De Moord Die Nooit Mag Verjaren:

International Developments in Investigative Interviewing Tom Williamson, Becky Milne, 2013-01-11 This book examines international developments in investigative interviewing It analyses the cases and other factors leading to the paradigm shift in a number of countries it considers issues that are of current interest to practitioners and academics including the continuing calls for the use of torture whether it is possible to detect deception and the contribution of investigative interviewing methods to concepts of therapeutic and restorative justice The book responds to the recognition that there are currently no international human rights instruments that relate specifically to custodial questioning whilst also offering a critical analysis of the attempts to influence investigator and prosecutor behaviour by recourse to human rights This book will be essential reading for practitioners designing and delivering investigative interviewing training programmes as well as academics and students studying international criminal justice
