Foster Placements Foster Placements:

Quality Care for Tough Kids James A. Walsh, Roberta A. Walsh, 1990 Based on three comprehensive studies of underachieving children in The Casey Family Program this important work uncovers those factors that influence stable foster placements through the extensive use of correlational methods including personal and demographic characteristics child's responses to threat family history serious risk factors placement history and present situation foster family characteristics placement breakdown factors and caseworker's orientation Foster Placements Ian Sinclair, Kate Wilson, Ian Gibbs, 2005 Based on exhaustive research the authors discuss the primary concerns in foster placement planning By monitoring and describing the individual characteristics of the child within their placement we are able to discover what types of support are most beneficial Sibling Groups in Foster Care California. Department of Social Services. Foster Care Branch, 1997

Away From Home Sarah Fathallah, Sarah Sullivan, 2021-07-21 Institutional placements in foster care are out of home non family placements where some foster youth are sent to live Each year of the hundreds of thousands of youth in foster care over 43 000 live in institutional placements These placements disproportionately impact Black youth other youth of color older youth and pregnant and parenting teens Due to calls to reckon with longstanding institutionalized racism the spread of COVID 19 through institutions concern over the use of forceful restraints emerging research on trauma and the recent death of 16 year old Cornelius Fredericks in a Michigan group home there is a growing body of research and a movement calling for the reduction or elimination of institutional placements in foster care Missing from this conversation was a deep nuanced understanding of the experiences and mental models of young people who have recently lived in these places This study exists to fill that gap From Child Abuse to Foster Care Richard P. Barth, Mark E. Courtney, Jill Duerr Berrick, Vicki N. Albert, 2017-07-12 More than two million child abuse reports are filed annually on behalf of children in the United States Each of the reported children becomes a concern at least temporarily of the professional who files the report and each family is assessed by additional professionals A substantial number of children in these families will subsequently enter foster care Until now the relationships between the performance of our child welfare system and the growth and outcomes of foster care have not been understood In an effort to clarify them Barth and his colleagues have synthesized the results of their longitudinal study in California of the paths taken by children after the initial abuse report foster care a return to their homes or placement for adoption Because of the outcomes of child welfare services in California have national significance this is far more than a regional study It provides a comprehensive picture of children's experiences in the child welfare system and a gauge of the effectiveness of that system The policy implications of the California study have bearing on major federal and state initiatives to prevent child abuse and reduce unnecessary foster and group home care Creating Stable Foster Placements Alyson Rees, Andrew Pithouse, 2014-11-21 What are the key ingredients for long lasting foster care placements In this study the lives and routines of 10 foster families considered to be providers of effective and lasting care are examined

Featuring original research the type of care that these families provide and the reason for their success is analysed

Foster Care United States. General Accounting Office,1993 Избранное Анна Андреевна Ахматова,Николай Васильевич Банников,1974 Foster Care and Families Ruth Hubbell McKey,1981 Spreading the wings of Foster Care , Success and Failure in Permanent Family Placement June Thoburn,1990 Child-Centred Foster Care Annabel Goodyer,2011-08-15 This book sets out a child centred approach to foster care which argues against thinking about children purely from a psychological perspective and instead places children s views rights and needs at the centre of care It sets out the theory behind working with children who are fostered and discusses children s views about the fostering system

