Realms of Ritual Peter Arnade, 2018-10-18 While earlier historians have seen the elaborate public rituals of the Burgundian dukes as stagnant forms held over from the chivalric world of the High Middle Ages Peter Arnade argues that they were a vital theater of power through which the ducal court and the urban centers constantly renegotiated their relationship This book is the first to apply the combined insights of social political and cultural history to an important but little explored area of medieval and early modern Europe the Burgundian Netherlands Realms of Ritual traces the role of ritual in encounters between the dukes of Burgundy later the Habsburg princes and the townspeople of Ghent the most important city in the county of Flanders Arnade analyzes city state ceremonies through which Ghent's aldermen patricians guildsmen and the city's military and drama confraternities confronted local power and the growth of the Burgundian state In the first serious reappraisal of Johan Huizinga's classic work The Waning of the Middle Ages Arnade confirms Huizinga's vision of a Low Country society rich in public symbols yet reveals the city state conflict within which such ritual thrived He offers a dramatically new perspective on the Northern Renaissance as well as a historical anthropological model for the study of urban state relations

Medieval Capital Markets Jaco Zuijderduijn, 2009-05-06 Institutions that allow for the accumulation of capital were as crucial to economic growth throughout history as they are today But whereas historians often focus on the precursors of modern banking institutions little is known of any alternatives that may have served similar purposes prior to their rise This study focuses on the institutional framework of markets for renten a type of long term debt that enabled economic development in much of Northwest Europe in the late Middle Ages In the county of Holland these markets allowed large segments of the public and private sectors to reallocate capital This study thus uncovers the medieval capital markets in the region that was to become the core of the Dutch Republic De middeleeuwen Jean Henri Otto Lucien Marie Pirenne, 1960
