Martínez-Osorio, Mercedes Blanco, 2023-03-30 The epic poems written during the rise of Portugal and Spain on the global stage often dealt with topics quite unimaginable to the likes of Virgil or Homer These poems reveal the astounding opportunities for upward social mobility and self promotion afforded by broader access to print and the vast amount of knowledge and material wealth accrued through maritime exploration Iberian poets of the period were quite cognizant of their ventures into uncharted territory and that awareness informed their literary journeys The War Trumpet features nine substantial essays that expand our understanding of Iberian Renaissance epic poetry by posing questions seldom raised in relation to poems such as La Araucana Os Lus adas Carlo famoso El Bernardo Arauco Domado Espejo de paciencia and Felicissima Victoria among others Particularly compelling are questions concerned with early modern understandings of the natural world the practice of poetic imitation the discipline of cartography or the reception of Petrarchism in the newly established viceroyalties of the New World Fostering a greater appreciation of the intersection between poetry war and exploration The War Trumpet sheds light on the transformative changes that took place during the period of Iberian expansion From Criminal to Courtier David Kunzle, 2021-10-11 The art of the Netherlands Dutch and Flemish is unique in Early Modern Europe in its concern for military cruelty against civilians principally the peasantry Decimated by time and changes in taste this popular iconography proves varied and extensive stretching from Bruegel to and past Rubens Massacres of the Innocents continue to be a favourite subject through the Eighty Years War in contrast to ruling class glorifications of war Dutch patriotic siege prints lay claim to scientific precision in landscapes free of military terror while the idea of military conquest is presented as generous rather than cruel in the ever popular figure of Scipio Africanus Most of the pictorial material is unfamiliar some of it even to specialists and never before published new light is shed on the more familiar phenomena of the civic guard groups and Ter Borch courtier officers good soldiers overcoming a bad image

Early Modern Knowledge Societies as Affective Economies Inger Leemans, Anne Goldgar, 2020-12-30 Early Modern Knowledge Societies as Affective Economies researches the development of knowledge economies in Early Modern Europe Starting with the Southern and Northern Netherlands as important early hubs for marketing knowledge it analyses knowledge economies in the dynamics of a globalizing world The book brings together scholars and perspectives from history art history material culture book history history of science and literature to analyse the relationship between knowledge and markets How did knowledge grow into a marketable product What knowledge about markets was available in this period and how did it develop By connecting these questions the authors show how knowledge markets operated not only economically but also culturally through communication and affect Knowledge societies are analysed as affective communities spaces and practices Compelling case studies describe the role of emotions such as hope ambition desire love fascination adventure and disappointment on driving merchants contractors and consumers to operate in the market of knowledge In so doing the book offers innovative perspectives on the development of knowledge markets and the valuation of knowledge Introducing the reader to different perspectives on how knowledge markets operated from both an economic and cultural perspective this book will be of great use to students graduates and scholars of early modern history economic history the history of emotions and the history of the Low Countries The Life and Work of Dirck Volckertszoon Coornhert Henk Bongers, 2021-11-15 The sixteenth century Dutch spiritualist and controversialist Dirck Volckertszoon Coornhert 1522 1590 is increasingly recognized as a pivotal figure in the cultural and political life of the early Dutch Republic With the appearance of Henk Bongers widely acclaimed biography 1978 the first complete account of Coornhert's life became available in the Dutch language Today this biography is still the starting point of any serious research on Coornhert and his circle This translation now makes this standard biography available in English for the first time The translator profited from Henk Bongers comments on the translated chapters and the author approved of adaptations and changes where these were deemed necessary The structure and most of the chapters of the book are as they were in the original The chief changes are the abridgment and combination into one chapter of the two original chapters on Coornhert's creative work and his translations The ample quotes from Coornhert contained in the text enable the reader to attain a first hand acquaintance with Coornhert's profound thought and inimitable style References have been updated and some explanatory remarks intended for a non Dutch readership were added The translation is complemented with a full bibliography of Coornhert's writings as well as an up to date bibliography of the secondary literature with 25 illustrations Remoteness Reconsidered Christopher Rossi, 2021-07-06 When the margin IS the center perspectives shift Encyclopedia of Prostitution and Sex Work Melissa Hope Ditmore, 2006-08-30 The cliché is that prostitution is the oldest profession Isn't it time that the subject received a full reference treatment This major 2 volume set is the first to treat in an inclusive reference what is usually considered a societal failing and the underside of sexuality and economic survival The A to Z encyclopedia offers wide ranging entries related to prostitution and the sex industry past and present both worldwide mostly in the West and in the United States The topic of prostitution has high interest appeal across disciplines and the narrative entries illuminate literature art law medicine economics politics women's studies religion sociology sexuality film popular culture public health nonfiction American and world history business gender media education crime race technology performing arts family social work social mores pornography the military tourism child labor and more It is targeted to the general reader who will gain useful insight into the human race through time via its sex industry and prostitution An introduction overviews the scope of prostitution from the earliest historical records including the Bible User friendly lists that are alphabetically and topically arranged help the reader find entries of interest as does the comprehensive index A chronology proffers significant dates related to the topic Each entry is signed and has suggestions for further reading Sample entries Abolition Actresses Augustine Saint Barr Candy Bible Camp Followers

