Foreign Direct Investment and Economic Development Lessons from Six Emerging Economies OECD, 1998-08-05 This study examines the link between FDI and development in six dynamic non Member economies Argentina Brazil Chile Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines

Investment Promotion Agencies and Foreign Direct Investment Martin G. Kaspar, 2025-09-23 This book discusses the often underestimated role of investment promotion agencies IPAs in attracting foreign direct investment FDI Analysing the subject not only along theoretical lines and from the perspective of IPAs and governments but also through the eyes of practitioners and corporate investors it charts a more holistic picture of the FDI decision making process and its subsequent implementation An in depth analysis of national and regional IPA structures and investment promotion practises provides the reader with a broad understanding of state of the art investment promotion By adding the corporate managers perspective the reader gets a first hand impression of how widely known IPAs are in the corporate world which IPA services are sought after and which are considered less useful For corporate managers FDI projects are complex and often risky and to understand their expectations towards IPAs should further the current policy debate Given the significant sums of money spent each year on FDI incentives and given that the fortunes of nation states can be turned around on FDI as Ireland and Singapore have conclusively demonstrated a more grounded analysis of investment policies and promotion strategies is increasingly taking centre stage in policy debate The book fills a gap by providing operationally useful answers to corporate managers and thereby also furthering our understanding of FDI decision making which in turn allows governments to align their policy offerings This book is therefore a useful resource for students and researchers of international economics and business and political economy as well as policymakers Investment Promotion officials and corporate managers engaged in FDI projects

Foreign Direct Investment Dale R. Weigel, 1997-01-01 The report reviews lessons from the International Finance Corporation s IFC investment and advisory experience in the developing world which show the interactions between policy frameworks and the volume and structure of foreign direct investments FDI Case studies show how the Corporation promotes successful project structures and regulatory changes as it tries to attain the strongest development impact for investments In developing countries FDI has flowed mainly into manufacturing and processing industries In the past investment attractiveness had been closely linked to possession of natural resources or a large domestic market while production and trade globalization competitiveness as a location for investment and exporting have become the main determinants of attractiveness Sources of FDI in the past came almost exclusively from industrial countries though recently those sources have widened emerging from developing countries in their own right and for their own regions IFC as an international initiative to promote FDI in developing countries is liable to promote bilateral trade agreements bilateral and multilateral financial institutions and investment promotion programs its advisory role may vary from diagnostic studies overviewing constraints to FDI to investment policy studies giving specific solutions on either changes or strategies The study further looks at how policy environment is set and at finding investor opportunities through project financing largely structured as joint ventures The inherent fragile nature of joint ventures restricts foreign ownership thus limiting project structures however careful project design has lead to successful operations by ensuring management and financial arrangements Still to maximize benefits an unfinished agenda of policy reform remains and as more countries open to FDI this integration will lead to an overall increase in FDI flows

The Three Laws of International Investment Jeswald W. Salacuse, 2013-02-14 International investments are governed by three different legal frameworks 1 national laws of both the host country and the investor's home country 2 contracts whether between the investor and the host country or among investors and their associates and 3 international law consisting of applicable treaties customs and general principles of law Together these three frameworks profoundly influence the organization operation and protection of foreign investments Investors government officials and their legal counsel must therefore understand the complex interaction among these frameworks and how best to employ them to advance their interests This book examines the content of each of these three legal frameworks for international investment and explores how they influence the foreign investment process and the nature of investment transactions projects and enterprises The book is divided into five parts Part I after explaining the contemporary nature and significance of international investment examines the theoretical and practical links between law and the investment process Part II explores the nature of national laws regulating foreign investment Part III considers of the various contractual frameworks for international investments looking at their negotiation content and stability Part IV sets out the international legal framework governing foreign investment focusing on the content and nature of investment treaties and on general principles Finally Part V discusses how the three legal frameworks interact with each other By comprehensively examining each of the applicable legal frameworks this book provides a vital overview of the laws rules and regulations governing foreign investment for lawyers scholars students and government officials

Foreign Direct Investment for Development Maximising benefits, minimising costs OECD, 2002-09-24 Provides a comprehensive review of the issues related to the impact of FDI on development as well as to the policies needed to maximise the benefits

The Transformation of Southeast Asian Economies Teofilo C. Daquila, 2007 This book analyses the growth development and crisis experiences of the Southeast Asian economies in particular Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Thailand also known as ASEAN 5 The proposition is developed that the robust economic performance of the Southeast Asian economies during the past four decades has been attributed to the various factors developments and independent national policies which have been pursued by the individual member countries rather than to any regional economic framework The book covers eleven topics which is suitable for a one semester course on the economics of Southeast Asia Also it has a narrower area coverage as it focuses only on the five economies namely Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Thailand The sectoral treatment of the crisis impact and the analytical treatment of policy responses to the crisis differentiate this book from other publications on the same topic Finally the book provides an analysis of national developments policies and factors which have contributed to the economic transformation of the respective Southeast Asian economies

