Collaboration Using Networks And Partnerships Ibm Center For The Business Of Government

Mark A. Abramson

Collaboration Using Networks And Partnerships Ibm Center For The Business Of Government:

Collaboration John M. Kamensky, Thomas J. Burlin, 2004 As government faces more complex problems and citizens expect more the way government delivers services and results is changing rapidly The traditional model of government agencies administering hundreds of programs by themselves is giving way to one stop services and cross agency results This translation implies collaboration within agencies among agencies among levels of governments and among the public private and nonprofit sectors The first part of this book describes what networks and partnerships are The second part presents case examples of how collaborative approaches have actually worked in the public sector when they should be used and what it takes to manage and coordinate them Networks and Collaboration in the Public Sector Joris Voets, Robyn Keast, Christopher Koliba, 2019-08-02 Networks and other collaborations are central to the public sector's ability to respond to their diverse responsibilities from international development and regional governance to policy development and service provision Great strides have been made toward understanding their formation governance and management but more opportunities to explore methodologies and measures is required to ensure they are properly understood This volume showcases an array of selected research methods and analytics tools currently used by scholars and practitioners in network and collaboration research as well as emerging styles of empirical investigation Although it cannot attempt to capture all technical details for each one this book provides a unique catalogue of compelling methods for researchers and practitioners which are illustrated extensively with applications in the public and non profit sector By bringing together leading and upcoming scholars in network research the book will be of enormous assistance in guiding students and scholars in public management to study collaboration and networks empirically by demonstrating the core research approaches and tools for investigating and evaluating these crucially important arrangements Learning the Ropes Mark A. Abramson, Paul R.

Lawrence, 2005-05-26 Learning the Ropes Insights for Political Appointees is geared to providing helpful advice to new political appointees on a variety of topics related to the challenge of managing in government Chapters include advice of how to work well with career executives how to work with congress and media and how to effectively manage their own organization A major theme throughout the book is that creating productive partnerships with career civil servants is crucial to the achievement of Administration goals and objectives Competition, Choice, and Incentives in Government Programs Albert Morales, John M. Kamensky, 2006 Since the 1980s the language used around market based government has muddied its meaning and polarized its proponents and critics making the topic politicized and controversial Competition Choice and Incentives in Government Programs hopes to reframe competing views of market based government so it is seen not as an ideology but rather as a fact based set of approaches for managing government services and programs more efficiently and effectively Governing Cross-Sector Collaboration John Forrer, James (Jed) Kee, Eric Boyer, 2014-08-18 A comprehensive guide to public sector collaboration with private and nonprofit organizations for better service delivery

Governing Cross Sector Collaboration tackles the issues inherent in partnerships with nongovernmental actors for public service delivery highlighting the choices available and the accompanying challenges and opportunities that arise Based on research interviews with public private and nonprofit sector leaders and considerable analysis of organizations involved in public private nonprofit collaborations the book provides insight into cross sector collaboration at the global federal state and local levels Through an examination of the primary modes of cross sector collaboration including collaborative contracting partnerships networks and independent public services providers the book presents a clear case for how public managers can assess the trade offs and use these options to improve public service delivery Nonprofit organizations businesses and third party contractors are increasingly partnering with government to deliver public services Recognizing the types of collaborative approaches and their potential to solve public policy problems is quickly becoming a major task for public managers with new methods and techniques constantly emerging Governing Cross Sector Collaboration provides specific examples and a framework for public managers to make strategic choices about how to engage private and nonprofit actors in delivering public goods and services while ensuring the public interest The book provides effective methods for choosing designing governing and evaluating networks partnerships and independent public services providers with in depth discussion encompassing Analysis and engagement of cross sector organizations Fostering democratic accountability in the public interest Collaborative approaches including contracts networks and partnerships and the issues associated with each type of arrangement Leadership and organizational learning in cross sector collaboration Included case studies illustrate effective application of the concepts and methods described providing both practicing public and nonprofit managers and public policy administration students with insight into these emerging strategic alliances The first comprehensive guide to public governance collaborations Governing Cross Sector Collaboration is an important and timely contribution to the field of public management

The Operator's Manual for the New Administration Mark A. Abramson, 2008-06-27 The Operator's Manual for the New Administration explains how government works and how to make it work to advance policy goals and objectives Bringing decades of experience in government administration the authors have identified eight key tools leadership performance people money contracting technology innovation and collaboration that executives must utilize in order to be successful

Integrating Performance and Budgets Jonathan D. Breul, Carl Moravitz, 2007 Governments are under increasing pressure to produce OCoand to demonstrate OCoresults in terms of their mission Over the last decade countries around the world have undertaken reforms with the aim of improving the relevance and effectiveness of public services and the quality of public sector management Integrating Performance and Budgets showcases attempts by federal and state governments as well as a mix of developed and developing countries to introduce performance or results oriented budgeting and management as a means to support better decision making and accountability

Government for the Future Mark A. Abramson, Daniel J. Chenok, John M. Kamensky, 2018-09-03 In recognition of its 20th anniversary The IBM