Out of Otherness Annet Mooij, 2020-02-10 From a punishment for the immoral acts of others venereal disease has become a malady that may confront any one of us This book examines the different stages in this long development and reveals the strange disjunction between waves of public anxiety and the factual incidence of disease in this troubled overlap between medical science and social life It describes the various efforts that have been made since 1850 to contain the hazard of sexually transmitted diseases and places the changing views on venereal infection in their historical and social context The comparisons drawn between the late 19th century battle against syphilis and present day responses to the AIDS epidemic underscore the notable changes that have taken place not only in thinking about sexuality but also in the authority of the medical profession and in the position of patients vis vis policy makers and all those involved in determining modes of treatment and prevention

Reframing Public Policy Frank Fischer, 2003-06-20 In recent years a set of radical new approaches to public policy has been developing These approaches drawing on discursive analysis and participatory deliberative practices have come to challenge the dominant technocratic empiricist models in policy analysis In his major new book Frank Fischer brings together this new work for the first time and critically examines it In an accessible way he describes the theoretical methodological and political requirements and implications of the new post empiricist approach to public policy The volume includes a discussion of the social construction of policy problems the role of interpretation and narrative analysis in policy inquiry the dialectics of policy argumentation and the uses of participatory policy analysis The book will be required reading for anyone studying researching or formulating public policy

Community Action and

Planning Nick Gallent, Daniela Ciaffi, 2016-04-20 Analyses the contexts drivers and outcomes of community action and planning in the global north from emergent neighbourhood planning in England to the community based housing movement in New York and from active citizenship in the Dutch new towns to associative action in Marseille The Oxford Handbook of Environmental Criminology Gerben Bruinsma, Shane D. Johnson, 2018 The study of how the environment local geography and physical locations influence crime has a long history that stretches across many research traditions These include the neighborhood effects approach developed in the 1920s the criminology of place and a newer approach that attends to the perception of crime in communities Aided by new technologies and improved data reporting in recent decades research in environmental criminology has developed rapidly within each of these approaches Yet research in the subfield remains fragmented and competing theories are rarely examined together The Oxford Handbook of Environmental Criminology takes a unique approach and synthesizes the contributions of existing methods to better integrate the subfield as a whole Gerben J N Bruinsma and Shane D Johnson have assembled a cast of top scholars to provide an in depth source for understanding how and why physical setting can influence the emergence of crime affect the environment and impact individual or group behavior The contributors address how changes in the environment global connectivity and technology provide more criminal opportunities and new ways of committing old crimes They also explore how crimes committed in countries with distinct cultural practices like China and West Africa might lead to different spatial patterns of crime This is a state of the art compendium on environmental criminology that reflects the diverse research and theory developed across the western world

