Current Perspectives In Media Education Beyond The Manifesto:

Current Perspectives in Media Education P. Fraser,J. Wardle,2013-09-12 This book emerged from the online project A Manifesto for Media Education and takes forward its starting points by asking some of the original contributors to expand upon their view of the purpose of media education and to support their perspective with accounts of practice

Current Perspectives in Media Education P. Fraser,J. Wardle,2013-09-12 This book emerged from the online project A Manifesto for Media Education and takes forward its starting points by asking some of the original contributors to expand upon their view of the purpose of media education and to support their perspective with accounts of practice

International Handbook of Media Literacy Education Belinha S. De Abreu,Paul Mihailidis,Alice Y.L. Lee,Jad Melki,Julian

McDougall,2017-04-21 At the forefront in its field this Handbook examines the theoretical conceptual pedagogical and methodological development of media literacy education and research around the world Building on traditional media literacy frameworks in critical analysis evaluation and assessment it incorporates new literacies emerging around connective technologies mobile platforms and social networks A global perspective rather than a Western centric point of view is explicitly highlighted with contributors from all continents to show the empirical research being done at the intersection of media education and engagement in daily life Structured around five themes Educational Interventions Safeguarding Data and Online Privacy Engagement in Civic Life Media Creativity and Production Digital Media Literacy the volume as a whole emphasizes the competencies needed to engage in meaningful participation in digital culture

Fake News vs Media Studies Julian McDougall,2019-12-01 This book explores the place of Media Studies in the age of fake news analysing the calls for a curriculum of critical news literacy as part of a cyclical policy debate With the need for young people in democracies to understand mainstream news agendas and take a critical perspective on social media news including so called fake news this book argues for Media Studies as a mandatory subject However fake news is not presented in the book as a stable neutral term with a clear definition but is instead defined as an idea that risks obscuring the key critical and political premise of Media Studies All media representation requires critical deconstruction therefore any distinction between real and fake media is a false binary The author draws together two narrative strands one analysing contemporary news and journalism featuring interviews with journalists and news commentators and the other re appraising the discipline of Media Studies itself This bold and innovative book will appeal to all those interested in the nebulous and often confusing media landscape as well as students and practitioners of Media Studies

iPads in the Early Years Michael Dezuanni,Karen Dooley,Sandra Gattenhof,Linda Knight,2015-01-09 Digital devices such as smart phones and tablet computers are becoming commonplace in young children s lives for play entertainment learning and communication Recently there has been a great deal of focus on the educational potential of these devices in both formal and informal educational settings There is now an abundance of educational apps available to children parents and teachers which claim to enhance children s early literacy and numeracy development but to date there has been very little formal investigation of the educational potential of these devices This book discusses the impact on children s learning when iPads were introduced in three very different early years settings in Brisbane Australia It outlines how researchers worked with pre school teachers and parents to explore how iPads can assist with letter and word recognition the development of oral literacy and digital literacies and talk around play Chapters consider the possibilities for using iPads for creativity and arts education through photography storytelling drawing music creation and audio recording and critically examine the literacies enabled by educational software available on iPads and the relationship between digital play and literacy development iPads in the Early Years provides exciting insights into children s digital culture and learning in the age of the iPad It will be key reading for researchers research students and teacher educators focusing on the early years as well as those with an interest in the role of ICTS and particularly tablet computers in education

Community Filmmaking Sarita Malik,Caroline Chapain,Roberta Comunian,2017-04-28 This book examines the role of community filmmaking in society and its connection with issues of cultural diversity innovation policy and practice in various places Deploying a range of examples from Europe North America Australia and Hong Kong the chapters show that film emerging from outside the mainstream film industries and within community contexts can lead to innovation in terms of both content and processes and a better representation of the cultural diversity of a range of communities and places The book aims to situate the community filmmaker as the central node in the complex network of relationships between diverse communities funding bodies policy and the film industries