Center for the Business of Government offers a retrospective of the most significant changes in government management during that period and looks forward over the next 20 years to offer alternative scenarios as to what government management might look like by the year 2040 Part I will discuss significant management improvements in the federal government over the past 20 years based in part on a crowdsourced survey of knowledgeable government officials and public administration experts in the field It will draw on themes and topics examined in the 350 IBM Center reports published over the past two decades Part II will outline alternative scenarios of how government might change over the coming 20 years The scenarios will be developed based on a series of envisioning sessions which are bringing together practitioners and academics to examine the future The scenarios will be supplemented with short essays on various topics Part II will also include essays by winners of the Center's Challenge Grant competition Challenge Grant winners will be awarded grants to identify futuristic visions of government in 2040 Contributions by Mark A Abramson David A Bray Daniel J Chenok Lee Feldman Lora Frecks Hollie Russon Gilman Lori Gordon John M Kamensky Michael J Keegan W Henry Lambright Tad McGalliard Shelley H Metzenbaum Marc Ott Sukumar Rao and Darrell M West

Collaborating against Human Trafficking Kirsten Foot, 2015-09-03 In the fight against human trafficking cross sector collaboration is vital but often systemic tensions undermine the effectiveness of these alliances Kirsten Foot explores the most potent sources of such difficulties offering insights and tools that leaders in every sector can use to re think the power dynamics of partnering Weaving together perspectives from many sectors including business donor foundations mobilization and advocacy NGOs faith communities and survivor activists as well as government agencies law enforcement and providers of victim services Foot assesses how differences in social location financial well being race gender etc and sector based values contribute to interpersonal inter organizational and cross sector challenges She convincingly demonstrates that finding constructive paths through such multi level tensions by employing a mix of shared leadership strategic planning and particular practices of communication and organization can in turn facilitate more robust and sustainable collaborative efforts An appendix provides exercises for use in building evaluating and trouble shooting multi sector collaborations as well as links to online tools and recommendations for additional resources All royalties from this book go to nonprofits in U S cities dedicated to facilitating cross sector collaboration to end human trafficking For more information and related resources please visit <http://CollaboratingAgainstTrafficking.info>

The Service State Patrice Dutil, Cosmo Howard, John Langford, Jeffrey Roy, 2011-01-14 In the past ten years Canadians have witnessed a renaissance in the delivery of government services New service organizations are cropping up across the country and accomplishing extraordinary things Efforts are being made to consult citizens on how to improve and integrate services Considerable resources are being invested in measuring and showcasing performance improvement This book probes the central dimensions of service reform efforts from a variety of perspectives and answers some pressing questions How can we make better decisions about service delivery How should we measure service delivery performance How should we engage users of government services How can we create a service culture How can we use the internet more effectively Approaching service delivery as not merely technical but inherently political and controversial the authors look beyond the rhetoric to see what has actually been achieved and what obstacles confront further improvements

The Oxford Handbook of American Bureaucracy Robert F. Durant, 2012-08-02

One of the major dilemmas facing the administrative state in the United States today is discerning how best to harness for public purposes the dynamism of markets the passion and commitment of nonprofit and volunteer organizations and the public interest oriented expertise of the career civil service Researchers across a variety of disciplines fields and subfields have independently investigated aspects of the formidable challenges choices and opportunities this dilemma poses for governance democratic constitutionalism and theory building This literature is vast affords multiple and conflicting perspectives is methodologically diverse and is fragmented The Oxford Handbook of American Bureaucracy affords readers an uncommon overview and integration of this eclectic body of knowledge as adduced by many of its most respected researchers Each of the chapters identifies major issues and trends critically takes stock of the state of knowledge and ponders where future research is most promising Unprecedented in scope methodological diversity scholarly viewpoint and substantive integration this volume is invaluable for assessing where the study of American bureaucracy stands at the end of the first decade of the 21st century and where leading scholars think it should go in the future The Oxford Handbooks of American Politics are a set of reference books offering authoritative and engaging critical overviews of the state of scholarship on American politics Each volume focuses on a particular aspect of the field The project is under the General Editorship of George C Edwards III and distinguished specialists in their respective fields edit each volume The Handbooks aim not just to report on the discipline but also to shape it as scholars critically assess the scholarship on a topic and propose directions in which it needs to move The series is an indispensable reference for anyone working in American politics General Editor for The Oxford Handbooks of American Politics George C Edwards III

Communities of Practice as Vibrant Sources of Knowledge and Innovation within a Rigid Public Hierarchy André Kreutzmann, 2022-01-29 The concept of Communities of Practice is nowadays common parlance in the private and public sector However research concerning the potential and benefits of CoPs embedded in public organizations lacks behind Consequently it still remains vague whether informal CoPs are able to unfold their widely recognized potential in terms of knowledge creation and dissemination within the context of the public sector To shed light on this issue the author employs the German Federal Armed Forces as a research setting since it is an outstanding example for a supremely hierarchical public organization showing a high degree of formalization in structure and processes The research at hand particularly focuses the entanglement of the formal organization with the informal CoPs More specifically the author was inspired by the interest in exploring which role these informal entities play in regard to the development of knowledge and innovations thereby possibly fostering the organizational knowledge management as well as the adaptability of a supremely hierarchical public organization About the author Andr Kreutzmann prepared the dissertation at hand at the Institute of Technology and Innovation Management at the Helmut Schmidt University As a member of a research project commissioned by the German Ministry of Defense he investigated the potential of Communities of Practice in terms of knowledge management innovation development and organizational adaptation
