Environmental and Sustainability Education (ESE) in the English-Speaking Caribbean Therese Ferguson, Sharon Bramwell-Lalor, 2024-12-09 This book offers readers a diversity of perspectives experiences and practical examples from various facets of Environmental and Sustainability Education ESE that can propel practice further research and inform decision making in the region thus making for more cogent and effective ESE The Caribbean region is comprised of what is said to be the largest number of Small Island Developing States SIDS together with the non island nations of Belize Guyana and Suriname Although diverse with respect to governance size topography and income the Caribbean region has a common set of geographic and socio economic characteristics that make it vulnerable to environmental hazards economic challenges and social instability Further to these particular vulnerabilities are various phenomena that pose critical sustainability challenges two of which are climate change and crime and violence Consequently responsive and relevant ESE is needed to address these issues through knowledge enhancement attitudinal change skills development and behaviour change As we seek solutions this text brings together various empirical and theoretical contributions focused primarily on the English speaking Caribbean region that explore a number of areas such as ESE pedagogy teacher education values education and progress evaluation This volume will be a key resource for educators policymakers scholars and advanced students of ESE as well as those interested in protecting our planet It was originally published as a special issue of Environmental Education Research Decolonizing Qualitative Approaches for and by the Caribbean Saran Stewart, 2020-02-01 As academics in postcolonial Caribbean countries we have been trained to believe that research should be objective a measurable benefit to the public good and quantifiable in nature so as to generalize findings to develop knowledge societies for economic growth What happens however when the very word research connotes a derogatory term or semblance of distrust Smith 1999 speaks towards the distrustful nature of the term as a legacy of European imperialism and colonialism Against this backdrop how do Caribbean researchers leverage recognized and valued indigenous methods of knowing and understanding for and by the Caribbean populace How do we learn from indigenous research methods such as Kaupapa Maori Smith 1999 and develop an understanding of research that is emancipatory in nature Decolonizing qualitative methods are rooted in critical theory and grounded in social justice resistance change and emancipatory research for and by the Other Said 1978 Rodney s 1969 legacy of groundings provides a Caribbean oriented ethnographic approach to collecting data about people and culture It is an anti imperialist method of data collection focused on the socioeconomic and political environment within the post colonial context Similar to Rodney other critical Caribbean scholars have moved the research discourse to center on the notions of resistance struggle Chevannes 1995 Feraria 2009 and decolonizing methodologies This proposed edited volume will provide a collective body of scholarship for innovative uses of decolonizing qualitative research In order to theorize and conduct decolonizing research one can argue that the researcher as self and as the Other needs to be interrogated Borrowing from an autoethnographic ontology the researcher or investigator recognizes the self as the unit of measure and there is a concerted effort to continuously see the self seeing the self through and as the other Alexander 2005 Ellis 2004 This level of interrogation may require frameworks such as

Reasonable Humanism in which there is a clear understanding of the role of the researcher and researched from a physiological and psychosocial standpoint Thereafter the researcher is better prepared to enter into a discourse about decolonizing methodologies The origins of qualitative inquiry in the Caribbean can be traced to political and economic discourses Marxism postcolonialism neocolonialism capitalism liberalism postmodernism which have challenged ways of knowing and the construction of knowledge Evans 2009 traced the origins of qualitative inquiry to slave narratives proprietors journals missionaries reports and travelogues Common to the Caribbean is an understanding of how colonial legacies of research have ridiculed oral traditions language and ways of knowing often rendering them valueless and inconsequential This proposed edited volume acknowledges the significance of decolonizing approaches to qualitative research in the Caribbean and the wider Caribbean diaspora It includes an audience of scholars teacher researchers and students primarily in and across the humanities social sciences and educational studies This proposed volume would provide much needed knowledge and best practice strategies to the community of researchers engaged in decolonizing methodologies Additionally this volume will allow readers to think of new imaginings of research design that deconstruct power and privilege to benefit knowledge communities and participants It will spark key objectives directions and frameworks for deeper discussions and interrogations of normative westernized and hegemonic approaches to qualitative research Lastly the volume will welcome empirical studies of application of decolonizing methodologies and theoretical studies that frame critical discourse out of school youth as well as youth with disabilities in countries located in the Global South Using a critical cross cultural lens to interrogate the historical empirical and theoretical discourses associated with achieving UNESCO s equity in education agenda the book showcases the work of scholars from developed and developing nations in examining inclusive education Drawing attention to the nature impact and effects of marginalization the book ultimately demonstrates the ability of education systems in the Global South to be innovative and agile despite current resource challenges This text will benefit scholars academics and students in the fields of international and comparative education education policy and inclusion and special educational needs education more broadly Those involved with Caribbean and Latin American studies the sociology of education and diaspora studies in general will also benefit from this volume The Global State of Play Loughborough University, UNESCO, 2024-07-23

The Education of the Filmmaker in Africa, the Middle East, and the Americas M. Hjort, 2013-07-31 Using case studies from Nigeria Qatar the United States the West Indies and others the contributors to this volume examine aspects such as audience response film education for children and the impact on crime in the various studios clubs film festivals NGOs peripatetic workshops and alternative film schools where filmmaking is taught Handbook of Research on Critical Thinking and Teacher Education Pedagogy Robinson, Sandra P.A., Knight, Verna, 2019-04-12

Critical thinking is an essential skill for learners and teachers alike Therefore it is essential that educators be given practical strategies for improving their critical thinking skills as well as methods to effectively provide critical thinking skills to their students The Handbook of Research on Critical Thinking and Teacher Education Pedagogy examines and explains how new strategies methods and techniques in critical thinking can be applied to classroom practice and professional development to improve teaching and learning in teacher education and make critical thinking a tangible objective in instruction This critical scholarly publication helps to shift and advance the debate on how critical thinking should be taught and offers insights into the significance of critical thinking and its effective integration as a cornerstone of the educational system Highlighting topics such as early childhood education curriculum and STEM education this book is designed for teachers instructors instructional designers education professionals administrators policymakers researchers and academicians In the Realm of the Senses Johannah Fahey, Howard Prosser, Matthew Shaw, 2015-04-08 This book charts new territory both theoretically and methodologically Drawing on MacDougall s notion of social aesthetics it explores the sensory dimensions of privilege through a global ethnography of elite schools The various contributors to the volume draw on a range of theoretical perspectives from Lefebvre Benjamin Bourdieu Appadurai Kress and van Leeuwen to both broaden and critique MacDougall s original concept They argue that within these elite schools there is a relationship between their complex sensory and aesthetic environments and the construction of privilege within and beyond the school gates Understanding the importance of the visual to ethnography the social aesthetics of these elite schools are captured through the inclusion of a series of visual essays that complement the written accounts of the aesthetics of privilege The collection also includes a series of vignettes that further explore the sensory dimension of these aesthetics touch taste though metaphorically understood sight and sound These varying formats illustrate the aesthetic nature of social relations and the various ways in which class permeates the senses The images from across the different schools and their surroundings immerse the reader in these worlds and provide poignant ethnographic data of the forces of globalisation within the context of elite schooling