Intergenerational Transmission of Criminal and Violent Behaviour Sytske Besemer, 2012 The apple doesn't fall far from the tree Like father like son Chip off the old block All these idioms seem to suggest that offspring resemble their parents and this also applies to criminal behaviour This dissertation investigates mechanisms that might explain why children with criminal parents have a higher risk of committing crime Several explanations for this intergenerational transmission have been contrasted such as social learning imitation of behaviour official bias against certain families and transmission of risk factors Sytske Besemer investigated this in England as well as in the Netherlands She answers questions such as does it matter when the parents committed crime in the child's life Do more persistent offenders transmit crime more than sporadic offenders Do violent offenders specifically transmit violent behaviour or general crime to their children Might the police and courts be biased against certain families Could a deprived environment explain why parents as well as children show criminal behaviour Does parental imprisonment pose an extra risk This dissertation is the first study to specifically investigate these mechanisms of intergenerational continuity The study is scientifically relevant because of its breadth integration of conviction data as well as data on self reported offending and environmental risk factors its comparative design and the long periods over which transmission is investigated Furthermore the dissertation has important policy implications It demonstrates how penal policy designed to reduce criminal behaviour might actually increase this behaviour in the next generation This is especially important since Western countries such as the United Kingdom and the Netherlands show an increasing trend towards more punitive policies Sytske Besemer studied psychology and criminology at Leiden University and at the VU University Amsterdam before embarking on a PhD at the Institute of Criminology at the University of Cambridge UK She has recently been awarded a NWO Rubicon fellowship to conduct post doctoral research at UC Berkeley into intergenerational continuity of criminal behaviour family dynamics and the criminal justice system The National Corporation Reporter ,1907 Comparative Map History and “the History of Cartography” Matthew H. Edney,2025-07-10 The apparently centuries old field of the history of cartography was invented after 1950 through incomplete historiographies by leading map historians This monograph uses an empirically grounded analysis of the ways in which early maps have been systematically studied since the early 1800s to offer an innovative account of the practices and institutions of comparative map history in support of Western imperialism and nationalism and of how the field was reconfigured as the core of a newly idealized discipline of the history of cartography Elisabeth of Bohemia (1618–1680): A Philosopher in her Historical Context Sabrina Ebbersmeyer,Sarah Hutton,2021-10-06 This book showcases Elisabeth of Bohemia Princess Palatine 1618 1680 one of the foremost female minds of the 17th century Best known today for her important correspondence with the philosopher Ren Descartes Elisabeth was famous in her own time for her learning philosophical acumen and mathematical brilliance She was also well connected in the seventeenth century intellectual circles Elisabeth s status as a woman philosopher is emblematic of both the possibilities and limitations of women s participation in the republic of letters and of their subsequent fate in history Few sources containing her own views survive and until recently there has been no work on Elisabeth as a thinker in her own right This volume brings together an international team of scholars to discuss her work from a cross disciplinary perspective on the occasion of her fourth centenary It is the first collection of essays to examine a range of her interests and to discuss them in relation to her historical context The studies presented here discuss her educational background her friendships and contacts her interest in politics religion and astronomy as well as her views on politics her moral philosophy and her engagement with Cartesianism The volume will appeal to historians of philosophy historians of political thought philosophers feminists and seventeenth century historians International Woman Suffrage: October 1918-September 1920 Sybil Oldfield,2003 As the monthly periodical of the early twentieth century women s movement International Woman Suffrage originally Ius Suffragii was read by the leading figures of the suffrage movement in more than thirty countries Featuring an in depth introduction to the material and its social and historical context this four volume set reprints eight years of the journal making this rare resource available to students and researchers in a variety of disciplines In addition to women s fight for the vote International Woman Suffrage 1913 1920 covered such highly controversial topics as the age of consent for girls alcohol control education of girls new employment openings for women divorce law reform health insurance for mothers maternity benefits minimum wages prostitution women medical workers women police women politicians and other subjects of debate Truly global for its time issues included articles by women from Argentina Australia Austria Belgium Bohemia British India Bulgaria Canada China Denmark Egypt Finland France Germany Great Britain Hungary Iceland Ireland Italy Japan Netherlands New Zealand Norway Philippines Rumania Russia South Africa Sweden Switzerland Turkey and the USA Clandestine Philosophy Gianni Paganini, Margaret C. Jacob, John Christian Laursen, 2020-01-29 Clandestine philosophical manuscripts made up of forbidden works including erotic texts political pamphlets satires of court life forbidden religious texts and books about the occult had an avid readership in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries becoming objects of historical research by the twentieth century The purveyors of the clandestine could be found in the Dutch Republic Switzerland Denmark Spain and not least in Paris or London Despite the heavy risks including prison the circulation of these manuscripts was a prosperous venture After Ira Wade s pioneering contribution 1938 Clandestine Philosophy is the first work in English entirely focused on the philosophical clandestine manuscripts that preceded and accompanied the birth of the Enlightenment Topics from philosophy political and religious thought and moral and sexual behaviour are addressed by contemporary authors working in both America and Europe These manuscripts shed light on the birth of pornography and provide an important avenue for investigating philosophical religious political and social critique Matters of Exchange Harold John Cook, 2007-01-01 Presents evidence that Dutch commerce not religion inspired the rise of science in the 16th and 17th centuries Scrutinises many historical documents relating to the study of medicine and natural history during this era showing direct links between commerce and trade and the flourishing of scientific investigation
