attack until I calmed down and began to think straight I was down with an acute case of acidity dyspepsia whatever have you In fact with dire images of gulping down antacids by the fistful for the first time in my life when I had always preached against the usage of chemical based drugs well what did I do now especially at 2 o'clock in the morning No we do not have antacids or painkillers in our medicine cabinet We practice natural curing especially when there are so many natural herbs and spices available right in your kitchen closet to get rid of all the aches and pains naturally So I got up took out my skillet filled it up with water put a teaspoonful of aniseeds and another of cumin seeds and then crushed 2 cardamoms While they were being boiled I chopped up a piece of raw ginger and added it to the make sure because I wanted to get rid of that pain And ginger is the best natural painkiller ever known to man In ancient medicine ginger was an integral part of everybody's cuisine not only as a spice taste and hence herb but also because of its curative and antiseptic value While the water boiled I went to the fridge took out a glass of cold milk added a healing teaspoonful of honey to it and half a teaspoonful of homemade pure clarified butter to line the insides of the intestines just in case I was coming down with a peptic ulcer and gulped it down By that time the water was boiling but I had already taken some sort of preventive measures to stop the acid in the stomach from doing more harm to the intestinal lining The moment the water cooled down I was taking long grateful gulps With this water in my other earthenware container next to my pillow to be taken when I felt thirsty during the rest of the night by 3:20 I was back on that pillow sleeping like a baby And no I did not sleep on my back which Freud supposedly says is the healthy way of sleeping because it shows a healthy physical and mental outlook Fiddlesticks say I I was curled up like a little baby monkey with my knees under my chin in a cocoon and my spinal cord curved into a C That actually is the normal natural way of human beings to sleep even though doctors and psychologists are trying to dissuade them from sleeping in this manner If they do not try out any dissuasive stands and stunts how are they going to sell their antacids Next morning what dyspepsia What stomach pain What acidity No wonder one is so grateful to the knowledge passed down from the old ones who have gone before us who have used these herbs and spices so for all of you out there reading this book it is going to tell you about the healing qualities of herbs and spices especially my favorite ginger without which I cannot do     Chronic Pain For Dummies Stuart Kassan, MD, Charles J.
