Curse Of The Black Gold 50 Years Of Oil In The Niger Delta:

Curse of the Black Gold Michael Watts, 2008-05-13 A graphic look at the profound cost of oil exploitation in West Africa World renowned photo journalist Ed Kashi traces 50 years of interest in Nigerian oil and the resulting degradation and community conflicts that have plagued the region This is the first book to document what has been called the scramble for African oil Kashi exposes the reality of oil s impact providing a a compelling pictorial history of one of the world s great deltaic areas

Atlas of Petromodernity Alexander Klose, Benjamin Steininger, 2024-07-05 The Atlas of Petromodernity is many things in one historical and geographical non fiction cultural theory essay and picture book In forty four short essays inspired by an equal amount of pictorial findings Klose and Steininger develop a technical geographical political and speculative panorama of the declining era of petroleum modernity The authors stroll through Baku Rotterdam and Louisiana into Manchuria and through the Vienna Basin They read Bertolt Brecht technical manuals and petroculture theory and they listen to Neil Young They go to the moon through refineries and over highways emptied by the COVID 19 pandemic They confront petrochemistry with petromelancholy catalysis with catharsis cosmos with cosmetics The Atlas of Petromodernity tackles the contradictory ambivalences of a substance that has been vital for our epoch and whose roles and meanings need to be understood in order to be able to leave this epoch behind

Routledge Handbook of Minority Discourses in African Literature Tanure Ojaide, Joyce Ashuntantang, 2020-04-29 This handbook provides a critical overview of literature dealing with groups of people or regions that suffer marginalization within Africa The contributors examine a multiplicity of minority discourses expressed in African literature including those who are culturally socially politically religiously economically and sexually marginalized in literary and artistic creations Chapters and sections of the book are structured to identify major areas of minority articulation of their condition and strategies deployed against the repression persecution oppression suppression domination and tyranny of the majority or dominant group Bringing together diverse perspectives to give a holistic representation of the African reality this handbook is an important read for scholars and students of comparative and postcolonial literature and African studies

A History of the Republic of Biafra Samuel Fury Childs Daly, 2020-08-27 The Republic of Biafra lasted for less than three years but the war over its secession would contort Nigeria for decades to come Samuel Fury Childs Daly examines the history of the Nigerian Civil War and its aftermath from an uncommon vantage point the courtroom Wartime Biafra was glutted with firearms wracked by famine and administered by a government that buckled under the weight of the conflict In these dangerous conditions many people survived by engaging in fraud extortion and armed violence When the fighting ended in 1970 these survival tactics endured even though Biafra itself disappeared from the map Based on research using an original archive of legal records and oral histories Daly catalogues how people navigated conditions of extreme hardship on the war front and shows how the conditions of the Nigerian Civil War paved the way for the country s long experience of crime that was to follow

occur and how have their effects changed through time Why are those who produce food so often the casualties of famines Looking at the food crisis that struck the West African Sahel during the 1970s Michael J Watts examines the relationships between famine climate and political economy Through a longue dur e history and a detailed village study Watts argues that famines are socially produced and that the market is as fickle and incalculable as the weather Droughts are natural occurrences matters of climatic change but famines expose the inner workings of society politics and markets His analysis moves from household and individual farming practices in the face of climatic variability to the incorporation of African peasants into the global circuits of capitalism in the colonial and postcolonial periods Silent Violence powerfully combines a case study of food crises in Africa with an analysis of the way capitalism developed in northern Nigeria and how peasants struggle to maintain rural livelihoods As the West African Sahel confronts another food crisis and continuing food insecurity for millions of peasants Silent Violence speaks in a compelling way to contemporary agrarian dynamics food provisioning systems and the plight of the African poor

Reclaiming African History Jacques Depelchin,2011-01-13 Depelchin shows how African history could be written in a way that would help free it from being hostage consciously and unconsciously to European and US historical intellectual frameworks

Fractivism Sara Ann Wylie,2018-01-25 From flammable tap water and sick livestock to the recent onset of hundreds of earthquakes in Oklahoma the impact of fracking in the United States is far reaching and deeply felt In Fractivism Sara Ann Wylie traces the history of fracking and the ways scientists and everyday people are coming together to hold accountable an industry that has managed to evade regulation Beginning her story in Colorado Wylie shows how nonprofits landowners and community organizers are creating novel digital platforms and databases to track unconventional oil and gas well development and document fracking s environmental and human health impacts These platforms model alternative approaches for academic and grassroots engagement with the government and the fossil fuel industry A call to action Fractivism outlines a way forward for not just the fifteen million Americans who live within a mile of an unconventional oil or gas well but for the planet as a whole