Digital Participation through Social Living Labs Michael Dezuanni,Marcus Foth,Kerry Mallan,Hilary Hughes,2017-08-14 Digital Participation through Social Living Labs connects two largely separate debates On the one hand high speed internet access and associated technologies are often heralded as a means to bring about not only connectivity but also innovation economic development new jobs and regional prosperity On the other hand community development research has established that access by itself is necessary but not sufficient to foster digital participation for the broadest possible range of individuals Edited by leading scholars from the fields of education youth studies urban informatics librarianship communication technology and digital media studies this book is positioned as a link to connect these debates It brings together an international collection of empirically grounded case studies by researchers and practitioners from diverse backgrounds They advance knowledge that fosters digital participation by identifying the specific digital needs issues and practices of different types of communities as they seek to take advantage of access to digital technologies Collectively these cases propose new ways for enabling residents to develop their digital confidence and skills both at home and in their local community particularly through a social living labs approach The book is organised around key focus areas digital skills enhancement youth entrepreneurship connected learning community digital storytelling community led digital initiatives and policy development Highlights that high speed internet is necessary that high speed internet access is necessary but not sufficient to resolve digital divides and foster social inclusion Brings together international empirically grounded case studies to identify digital needs issues and practices of different communities and contextualises these with expert comment Presents contributions from multiple disciplines with most chapters incorporating more than one disciplinary background Gives insight on the place of the digital in contemporary society Illustrates the innovative potential of social living labs to foster digital learning and participation in a variety of community contexts

The Digital Disconnect Ellen Helsper, 2021-02-10 With the increased digitisation of society comes an increased concern about who is left behind From societal causes to the impact of everyday actions The Digital Disconnect explores the relationship between digital and social inequalities and the lived consequences of digitisation Ellen Helsper goes beyond questions of digital divides and who is connected She asks why and how social and digital inequalities are linked and shows the tangible outcomes of socio digital inequalities in everyday lives The book Introduces the key theories and concepts needed to understand both traditional and digital inequalities research Investigates a range of socio digital inequalities from digital access and skills to civic participation social engagement and everyday content creation and consumption Brings research to life with a range of qualitative vignettes drawing out the personal experiences that lay at the heart of global socio digital inequalities The Digital Disconnect is an expert exploration of contemporary theory research and practice in socio digital inequalities It is also an urgent and impassioned call to broaden horizons expand theoretical and methodological toolkits and work collectively to help achieve a fairer digital future for all Ellen J Helsper is Professor of Digital Inequalities at the Department of Media and Communications at London School of Economics and Political Science

The Routledge International Handbook of the Arts and Education Mike Fleming, Liora Bresler, John O'Toole, 2014-11-27 This International Handbook brings together leading writers on Arts in Education to provide a much needed authoritative guide to the main debates in the field and an informed account of contemporary developments in policy and practice Providing a detailed overview of key concepts and practical challenges the book combines theoretical insight with specific examples of innovative projects drawing on theoretical historical and empirical research perspectives to inform understanding The range of content highlights the breadth of the field addressing such issues as the importance of community arts and partnership as well as school education and providing insight into developments in multiple and connecting arts as well as traditional art forms Topics such as assessment creativity cultural diversity special needs the arts in early childhood adult education arts based research are all addressed by recognised authorities in each area The collection of chapters also serves to define the field of arts education recognising its diversity but highlighting the common elements that provide its identity The collection addresses generic issues common to all the arts while acknowledging differences and recognising the dangers of over generalisation It also includes specific chapters on each of the art forms visual art dance drama literature music media arts providing a cutting edge analysis of key contemporary issues in each subject Bringing together specially commissioned pieces by a range of international authors this Handbook will make an important contribution to the field of Arts Education      Disrupting Shameful Legacies Claudia Mitchell, Relebohile Moletsane, 2018-08-14 Much has been written in Canada and South Africa about sexual violence in the context of colonial legacies particularly for Indigenous girls and young women While both countries have attempted to deal with the past through Truth and Reconciliation Commissions and Canada has embarked upon its National Inquiry on Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls there remains a great deal left to do Across the two countries history legislation and the lived experiences of young people and especially girls and young women point to a deeply rooted situation of marginalization Violence on girls and women's bodies also reflects violence on the land and especially issues of dispossession What approaches and methods would make it possible for girls and young women as knowers and actors especially those who are the most marginalized to influence social policy and social change in the context of sexual violence Taken as a whole the chapters in Disrupting Shameful Legacies Girls and Young Women Speaking Back through the Arts to Address Sexual Violence which come out of a transnational study on sexual violence suggest a new legacy one that is based on methodologies that seek to disrupt colonial legacies by privileging speaking up and speaking back through the arts and visual practice to challenge the situation of sexual violence At the same time the fact that so many of the authors of the various chapters are themselves Indigenous young people from either Canada or South Africa also suggests a new legacy of leadership for change
