This study is based on the authors fieldwork inside Cultural Enterprise Office a small Scottish agency that supports creative businesses It discusses UK policy on the creative economy the rise of intermediaries between policy making and the marketplace and the playing out in the delivery of business advice services to creative microbusinesses Creative Cluster

Development Marlen Komorowski, Ike Picone, 2020-04-23 In recent decades the importance of creative cluster development has gained increasing recognition from national and regional governments Governments have been investing in initiatives and urban development plans that aim to create or support localized creative industries Our understanding of creative clusters is expanded with this insightful volume which looks at issues of governance place making and entrepreneurship In addition to its theoretical contributions the book also presents a rich range of international case studies including among others an analysis of coworking spaces in Toronto business park development in MediaCityUK and mediapark brussels and public private partnerships in Warsaw Creative Cluster Development will be valuable reading for advanced students researchers and policymakers in urban planning regional studies economic geography innovation studies and the creative and cultural industries Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Creative Industries Abbe E.L.

Brown, Charlotte Waelde, 2018-03-30 The creative industries are becoming of increasing importance from economic cultural and social perspectives This Handbook explores the relationship whether positive or negative between creative industries and intellectual property IP rights Cultural Policies in the Era of the Korean Wave Taeyoung Kim, 2025-06-30

Cultural Policies in the Era of the Korean Wave explores how the state instrumentalises cultural industries despite the bulk of their production and delivery mechanisms becoming subject to the market logic and foreign stakeholders through an in depth study of the South Korean government s cultural industry policies Drawing on interviews with policymakers and producers in the Korean film music and television industries it investigates how the government s policy schemes ranging from funding programmes and public agencies established to promote cultural industries to the blacklisting of those opposing the administration s political agendas demonstrate the government s strong desire to influence cultural production The findings highlight how the state retains political power to instrumentalise cultural products even as market forces shape production mechanisms and genre characteristics that have become increasingly transnational This book sheds new light on how the state approves and reappropriates the doctrines of neoliberal globalisation to serve its interests in instrumentalising culture making it relevant for scholars and students in the areas of media and cultural policy media and cultural industries global media and Asian studies

Advancing Media Production Research Chris Paterson, David Lee, Anamik Saha, Anna Zoellner, 2016-01-26 This anthology explores challenges to understanding the nature of cultural production exploring innovative new research approaches and improvements to old approaches such as newsroom ethnography which will enable clearer fuller understanding of the workings of journalism and other forms of media and cultural production

The Structural Change of Knowledge and the Future of the Social Sciences Ronald Pohoryles, Andrew Sors, 2019-05-17 This book is a compendium of pragmatism in the social sciences While addressing several distinct spheres it carries a common message the future of the social sciences depends on a shared understanding of society based on the knowledge of various disciplines and transcending the currently forbidding borders between scientific knowledge and the other forms of knowledge Looking back at the social science traditions this is nothing new To ensure a fruitful future for the social sciences a paradigm shift is unavoidable The consequence of the increase of knowledge in the last two centuries was the specialization of the sciences The nineteenth century saw the separation of humanities and social sciences the twentieth century is even characterized by specialization within the disciplines and the occurrence of competing schools of thought This book tries to overcome the barriers that are built between and within the disciplines and to counteract the unnecessary barriers created by the emergence of schools of thoughts that distrust each other and the social sciences as a whole This book was originally published as a special issue of Innovation The European Journal of Social Science Research
