China and America: Destined for Conflict? Wenzhao Tao, 2022-09-25 This book explores the possibility and feasibility of building a new model of major country relations between China and the United States which is of great significance to the sound interaction between the two countries and the preservation of peace and stability of the world In early June 2013 Chinese President Xi Jinping and US President Barack Obama reached a consensus on building a new model of major country relations at the historical Sunny lands meeting in California In the years that followed the two leaders were committed to that goal despite the different interpretations in its substance How is the new model of major country relations conceptualized and developed What renders it possible Is the major country conflict inevitable These are the basic issues addressed in this book Now China US relations are at a critical juncture The international community is watching the world s two largest economies and is quite concerned about the future of one of the world s most complicated bilateral relationships This timely publication of Professor Tao Wenzhao provides us with a realistic approach to managing this vital relationship in a candid and balanced way Community Radio's Amplification of Communication for Social Change Juliet Fox, 2019-06-27

This book explores how community radio contributes to social change Community radio remains a unique communication platform under digital capitalism arguably capable of expanding the project of media democratisation Yet there is a lack of in depth analysis of community radio experience and a dearth of understanding of its functionality as an actively transformative tool for greater equity in society This project combines the theoretical positions of the political economy of communication with a citizen s media perspective in order to interrogate community radio s democratic potential By presenting case studies of two radio stations in Melbourne and Lospalos and applying multiple research methods the book reveals community radio s amplification of media participation communication rights counter hegemony and media power in effect its distinct regenerative voice A Future for Public Service Television Des Freedman, Vana Goblot, 2018-05-04 A guide to the nature purpose and place of public service television within a multi platform multichannel ecology Television is on the verge of both decline and rebirth Vast technological change has brought about financial uncertainty as well as new creative possibilities for producers distributors and viewers This volume from Goldsmiths Press examines not only the unexpected resilience of TV as cultural pastime and aesthetic practice but also the prospects for public service television in a digital multichannel ecology The proliferation of platforms from Amazon and Netflix to YouTube and the vlogosphere means intense competition for audiences traditionally dominated by legacy broadcasters Public service broadcasters whether the BBC the German ARD or the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation are particularly vulnerable to this volatility Born in the more stable political and cultural conditions of the twentieth century they face a range of pressures on their revenue their remits and indeed their very futures This book reflects on the issues raised in Lord Puttnam s 2016 Public Service TV Inquiry Report with contributions from leading broadcasters academics and regulators With resonance for students professionals and consumers with a stake in British media it serves both as historical record and as a look at the future of television in an on demand age Contributors include Tess Alps Patrick Barwise James Bennett Georgie Born Natasha Cox Gunn Enli Des Freedman Vana Goblot David Hendy Jennifer Holt Amanda D Lotz Sarita Malik Matthew Powers Lord Puttnam Trine Syvertsen Jon Thoday Mark Thompson

Communications/Media/Geographies Paul C. Adams, Julie Cupples, Kevin Glynn, André Jansson, Shaun Moores, 2016-09-19 Although there are human geographers who have previously written on matters of media and communication and those in media and communication studies who have previously written on geographical issues this is the first book length dialogue in which experienced theorists and researchers from these different fields address each other directly and engage in conversation across traditional academic boundaries The result is a compelling discussion with the authors setting out statements of their positions before responding to the arguments made by others One significant aspect of this discussion is a spirited debate about the sort of interdisciplinary area that might emerge as a focus for future work Does the already established idea of communication geography offer the best way forward If so what would applied or critical forms of communication geography be concerned to do Could communication geography benefit from the sorts of conjunctural analysis that have been developed in contemporary cultural studies Might a further way forward be to imagine an interdisciplinary field of everyday life studies which would draw critically on non representational theories of practice and movement Readers of Communications Media Geographies are invited to join the debate thinking through such questions for themselves and the themes that are explored in this book for example of space place meaning power and ethics will be of interest not only to academics in human geography and in media and communication studies but also to a wider range of scholars from across the humanities and social sciences Greece and Turkey in Conflict and Cooperation Alexis

Heraclides, Gizem Alioğlu Çakmak, 2019-06-14 This book offers a sober contemplative and comprehensive coverage of Greek Turkish relations covering in depth the current political climate with due regard to the historical dimension The book includes up to date accounts of the traditional areas of unresolved discord Aegean minorities Cyprus the Patriarchate with emphasis on why they remain contentious despite the thaw in Greek Turkish relations from 1999 until recently It also covers new topics and challenges that have led to cooperation as well as friction such as unprecedented economic cooperation energy resources or the refugee crisis Furthermore the volume deals with the Europeanization of Greek Turkish relations and other facilitating factors as they appeared in the first decade of the 21st century including the role of civil society as well as the contrary de Europeanization from the 2010 onwards which presages a hazardous downward trend in their relations often not helped by the media in both countries which is also examined This volume will be essential reading to scholars and students of Greek Turkish relations more generally Greece and Turkey and more broadly to the study of South European Politics European Union politics security studies and International Relations The Routledge Companion to Political

News and Politics Stephen Cushion, 2015-03-24

News and Politics critically examines television news bulletins still the primary source of information for most people and asks whether the wider pace and immediacy of 24 hour news culture has influenced their format and style over time Drawing on the concepts of mediatization and journalistic interventionism Stephen Cushion empirically traces the shift from edited to live reporting from a cross national perspective focussing on the two way convention in political coverage and the more interpretive approach to journalism it promotes Challenging prevailing academic wisdom Cushion argues that the mediatization of news does not necessarily reflect a commercial logic or a lowering of journalism standards In particular the rise of live two ways can potentially enhance viewers understanding of public affairs moving reporters beyond their visual backdrops and reliance on political soundbites by asking journalists to scrutinize the actions of political elites interpret competing source claims and to explain the broader context to everyday stories Considering the future of 24 hour news a final discussion asks whether new content and social media platforms including Twitter and BuzzFeed enhance or weaken democratic culture This timely analysis of News and Politics is ideal for students of political communication and journalism studies as well as communication studies media studies and political science