A Global History of Literature and the Environment John Parham,Louise Westling,2016-12-01 In A Global History of Literature and the Environment an international group of scholars illustrate the immense riches of environmental writing from the earliest literary periods down to the present It addresses ancient writings about human animal plant relations from India classical Greece Chinese and Japanese literature the Maya Popol Vuh Islamic texts medieval European works eighteenth century and Romantic ecologies colonial postcolonial environmental interrelations responses to industrialization and the emerging literatures of the world in the present Anthropocene moment Essays range from Trinidad to New Zealand Estonia to Brazil Discussion of these texts indicates a variety of ways environmental criticism can fruitfully engage literary works and cultures from every continent and every historical period This is a uniquely varied and rich international history of environmental writing from ancient Mesopotamian and Asian works to the present It provides a compelling account of a topic that is crucial to twenty first century global literary studies     Ecocriticism and the Sense of Place Lenka Filipova, 2021-08-29 The book is an investigation into the ways in which ideas of place are negotiated contested and refigured in environmental writing at the turn of the twenty first century It focuses on the notion of place as a way of interrogating the socio political and environmental pressures that have been seen as negatively affecting our environments since the advent of modernity as well as the solutions that have been given as an antidote to those pressures Examining a selection of literary representations of place from across the globe the book illuminates the multilayered and polyvocal ways in which literary works render local and global ecological relations of places In this way it problematises more traditional environmentalism and its somewhat essentialised idea of place by intersecting the largely Western discourse of environmental studies with postcolonial and Indigenous studies thus considering the ways in which forms of emplacement can occur within displacement and dispossession especially within societies that are dealing with the legacies of colonialism neocolonial exploitation or international pressure to conform As such the work foregrounds the singular processes in which different local global communities recognise themselves in their diverse approaches to the environment and gestures towards an environmental politics that is based on an epistemology of contact connection and difference and as one moreover that recognises its own epistemological limits This book will appeal to researchers working in the fields of environmental humanities postcolonial studies Indigenous studies and comparative literature     Casebook on Insurgency and Revolutionary Warfare ,2012

African Youth Cultures in a Globalized World Paul Ugor, Lord Mawuko-Yevugah, 2016-03-09 All over the world there is growing concern about the ramifications of globalization late modernity and general global social and economic restructuring on the lives and futures of young people Bringing together a wide body of research to reflect on youth responses to social change in Africa this volume shows that while young people in the region face extraordinary social challenges in their everyday lives they also continue to devise unique ways to reinvent their difficult circumstances and prosper in the midst of seismic global and local social changes Contributors from Africa and around the world cover a wide range of topics on African youth cultures exploring the lives of young people not necessarily as victims but as active social players in the face of a shifting late modernist civilization With empirical cases and varied theoretical approaches the book offers a timely scholarly contribution to debates around globalization and its implications and impacts for Africa s youth

What Postcolonial Theory Doesn't Say Anna Bernard, Ziad Elmarsafy, Stuart Murray, 2015-08-11 This book reclaims postcolonial theory addressing persistent limitations in the geographical disciplinary and methodological assumptions of its dominant formations It emerges however from an investment in the future of postcolonial studies and a commitment to its basic premise namely that literature and culture are fundamental to the response to structures of colonial and imperial domination To a certain extent postcolonial theory is a victim of its own success not least because of the institutionalization of the insights that it has enabled Now that these insights no longer seem new it is hard to know what the field should address beyond its general commitments Yet the renewal of popular anti imperial energies across the globe provides an important opportunity to reassert the political and theoretical value of the postcolonial as a comparative interdisciplinary and oppositional paradigm This collection makes a claim for what postcolonial theory can say through the work of scholars articulating what it still cannot or will not say It explores ideas that a more aesthetically sophisticated postcolonial theory might be able to address focusing on questions of visibility performance and literariness Contributors highlight some of the shortcomings of current postcolonial theory in relation to contemporary political developments such as Zimbabwean land reform postcommunism and the economic rise of Asia Finally they address the disciplinary geographical and methodological exclusions from postcolonial studies through a detailed focus on new disciplinary directions management studies international relations disaster studies overlooked locations and perspectives Palestine Weimar Germany the commons and the necessity of materialist analysis for understanding both the contemporary world and world literary systems

Cultures of Energy Sarah Strauss, Stephanie Rupp, Thomas Love, 2016-06-16 This path breaking volume explores cultures of energy the underlying but under appreciated dimensions of both crisis and innovation in resource use around the globe Theoretical chapters situate pressing energy issues in larger conceptual frames and ethnographic case studies reveal energy as it is imagined used and contested in a variety of cultural contexts Contributors address issues including the connection between resource flows and social relationships in energy systems cultural transformation and notions of progress and collapse the blurring of technology and magic social tensions that accompany energy contraction and sociocultural changes required in affluent societies to reduce dependence on fossil fuels Each of five thematic sections concludes with an integrative and provocative conversation among the authors The volume is an ideal tool for teaching unique contemporary and comparative perspectives on social theories of science and technology in undergraduate and graduate courses

