progression Brenner's analysis centers on the importance of gender to processes of social transformation. In Laweyan, the base of economic and social power has shifted from families in which women were the main producers of wealth and cultural value to the Indonesian state which has worked to reorient families toward national political agendas. How such attempts affect women's lives and the meaning of the family itself are key considerations as Brenner questions long held assumptions about the division between domestic and public spheres in modern society.
