Dear Rikard Lene Ask

Lene Ask

Dear Rikard Lene Ask:

Protestant missionary children's lives, c.1870-1950 Hugh Morrison, 2024-03-05 Protestant missionary children were uniquely empire citizens through their experiences of living in empire and in religiously formed contexts This book examines their lives through the related lenses of parental institutional and child narratives To do so it draws on histories of childhood and of emotions using a range of sources including oral history It argues that missionary children were doubly shaped by parents concerns and institutional policy responses At the same time children saw their own lives as both ordinary and complicated Literary representations boosted adult narratives Empire provided a complex space in which these children navigated their way between the expectations of two if not three different cultures The focus is on a range of settings and on the early twentieth century Therefore the book offers a complex and comparative picture of missionary children s lives

Dear Rikard Lene Ask, 2015-06-26 Rikard Jakobsen was born in 1875 on Madagascar where his parents were missionaries When he was six years old the family moved back home to Stavanger After Rikard s mother died his father remarried and returned to missionary service with his new wife Rikard and his older sister and brother Elisabeth and Jakob were left in Stavanger at Solbakken a children s home for missionary children Rikard was eight when his father left and ten years were to pass before they saw each other again Lene Ask tells Rikard s story based on an exchange of letters
