Black Ops Advertising Mara Einstein, 2016-09-01 From Facebook to Talking Points Memo to the New York Times often what looks like fact based journalism is not It s advertising Not only are ads indistinguishable from reporting the Internet we rely on for news opinions and even impartial sales content is now the ultimate corporate tool Reader beware content without a corporate sponsor lurking behind it is rare indeed Black Ops Advertising dissects this rapid rise of sponsored content a strategy whereby advertisers have become publishers and publishers create advertising all under the guise of unbiased information Covert selling mostly in the form of native advertising and content marketing has so blurred the lines between editorial content and marketing message that it is next to impossible to tell real news from paid endorsements In the 21st century instead of telling us to buy buy BUY marketers engage with us so that we share share SHARE the ultimate subtle sell Why should this concern us Because personal data personal relationships and our very identities are being repackaged in pursuit of corporate profits Because tracking and manipulation of data make likes and tweets and followers the currency of importance rather than scientific achievement or artistic talent or information the electorate needs to fully function in a democracy And because we are being manipulated to spend time with technology to interact with friends to always be on even when it is to our physical and mental detriment

On Unemployment, Volume II Mark R. Reiff, 2015-10-07 With unemployment at historically high rates that show signs of becoming structural there is a pressing need for an in depth exploration of this economic injustice Unemployment is one of the problems most likely to put critical pressure on our political institutions disrupt the social fabric of our way of life and even threaten the continuation of liberalism itself Despite the obvious importance of the problem of unemployment however there has been a curious lack of attention paid to this issue by contemporary non Marxist political philosophers On Unemployment explores the moral implications of the problem of unemployment despite the continuing uncertainty involving both its causes and its cures Reiff takes up a series of questions about the nature of unemployment and what justice has to tell us about what we should do if anything to alleviate it The book comprehensively discusses the related theory and suggests how we might implement these more general observations in the real world It addresses the politics of unemployment and the extent to which opposition to some or all of the book s various proposals stem not from empirical disagreements about the best solutions but from more basic moral disagreements about whether the reduction of unemployment is indeed an appropriate moral goal This exciting new text will be essential for scholars and readers across business economics and finance as well as politics philosophy and sociology