Looking Within: Finding an Environmental Justice and Global Citizenship Lens Karen Druffel, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 Can we adopt human rights concepts long used to frame problems of social justice to define environmental justice Can existing social institutions provide models and tools for achieving environmental justice This volume views old models of agency through new lenses and examines how several social institutions such as law education and health care address specific environmental problems The volume presents arguments for human obligations towards the environment and future generations Scholars assess the limitations of existing models and others point to recent failures in protecting the interests of indigenous groups or species And on a hopeful note examples are given of institutions that promise some success in effecting environmental goals As this discussion of citizenship suggests much like environmental justice a global context both in definition and application is required

Freshwater James Fargo Balliett, 2014-12-18 Freshwater is our planet s most precious resource and also the least conserved Freshwater makes up only 3 percent of the total water on the planet and yet the majority 1 9 percent is held in a frozen state in glaciers icebergs and polar ice fields

This leaves approximately one half of 1 percent of the total volume of water on the planet as freshwater available in liquid form This book traces the complex history of the steady growth of humankind s water consumption which today reaches some 9 7 quadrillion gallons per year Along with a larger population has come the need for more drinking water larger farms requiring extensive irrigation and more freshwater to support business and industry At the same time such developments have led to increased water pollution Three detailed case studies are included The first looks at massive water systems in locations such as New York City and the efforts required to protect and transport such resources The second shows how growth has affected freshwater quality in the ecologically unique and geographically isolated Lake Baikal region of eastern Russia The third examines the success story of the privatized freshwater system in Chile and consider how that country s water sources are threatened by climate change

Water Justice Rutgerd Boelens,Tom Perreault,Jeroen Vos,2018-03-15 An overview of critical conceptual approaches to water justice illustrated with global historic and contemporary case studies of socio environmental struggles

The Jonathan Presidency John A. Ayode, Adeoye A. Akinsanya, Olatunde J. B. Ojo,2013-12-20 The Jonathan Presidency provides a comprehensive and unique analysis of Nigerian president Goodluck Jonathan s first twelve months in office The Jonathan Presidency analyzes the ability of the featured Nigerian politicians to deliver their electoral promises protect and uphold the Nigerian Constitution and sustain a transparent citizen friendly administration

The Politics of Inclusive Development Samuel Hickey,Kunal Sen,Badru Bukenya,2015 It is now widely accepted that politics plays a significant role in shaping the possibilities for inclusive development However the specific ways in which this happens across different types and forms of development and in different contexts remains poorly understood This collection provides a state of the art review regarding what is currently known about the politics of inclusive development Leading academics offer systematic reviews of how politics shapes development across multiple dimensions including through growth natural resource governance poverty reduction service delivery social protection justice systems the empowerment of marginalised groups and the role of both traditional and non traditional donors The volume not only provides a comprehensive update but also a ground breaking range of new directions for thinking and acting around these issues The book s originality thus derives not only from the wide scope of its case study material but also from the new conceptual approaches it offers for thinking about the politics of inclusive development and the innovative and practical suggestions for donors policy makers and practitioners that flow from this

Everyday Energy Politics in Central Asia and the Caucasus David Gullette,Jeanne Féaux de la Croix,2017-10-02 The perception of Central Asia and its place in the world has come to be shaped by its large oil and gas reserves Literature on energy in the region has thus largely focused on related geopolitical issues and national policies However little is known about citizens needs within this broader context of commodities that connect the energy networks of China Russia and the West This multidisciplinary special issue brings together anthropologists economists geographers and political scientists to examine the role of all forms of energy here oil gas hydropower and solar power and their products especially electricity in people's daily lives throughout Central Asia and the Caucasus. The papers in this issue ask how energy is understood as an everyday resource as a necessity and a source of opportunity, a challenge or even as an indicator of exclusionary practices. We enquire into the role and views of energy sector workers, rural consumers and urban communities and their experiences of energy companies and national policies. We further examine the legacy of Soviet and more recent domestic energy policies, the environmental impact of energy use as well as the political impact of citizens' energy grievances. This book was published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey.

Handbook on the Geographies of Energy Barry D. Solomon, Kirby E. Calvert, 2017-12-29. This extensive Handbook captures a range of expertise and perspectives on the changing geographies and landscapes of energy production, distribution and use. Combining established and emerging scholarship from across disciplines, the expert contributions provide a broad overview of research frontiers for the changing geographies of energy worldwide. Interdisciplinary in nature and broad in scope, it serves to answer a range of questions and provide the reader with conceptual and methodological foundations.
