Doing Community-Based Research Greg Halseth, Sean Markey, Laura Ryser, Don Manson, 2016-06-01 Community based research CBR offers useful insights into the challenges associated with conducting research and ensuring that it generates both excellent scholarship and positive impacts in the communities where the research takes place This depends on two important variables the capacity of CBR to generate good information and the extent to which CBR is understood and constructed as a two way relationship that includes a set of responsibilities for both researchers and communities Offering expert advice on the crucial relationship between communities and researchers the authors outline the main stages of the CBR process to guide researchers and practitioners They discuss the reasons for conducting CBR provide tips on how to design research and detail how researchers and communities should get to know one another as well as how best to work in the field and how to turn fieldwork into research that counts By focusing on the lessons learned from the use of CBR the authors make the messages lessons and practices applicable to a variety of research settings Drawing collectively from decades of community based research experience and including vignettes from researchers from around the world who share their CBR experiences Doing Community Based Research is an essential book for scholars students practitioners and the educated public Handbook of Computational Social Science, Volume 1 Uwe Engel, Anabel Quan-Haase, Sunny Liu, Lars E Lyberg, 2021-11-10 The Handbook of Computational Social Science is a comprehensive reference source for scholars across multiple disciplines It outlines key debates in the field showcasing novel statistical modeling and machine learning methods and draws from specific case studies to demonstrate the opportunities and challenges in CSS approaches The Handbook is divided into two volumes written by outstanding internationally renowned scholars in the field This first volume focuses on the scope of computational social science ethics and case studies It covers a range of key issues including open science formal modeling and the social and behavioral sciences This volume explores major debates introduces digital trace data reviews the changing survey landscape and presents novel examples of computational social science research on sensing social interaction social robots bots sentiment manipulation and extremism in social media The volume not only makes major contributions to the consolidation of this growing research field but also encourages growth in new directions With its broad coverage of perspectives theoretical methodological computational international scope and interdisciplinary approach this important resource is integral reading for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers engaging with computational methods across the social sciences as well as those within the scientific and engineering sectors

Researching With Jessica Smartt Gullion, Abigail Tilton, 2020-03-09 Many community health interventions fail wasting tax dollars and human resources These interventions are typically designed by subject matter experts who don thave direct experience with the local community In contrast successful interventions are built from the ground up planned and implemented by the people that will benefit from them using community based action research Researching With A

Decolonizing Approach to Community Based Action Research is a guide for how to do research that is inclusive engages in community building and implements a decolonizing framework This text advocates for a collaborative approach researching with communities rather than conducting research on them Reviewing both theory and method Jessica Smartt Gullion and Abigail Tilton offer practical tips for forming community partnerships and building coalitions Researching With also includes helpful information about incorporating community work into a successful academic career This book can be used as supplemental or primary reading in courses in sociology social work health research nursing public health qualitative inquiry and research methods and is also of value to individual researchers and graduate students writing their thesis Turn Eve Darian-Smith, Philip C. McCarty, 2017-08-01 The ability to deploy interdisciplinary theoretical perspectives that speak to interconnected global dimensions is critical if one s work is to be relevant and applicable to the emerging global scale issues of our time The Global Turn is a guide for students and scholars across all areas of the social sciences and humanities who wish to embark on global studies research projects The authors demonstrate how the global can be studied from a local perspective and vice versa They show how global processes manifest at multiple levels transnational regional national and local all of which are interconnected and mutually constitutive This book takes readers through the steps of thinking like a global scholar in theoretical methodological and practical terms and it explains the implications of global perspectives for research design Indigenous Educational Leadership Through Community-Based Knowledge and Research Robin Zape-tah-hol-ah Minthorn, Shawn L. Secatero, Catherine N. Montoya, Jodi L. Burshia, 2025-04-15 Indigenous Educational Leadership Through Community Based Knowledge and Research highlights the heartwork of the Native American Leadership in Education NALE program The edited collection illuminates the beauty and essence of NALE which uniquely conceptualizes Indigenous leadership identity philosophy community leadership and research in ways that have empowered students and graduates to conceptualize and live out their ancestors prayers and legacy The editors provide samples of how they have achieved this through the sharing of some of the NALE graduates and current students heartwork The book is organized into four sections Indigenous leadership identities Indigenous leadership philosophies in relation to the Corn Pollen model Indigenous community leadership curriculum and Indigenizing research through collective creations These four sections make the NALE doctoral cohort curriculum and experience unique in how they center Indigenous experience scholarship community voice and research approaches Collectively the chapters provide a lens through which one can view and center Indigenous educational leadership The Theory, Practice and Potential of Regional Development Kelly Vodden, David J.A. Douglas, Sean Markey, Sarah Minnes, Bill Reimer, 2019-07-04 Canadian regional development today involves multiple actors operating within nested scales from local to national and even international levels Recent approaches to making sense of this complexity have drawn on concepts such as multi level governance relational assets integration innovation and learning regions These new regionalist concepts have become increasingly global in their formation and application yet there has been little critical analysis of Canadian regional development policies and programs or the theories and concepts upon which many contemporary regional development strategies are implicitly based This volume offers the results of five years of cutting edge empirical and theoretical analysis of changes in Canadian regional development and the potential of new approaches for improving the well being of Canadian communities and regions with an emphasis on rural regions It situates the Canadian approach within comparative experiences and debates offering the opportunity for broader lessons to be learnt This book will be of interest to policy makers and practitioners across Canada and in other jurisdictions where lessons from the Canadian experience may be applicable At the same time the volume contributes to and updates regional development theories and concepts that are taught in our universities and colleges and upon which future research and analysis will build A Research Agenda for Environmental Management Kathleen E. Halvorsen, Chelsea Schelly, Robert M. Handler, Erin C. Pischke, Jessie L. Knowlton, 2019 The understanding of global environmental management problems is best achieved through transdisciplinary research lenses that combine scientific and other sector industry government etc tools and perspectives However developing effective research teams that cross such boundaries is difficult This book demonstrates the importance of transdisciplinarity describes challenges to such teamwork and provides solutions for overcoming these challenges It includes case studies of transdisciplinary teamwork showing how these solutions have helped groups to develop better understandings of environmental problems and potential responses Elizabeth Miller, Edward Little, Steven High, 2017-11-15 As researchers are increasingly taking their research from the campus to the public arena what are the ethics of and expectations for social impact Going Public responds to the urgent need to expand current thinking on what it means to co create to actively involve the public in research and to reconceptualize research for public consumption Drawing on conversations with over thirty practitioners across multiple cultures and disciplines this book examines the ways in which oral historians media producers and theatre artists use art stories and participatory practices to engage creatively with their publics. The authors provide an overview of community engaged practices and present case studies that grapple with issues of class struggle gentrification violence against women and Indigenous rights Going Public offers insights into long standing concerns around voice aesthetics appropriation privilege power dynamics and the ethics of participation It reveals that the shift towards participatory research and creative practices requires a commitment to asking tough questions about oneself and the ways that people s stories are used