The Legal Framework of EU-China Investment Relations Wenhua Shan, 2005-10-21 EU investment in China has increased dramatically since the early 1990s and is poised to increase further in light of China's recent accession to the World Trade Organisation This book explores and critically appraises the existing legal framework governing EU China investment relations particularly EU investment in China The current legal framework is composed of Chinese law EU law and applicable international law but the Chinese law is unsystematic and hard to discover and the EU has acquired only shared external investment competence which is vaguely defined The applicable international treaties are incomplete incoherent or either too general or too specialised Besides this the international fora to settle investment disputes are still not readily available Furthermore while law has played a very important role in decision making by EU investors the Chinese legal system is generally perceived as ineffective and lacking in effective enforcement of court and arbitration decisions What the book demonstrates is that the time is ripe for a new international legal framework for foreign investment in China and that as EU China economic and political relations continue to improve construction of such a framework is not only necessary but also possible Asian Economic and Political Issues, 1998 It is predicted by some observers that the 21st century will be remembered as the Asian Century Many of the countries in the region seem to be able to take the economic and trade baton when one of the others experiences problems The region in general continues to grow economically politically and militarily The articles presented in this book examine the current political and economic situations in nations across Asia particularly focusing on economic developments The Economies of Southeast Asia Teofilo C. Daquila, 2005 This book analyses the growth development and crisis experiences of the Southeast Asian economies in particular Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Thailand also known as ASEAN 5 The proposition is developed that the robust economic performance of the Southeast Asian economies during the past four decades has been attributed to the various factors developments and independent national policies which have been pursued by the individual member countries rather than to any regional economic framework The book covers eleven topics which is suitable for a one semester course on the economics of Southeast Asia Also it has a narrower area coverage as it focuses only on the five economies namely Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Thailand The sectoral treatment of the crisis impact and the analytical treatment of policy responses to the crisis differentiate this book from other publications on the same topic Finally this book provides an analysis of national developments policies and factors which have contributed to the economic transformation of the respective Southeast Asian economies Irish Investment in China Nicholas O'Brien, 2014-05-07 Asian studies as basically all efforts to engage in inter culturally is caught in producing and reproducing prejudices on the one hand and denying differences and specificities on the other In particular in academic studies and teaching the challenge is to overcome this apparent dichotomy and the task is to establish understanding without prejudice of what Asia really was and is The extensive range of topics and views in this volume challenge a mode of globalisation that simply overthrows national traditions by a Darwinian kind of rule of the survival of the strongest the fittest will actually be the one who is well capable to manage difference by understanding them in a historical context and acknowledge them as part of something new that is emerging in front of our eyes This book will stimulate further research and debate within and without the boundaries of Asian Studies Journal of Economic Literature, 1998 African Bargaining Power with China Christina Seyfried, 2023-06-26 This book provides a detailed account of the political economy around investment deal negotiations between African governments and private Chinese investors The book draws on evidence from experiments and hundreds of interviews with policy makers and Chinese investors across Nigeria South Africa Kenya Ethiopia and Tanzania It shows that governments of authoritarian or one party dominant states which are among the top receivers of Chinese investments are able to easily and successfully act collectively to impose human capital and technology transfer requirements. The book argues that rather than treating African countries as price takers in the face of increasing Chinese influence in the continent we should instead recognise the significant bargaining leverage that many African governments have to influence deal conditions especially with smaller private Chinese companies. It demonstrates that several African governments can instead act as price setters and that the success of the rising Chinese presence in Africa and whether this leads to positive or negative development outcomes fundamentally depends on the development strategies that individual African governments decide on. In the context of an often polarised debate the original research presented in this book has important implications for the future economic development strategies of African countries. As such it will be of interest to researchers working on Chinese and African investment politics, institutions, business, economics and international relations. Operating in

