Copyright Office, 1910      Objects in Air Margareta Ingrid Christian, 2021-06-07 Margareta Ingrid Christian unpacks the ways in which around 1900 art scholars critics and choreographers wrote about the artwork as an actual object in real time and space surrounded and fluently connected to the viewer through the very air we breathe Theorists such as Aby Warburg Alois Riegl Rainer Maria Rilke and the choreographer Rudolf Laban drew on the science of their time to examine air as the material space surrounding an artwork establishing its milieu atmosphere or environment Christian explores how the artwork s external space was seen to work as an aesthetic category in its own right beginning with Rainer Maria Rilke s observation that Rodin s sculpture exhales an atmosphere and that Cezanne s colors create a calm silken air that pervades the empty rooms where the paintings are exhibited Writers created an early theory of unbounded form that described what Christian calls an artwork s ecstasis or its ability to stray outside its limits and engender its own space Objects viewed in this perspective complicate the now fashionable discourse of empathy aesthetics the attention to self projecting subjects and the idea of the modernist self contained artwork For example Christian invites us to historicize the immersive spatial installations and environments that have arisen since the 1960s and to consider their origins in turn of the twentieth century aesthetics Throughout this beautifully written work Christian offers ways for us to rethink entrenched narratives of aesthetics and modernism and to revisit alternatives      The Art of Being Jewish in Modern Times Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett, Jonathan Karp, 2008 This richly illustrated volume illuminates how the arts have helped Jews confront the challenges of modernity There truly is an art to being Jewish in the modern world or alternatively an art to being modern in the Jewish world and this collection fully captures its range diversity and historical significance      Anglo-German Interactions in the Literature of the 1890s Patrick Bridgwater, 2017-12-02 This is a study of what the main aesthetic writers of late 19th century Britain made of German literature and of how Germany in turn reacted to them The impact of Anglo Scottish art nouveau in fin de siecle Austria and Germany made it predictable that Keats Pater and Rossetti among others would be well received but no one could have known in advance that by the time of their deaths Swinburne and Wilde would be more highly regarded in Germany than in Britain Bridgwater s documented study casts light on the central cultural issues of the day including ideas of morality truth and subjectivism in art comparing Pater and Wilde with Nietzsche and George Moore that chameleon of the decadent 90s with Schopenhauer      The Art Journal ,1893 Vol for 1867 includes Illustrated catalogue of the Paris Universal Exhibition      Representing the Past in the Art of the Long Nineteenth Century Matthew C. Potter, 2021-09-30 This edited collection explores the intersection of historical studies and the artistic representation of the past in the long nineteenth century The case studies provide not just an account of the pursuit of history in art within Western Europe but also examples from beyond that sphere These cover canonical and conventional examples of history painting as well as more inclusive popular and vernacular visual cultural phenomena General themes explored include the problematics internal to the theory and practice of academic history painting and historical genre painting including compositional devices and the authenticity of artefacts depicted relationships of power and purpose in historical art the use of historical art for alternative Liberal and authoritarian ideals the international cross fertilisation of ideas about historical art and exploration of the diverse influences of socioeconomic and geopolitical factors This book will be of particular interest to scholars of the histories of nineteenth century art and culture
