking in education this comprehensive guide provides the essential knowledge to keep you fully informed whether leading staff discussions submitting assignments or preparing for interviews Suitable for teachers in any setting from trainees and NQTs to more experienced practitioners looking to reflect on their practice the book will also appeal to school leaders and teacher training providers Assessing English Proficiency for University Study J. Read, 2015-01-27 This book focuses on strategies and procedures for assessing the academic language ability of students entering an English medium university so that those with significant needs can have access to opportunities to enhance their language skills The Infrastructure Finance Challenge Ingo

Walter, 2016-11-21 Infrastructure and its effects on economic growth social welfare and sustainability receive a great deal of attention today There is widespread agreement that infrastructure is a key dimension of global development and that its impact reaches deep into the broader economy with important and multifaceted implications for social progress At the same time infrastructure finance is among the most complex and challenging areas in the global financial architecture Ingo Walter Professor Emeritus of Finance Corporate Governance and Ethics at the Stern School of Business New York University and his team of experts tackle the issue by focussing on key findings backed by serious theoretical and empirical research The result is a set of viable guideposts for researchers policy makers students and anybody interested in the varied challenges of the contemporary economy The Archive of Empire Asheesh Kapur Siddique, 2024-08-27 How modern data driven government originated in the creation and use of administrative archives in the British Empire Over the span of two hundred years Great Britain established governed lost and reconstructed an empire that embraced three continents and two oceanic worlds The British ruled this empire by correlating incoming information about the conduct of subjects and aliens in imperial spaces with norms of good governance developed in London Officials derived these norms by studying the histories of government contained in the official records of both the state and corporations and located in repositories known as archives As the empire expanded in both the Americas and India however this system of political knowledge came to be regarded as inadequate in governing the non English people who inhabited the lands over which the British asserted sovereignty This posed a key problem for imperial officials What kind of knowledge was required to govern an empire populated by a growing number of culturally different people Using files pens and paper the British defined the information order of the modern state as they debated answers to this question In tracing the rise and deployment of archives in early modern British imperial rule Asheesh Kapur Siddique uncovers the origins of our data driven present TRIPS plus 20 Hanns Ullrich, Reto M.

Hilty, Matthias Lamping, Josef Drexler, 2016-01-29 This book examines the impact and shortcomings of the TRIPS Agreement which was signed in Marrakesh on 15 April 1994 Over the last 20 years the framework conditions have changed fundamentally New technologies have emerged markets have expanded beyond national borders some developing states have become global players the terms of international competition have changed and the intellectual property system faces increasing friction with public policies The contributions to this book inquire into whether the TRIPS Agreement should still be seen only as part of an international trade regulation or whether it needs to be understood or even reconceptualized as a framework regulation for the international protection of intellectual property The purpose therefore is not to define the terms of an outright revision of the TRIPS Agreement but rather to discuss the framework conditions for an interpretative evolution that could make the Agreement better suited to the expectations and needs of today's global economy Turn-taking in human communicative interaction Judith Holler, Robin H. Kendrick, Marisa Casillas, 2016-05-09 The core use of language is in face to face conversation This is characterized by rapid turn taking This turn taking poses a number of central puzzles for the psychology of language Consider for example that in large corpora the gap between turns is on the order of 100 to 300 ms but the latencies involved in language production require minimally between 600 ms for a single word or 1500 ms for a simple sentence This implies that participants in conversation are predicting the ends of the incoming turn and preparing in advance But how is this done What aspects of this prediction are done when What happens when the prediction is wrong What stops participants coming in too early If the system is running on prediction why is there consistently a mode of 100 to 300 ms in response time The timing puzzle raises further puzzles it seems that comprehension must run parallel with the preparation for production but it has been presumed that there are strict cognitive limitations on more than one central process running at a time How is this bottleneck overcome Far from being easy as some psychologists have suggested conversation may be one of the most demanding cognitive tasks in our everyday lives Further questions naturally arise how do children learn to master this demanding task and what is the developmental trajectory in this domain Research shows that aspects of turn taking such as its timing are remarkably stable across languages and cultures but the word order of languages varies enormously How then does prediction of the incoming turn work when the verb often the informational nugget in a clause is at the end Conversely how can production work fast enough in languages that have the verb at the beginning thereby requiring early planning of the whole clause What happens when one changes modality as in sign languages with the loss of channel constraints is turn taking much freer And what about face to face communication amongst hearing individuals do gestures gaze and other body behaviors facilitate turn taking One can also ask the phylogenetic question how did such a system evolve There seem to be parallels analogies in duetting bird species and in a variety of monkey species but there is little evidence of anything like this among the great apes All this constitutes a neglected set of problems at the heart of the psychology of language and of the language sciences This Research Topic contributes to advancing our understanding of these problems by summarizing recent work from psycholinguists developmental psychologists students of dialog and conversation analysis linguists phoneticians and comparative ethologists