Emerging Markets Luciano Ciravegna, Robert Fitzgerald, Sumit Kundu, 2013-08-29. Master a complete roadmap for emerging market business success and profitability. Emerging markets are generating unprecedented opportunities but they are far more complex and risky than they may seem. Profiting in these markets entails retooling business models, products and strategies to exploit these differences instead of falling victim to them. Too many American, European and Japanese companies continue to operate with a developed world mentality that seeks to merely adapt existing products and strategies while underestimating the unique challenges of managing a business in radically different contexts. Operating in Emerging Markets draws from real life examples and today's most valuable research to offer a step by step blueprint for improving profitability in emerging markets. Pioneering researchers Dr Luciano Ciravegna and Dr Robert Fitzgerald walk you through understanding the true risks and challenges, identifying and investing the right resources, developing the right strategies, products and processes and learning from both the successes and failures that have come before you. An indispensable resource for all decision makers in companies that are or plan to operate in emerging markets and for all graduate business students who may do so in the future. Publications devoted to rapidly transforming economies are on the rise but the contribution is often marginal. This new book Operating in Emerging Markets authored by Luciano Ciravegna, Robert Fitzgerald and Sumit Kundu is an exception. It provides valuable insights into what makes these economies grow and prosper. Most importantly it responds to the need for practical approaches to tapping emerging markets. Thus it should assist current and future managers in navigating these high potential but high risk countries. S Tamer Cavusgil, Professorial Chair and Executive Director CIBER, J Mack Robinson College of Business, Georgia State University. Foreign Direct Investment, Agglomeration and Externalities Jacob A. Jordaan, 2016-04-22. By critically appraising current theories of both Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) and agglomeration, this book explores the variety of links that exist between these two externality creating phenomena. Using in depth empirical research on Mexico, Jacob Jordaan constructs and analyzes several datasets on Mexican manufacturing industries at various geographical scales creating innovative models on FDI externalities that incorporate explicitly regional considerations The empirical findings identify both direct FDI spillover effects as well as the effects of agglomeration on these externalities In extension of this the analysis also contains analysis of FDI productivity effects that arise through inter firm linkages between FDI and local Mexican suppliers ICSID Review, 2000 Integration

Through Foreign Direct Investment Gábor Hunya, 2000-01-26 This book represents a very valuable contribution to the literature on the role of FDI in development in Central and Eastern Europe It is therefore a must for both scholars and practitioners who are involved in foreign investment in economies in transition Marjan Svetlicic Transnational Corporations The book goes a long way toward understanding a host of key issues related to the emerging pattern of MNC cum host collaborative growth in Central and Eastern Europe from the foreword by Terutomo Ozawa Colorado State University US This book explores whether foreign direct investment FDI can contribute to the competitiveness of industries in Central Europe and to narrowing the gap between these transition economies and countries within the European Union

Emerging Multinationals in Emerging Markets Ravi Ramamurti, Jitendra V. Singh, 2009-04-16 Why have so many firms in emerging economies internationalized quite aggressively in the last decade What competitive advantages do these firms enjoy and what are the origins of those advantages Through what strategies have they built their global presence How is their internationalization affecting Western rivals And finally what does all this mean for mainstream international business theory In Emerging Multinationals in Emerging Markets a distinguished group of international business scholars tackle these questions based on a shared research design The heart of the book contains detailed studies of emerging market multinationals EMNEs from the BRIC economies plus Israel Mexico South Africa and Thailand The studies show that EMNEs come in many shapes and sizes depending on the home country context Furthermore EMNEs leverage distinctive competitive advantages and pursue distinctive internationalization paths This timely analysis of EMNEs promises to enrich mainstream models of how firms internationalize in today's global economy Politics and Foreign Direct Investment Nathan

Jensen, Glen Biglaiser, Quan Li, Edmund Malesky, Pablo Pinto, Santiago Pinto, Joseph Staats, 2012-09-18 For decades free trade was advocated as the vehicle for peace prosperity and democracy in an increasingly globalized market More recently the proliferation of foreign direct investment has raised questions about its impact upon local economies and politics Here seven scholars bring together their wide ranging expertise to investigate the factors that determine the attractiveness of a locale to investors and the extent of their political power Multinational corporations prefer to invest where legal and political institutions support the rule of law protections for property rights and democratic processes Corporate influence on local institutions in turn depends upon the relative power of other players and the types of policies at issue Financial Integration, Vulnerabilities to Crisis, and EU Accession in Five Central European Countries Mustapha K. Nabli, 1999-01-01 A major source of vulnerability in the CE5 is their nascent financial systems and their ability to handle large and increasing volume of capital As the experience of East Asia demonstrates a high priority should be given to improving the quality and performance of the banking system From Financial Integration Vulnerabilities to Crisis and EU Accession in Five Central European Countries The objective of this study is to help assess the possible vulnerabilities in a number of Central European countries as they proceed with global financial integration and EU accession The report focuses on those countries slated to be the first in the region to join the EU the Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Poland Slovenia CE5 The study Discusses the context and presents a short description of the CE5 countries experience in attracting capital flows Analyzes the manifestations of vulnerability to financial crises and sustainability of foreign capital flows to the CE5 Interprets the results and draws implications in view of the initial conditions of the various countries Compares the EU accession of the CE5 to the Southern Mediterranean countries accession to the EC in the 1980s Draws conclusions and makes recommendations
