Forty Years Recollections Literary Political:

Forty Years' Recollections: Literary and Political Thomas Frost, 1880 Purchase of this book includes free trial access to www million books com where you can read more than a million books for free This is an OCR edition with typos Excerpt from book CHAPTER XIII MISSION WORK IX BETHNAL GREEN I Was acquainted at this time with a young curate with whom I had some time before made a pedestrian tour through some of the most beautiful portions of the beautiful county of Kent and who had lately exchanged his first curacy at Haverstock Hill for a similar engagement in the district of St Philip Bethnal Green On the occasion of my first visit to him after this change our conversation turned upon home missions and I was led to make some remarks derived from my own observation upon the incompetency of many of the Beripture readers whose mission fields were the industrial quarters of our large towns for the accomplishment of the end for which they were appointed They may be tolerably well qualified to deal with the indifferent and the ignorant I observed but they are utterly incompetent to remove the doubts or meet the arguments of the many intelligent men to be found in large towns who reject the Bible as a divine revelation They may be useful auxiliaries of the clergy in visiting the poor in the halls of a congregation and tolerably successful in bringing into the fold of the Church the ignorant and the indifferent but they do not realize my idea of what a Christian missionary in the home field should be like the present There is great difficulty in obtaining men who would return the curate It is true they are not very highly paid but many of them notably those employed by the City Missionary Society are as well paid as a large proportion of curates who are drawn from a higher and more educated class The Churches said I in continuance of the thought that was in my mind send to the ignorant heathen of Africa and Malaysia men qualified by education for the ministry

Forty Years Recollections Thomas Frost, 2018-02-04 Excerpt from Forty Years Recollections Literary and Political Pm Years are not a very long period in the history of a nation much less in that of the world yet what mighty events may be crowded into them what vast changes made in the social political and educational condition of a people Looking back for instance upon the England of half a century ago we have a retrospect which presents as strong a contrast to the present time as the infancy of an individual affords to the same person's mature years. So rapid has been the progress of the nation in mental development and political enfranchisement that men not yet old may look back upon the days of their boyhood as curiously and as wonderingly. The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1861. The Cambridge History of English Literature: The nineteenth century. III Sir Adolphus William Ward, Alfred Rayney Waller, 1916. The Poetry and the Politics Gregory James, James Gregory, 2014-10-10. The nineteenth century was a time of movements, political, social, moral reform, causes which drew on the energies of men and women across Britain. This book studies radical reform at the margins of early Victorian society, focusing on decades of particular social, political, and technological ferment when foreign and British promoters of extravagant, technologically assisted utopias could attract many hundreds of supporters of limited means persuaded to escape grim conditions by emigration to South America, when pioneers of vegetarianism joined the ranks of the temperance movement, and when working-class Chartists, reviving a struggle for political reform seemed to threaten the State for a brief moment in April 1848 Through the forgotten figure of James Elmslie Duncan shabby genteel poet and self proclaimed Apostle of the Messiahdom The Poetry and the Politics considers themes including poetry's place in radical culture the response of pantomime to the Chartist challenge to law and order and associations between madness and revolution Duncan became a promoter of the technological fantasies of John Adolphus Etzler a poet of science who prophesied a future free from drudgery through machinery powered by natural forces Etzler dreamed of crystal palaces Duncan's public freedom was to end dramatically in 1851 just as a real crystal palace opened to an astonished world In addition to Duncan James Gregory also introduces a cast of other poets earnest reformers and agitators such as William Thom the weaver poet of Inverury whose metropolitan feting would end in tragedy John Goodwyn Barmby bearded Pontiffarch of the Communist Church a lunatic Invisible Poet of Cremorne pleasure gardens the hatter from Reading who challenged the feudal restrictions of the Game Laws by tract trespass and stuffed jay birds and foreign exotics such as the German born Conrad Stollmeyer escaping the sinking of an experimental Naval Automaton in Margate to build a fortune as the Asphalt King of Trinidad Combining these figures with the biography of a man whose literary career was eccentric and whose public antics were capitalised upon by critics of Chartist agitation this book is essential reading for anyone interested in radical reform and popular political movements in Victorian Britain