Team Parenting for Children in Foster Care Jeanette Caw,Judy Sebba,2013-11-21 Team Parenting is a unique model of supporting children in care which involves foster carers and professionals working together to create stable and therapeutic foster placements This book describes the model s key principles and interventions and includes ideas that will inform and improve foster carers and professionals work in any setting Social Work and Foster Care Helen Cosis Brown,2014-02-17 Working with children in foster care is a demanding and rigorous aspect of social work practice Difficult decisions in fast moving and often complex situations have to be made and for students and practitioners alike there is a vast array of legislation law and social policy to understand This book is written to help social workers and social work students get to grips with the complexity of foster care The child is placed at the heart of the text and there are substantial chapters on law policy frameworks and the overreaching theoretical and research evidence to support good practice There is also a strong focus on practical skills such as empathy and relationship based practice This is an essential text for experienced social workers or those currently in training What Works in Foster Care? Peter J. Pecora,2010 The Northwest Foster Care Alumni Study found that quality foster care services for children pay big dividends when they grow up Key investments in highly trained staff low caseloads and robust complementary services can dramatically reduce rates of mental disorders and substance abuse This book offers a model foster care programme The Adequacy of Foster Care Allowances Nina Oldfield,2019-07-23 First published in 1997 this timely examination of allowances paid to foster carers demonstrates clear evidence that the nature of foster care is changing The degree of difficulty in caring for the average child is greater than ever before making the tasks asked of carers more demanding and skilful The fostering allowances were subject to five tests of adequacy Evidence showed that allowances have maintained their value over time and were adequate to meet the normal costs of child rearing but not the extra or indirect costs of fostering Moreover a unique cross national study of payments uncovered that Britain has lower levels of allowance than more than half the 15 countries examined This book contributes to the debate on the measurement of living standards It uses budget standard methodology to estimate the cost of a child living a modest but adequate lifestyle in the 1990s Children in Foster Care James Barber,Paul Delfabbro,Robyn Gilbertson,2004-08-02 Researchers practitioners journalists and politicians increasingly recognise that foster care throughout the world is in a state of crisis There are more and more children needing care and as residential alternatives dry up more of these children are being assigned to foster families This book reports the major findings of a two year longitudinal study of 235 such children who entered the foster care system in Southern Australia between 1998 and 1999 As well as examining the changing policy context of children s services the book documents the psychosocial outcomes for these children their feedback on their experiences of care and the views of their social workers and carers In the process the book examines some cherished beliefs about foster care policy and sheds new light on them The research reveals that while most children do quite well in foster care up to the two year point there is a worrying amount of placement instability at a time when the concentration of emotionally troubled children in care is increasing throughout the western world Although surprisingly placement instability does not appear to produce psychosocial impairment for a period of up to eight months in care it has an extreme effect on children who are moved from placement to placement because no carer will tolerate their behaviour These children are consigned to a life of distribution and emotional upheaval because of the lack of alternative forms of care Another unexpected finding of the research is that increasing the rate of parental contact achieves little or nothing in relation to the likelihood of family reunification As child welfare increasingly enters a world of research based practice Children in Foster Care provides some much needed hard evidence of how foster care policy and practice can be improved Fostering Now Ian Sinclair, 2005-05-14 This book identifies the most significant challenges currently faced by foster care and draws out the key messages for policy and practice It offers important insights into the state of foster care today and suggests how it can be improved in future This book is essential reading for social workers policy makers academics and foster carers How Does Foster Care Work? Elizabeth Fernandez, Richard Barth, 2011-01-15 How Does Foster Care Work is an international collection of empirical studies on the outcomes of children in foster care Drawing on research and perspectives from leading international figures in children s services across the developed world the book provides an evidence base for programme planning policy and practice Foster Care and Best Interests of the Child Sarah A. Font, Elizabeth T. Gershoff, 2020-03-09 This brief examines the U S foster care system and seeks to explain why the foster care system functions as it does and how it can be improved to serve the best interest of children It defines and evaluates key challenges that undermine child safety and well being in the current foster care system Chapters highlight the competing values and priorities of the system as well as the pros and cons for the use of foster care In addition chapters assess whether the performance objectives in which states are evaluated by the federal government are sufficient to achieve positive health and well being outcomes for children who experience foster care Finally it offers recommendations for improving the system and maximizing positive outcomes Topics featured in this brief include Legal aspects of removal and placement of children in foster care The effectiveness of prior efforts to reform foster care The regulation and quality of foster homes Support for youth aging out of the foster care system Racial and ethnic disparities in the foster care system Foster Care and the Best