The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1924 The Cambridge History of English Literature Sir Adolphus William Ward, Alfred Rayney Waller, 1917 Nineteenth-Century Religion, Literature and Society Naomi Hetherington, Rebecca Styler, Angharad Eyre, Richa Dwor, Clare Stainthorp, 2021-11-09 This four volume historical resource provides new opportunities for investigating the relationship between religion literature and society in Britain and its imperial territories by making accessible a diverse selection of harder to find primary sources These include religious fiction poetry essays memoirs sermons travel writing religious ephemera unpublished notebooks and pamphlet literature Spanning the long nineteenth century c 1789 1914 the resource departs from older models of the Victorian crisis of faith in order to open up new ways of conceptualising religion A key concern of the resource is to integrate non Christian religions into our understanding and representations of religious life in this period Each volume is framed around a different meaning of the term religion Volume one on Traditions offers an overview of the different religious traditions and denominations present in Britain in this period Volume two on Mission and Reform considers the social and political importance of religious faith and practice as expressed through foreign and domestic mission and philanthropic and political movements at home and abroad Volume three turns to Religious Feeling as an important and distinct category for understanding the ways in which religion is embodied and expressed in culture Volume four on Disbelief and New Beliefs explores the transformation of the religious landscape of Britain and its imperial territories during the nineteenth century as a result of key cultural and intellectual forces The resource is aimed primarily at researchers and students working within the fields of literature and social and religious history It supplies an interpretative context for sources in the form of explanatory headnotes to each source or group of sources and volume introductions that explore overarching themes Each volume can be read independently but they work together to elucidate the complex and multi faceted nature of nineteenth century religious life The Routledge Companion to Victorian Literature Dennis Denisoff,Talia Schaffer,2019-11-11 The Routledge Companion to Victorian Literature offers 45 chapters by leading international scholars working with the most dynamic and influential political cultural and theoretical issues addressing Victorian literature today Scholars and students will find this collection both useful and inspiring Rigorously engaged with current scholarship that is both historically sensitive and theoretically informed the Routledge Companion places the genres of the novel poetry and drama and issues of gender social class and race in conversation with subjects like ecology colonialism the Gothic digital humanities sexualities disability material culture and animal studies This guide is aimed at scholars who want to know the most significant critical approaches in Victorian studies often written by the very scholars who helped found those fields It addresses major theoretical movements such as narrative theory formalism historicism and economic theory as well as Victorian models of subjects such as anthropology cognitive science and religion With its lists of key works rich cross referencing extensive bibliographies and explications of scholarly trajectories the book is a crucial resource for graduate students and advanced undergraduates while offering invaluable support to more seasoned scholars The Poetry of Chartism Mike Sanders,2009-03-05 This book explores the contribution made by Chartist poetry to the struggle for fundamental democratic rights Search for a New Eden J. E. M. Latham,1999 Alcott returned to New England with two of Greaves followers and with his family and Charles Lane set up the short lived experiment in communal living Fruitlands Alcott House meanwhile suffered from internal conflict and the community expired in 1848 BOOK JACKET Teaching Laboring-Class British Literature of the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries Kevin Binfield,William J. Christmas,2018-12-01 Behind our contemporary experience of globalization precarity and consumerism lies a history of colonization increasing literacy transnational trade in goods and labor and industrialization Teaching British laboring class literature of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries means exploring ideas of class status and labor in relation to the historical developments that inform our lives as workers and members of society This volume demonstrates pedagogical techniques and provides resources for students and teachers on autobiographies broadside ballads Chartism and other political movements georgics labor studies satire service learning writing by laboring class women and writing by laboring people of African descent Contemporary Thought on Nineteenth Century Socialism Ophélie Siméon,2020-12-14 This first volume will showcase the richness and diversity of the Owenite movement which spanned decades from Owen s first published books in 1813 16 to the late 1840s political allegiances genders and continents This volume therefore calls for a variety of sources not easily available elsewhere including books pamphlets correspondence and newspaper articles and a variety of often overlapping voices from Chartists to early co operators secularists non British

Owenites and proponents of women's rights The sheer range of Owenite ventures intentional communities co-operatives labour exchanges and experiments in popular education will be covered thus blending social and political history The attempt to map the Owenite movement will eventually lead to the identification of its shared core principles and values internationalism co-operation concepts of political change and above all the ideal of community The Rise of Victorian Caricature Ian Haywood, 2020-03-17 This book serves as a retrieval and reevaluation of a rich haul of comic caricatures from the turbulent years between the Reform Bill crisis of the early 1830s and the rise and fall of Chartism in the 1840s With a telling selection of illustrations this book deploys the techniques of close reading and political contextualization to demonstrate the aesthetic and ideological clout of a neglected tranche of satirical prints and periodicals dismissed as ineffectual by historians or distasteful by contemporaries The prime exhibits are the work of Robert Seymour and C J Grant giving acerbic comic edge to the case for reform against class and state oppression and the excesses of the monarchical regime under the young Queen Victoria Co-operation and the Owenite Socialist Communities in Britain, 1825-45 Ronald George Garnett, 1972 Historical study of Owenite socialism and the cooperative movement in the UK from 1825 to 1845 based on a study of the experiments of three leading communities includes bibliography pp 241 to 260 illustrations and references

Ealing free public library. Catalogue of the lending department Thomas Bonner, 1890 The Dawn of the Cheap Press in Victorian Britain Martin Hewitt, 2013-12-05 The Dawn of the Cheap Press provides the first detailed study of the mid Victorian campaign for the repeal of the taxes on knowledge for over a hundred years Using the recently discovered papers of the Association for the Promotion of the Repeal of the Taxes on Knowledge and taking advantage of new forms of research made possible by the digitisation of nineteenth century newspapers it assesses the impact of the removal of the last surviving legal disabilities on the newspaper industry the nature of journalism and the cultures and practices of newspaper reading The book demonstrates that the campaign against the taxes on knowledge retained broad popular appeal and played an important role in the politics of mid Victorian budgets It not only makes a seminal contribution to the history of the nineteenth century press and print culture but also illuminates the culture and politics of mid Victorian Britain offers an important re-reading of the history of extra-parliamentary pressure group politics and provides new insights into the origins of Gladstonian Liberalism
