The Nazi occupation of the Netherlands in World War II followed a complex course whose scope is not widely understood. It was a great deal broader and more varied than the much reported German counter espionage success against Dutch agents parachuted in by the Special Operations Executive. From spring 1943 onwards three Dutch Resistance organizations gained momentum: the Order Service (OD), the Resistance Council (RVV) and the National Assault Teams (LKP). In response the Germans raised collaborationist forces to counter the Resistance, including the much feared Landwacht. In September 1944 the OD, RVV and LKP amalgamated into the Netherlands Interior Forces (NBS) while Allied troops began to liberate the southern provinces. This allowed NBS forces in the south to form Stoottroepen, uniformed and armed by both the British and US armies. These assisted the Allied advance while a bloody underground struggle continued in the occupied north until final liberation in April-May 1945. Illustrated with rare photos and new colour plates, this book gives a comprehensive account of one of the lesser known struggles of World War II.

Crime, Histoire et Sociétés, 1998/1 ,     The Sorrows of Belgium Martin Conway, 2012-01-12

The liberation of Belgium by Allied troops in September 1944 marked the end of a harsh German Occupation but also the beginning of a turbulent and decisive period in the history of the country. There would be no easy transition to peace. Instead the rival political forces of King Leopold III and his supporters, the former government in exile in London, and the Resistance movements which had emerged during the Occupation confronted each other in a bitter struggle for political ascendancy. The subsequent few years were dominated by an almost continual air of political and social crisis as Resistance demonstrations, strikes and protests for and against the King appeared to threaten civil war and the institutional dissolution of the country. And yet by 1947 a certain stability had been achieved: the Resistance groups had been marginalised, the Communist Party was excluded from government, the King languished in unwilling exile in Switzerland, and most tangibly the pre-war political parties and the parliamentary political regime had been restored. In this substantial contribution to the history of the liberation era in Europe, Martin Conway provides the first account based on substantial new archival material of this process of political normalisation which provided the basis for the integration of Belgium into the post-war West European political order. That success, however, came at a cost: the absence of any substantial political reform after the Second World War exacerbated the tensions between the different social classes, linguistic communities and regions within Belgium, providing the basis for the gradual unravelling of the Belgian nation state which occurred over the second half of the twentieth century.

The Legacy of Nazi Occupation Pieter Lagrou, 1999-02-13

This volume in the Studies in the Social and Cultural History of Modern Warfare series examines how France, Belgium and the Netherlands emerged from the military collapse and humiliating Nazi occupation they suffered during the Second World War. Rather than traditional armed conflict, the human consequences of Nazi policies were resistance, genocide and labour migration to Germany. Pieter Lagrou offers a genuinely comparative approach to these issues based on extensive archival research; he underlines the divergence between ambiguous experiences of occupation and the univocal post-war patriotic narratives which followed. His book reveals striking differences in political cultures as well as close convergence in the creation of a common Western European discourse and uncovers disturbing aspects of the aftermath of the war including post war antisemitism and the marginalisation of resistance veterans Brilliantly researched and fluently written this book will be of central interest to all scholars and students of twentieth century European history Reappraising the History of the Jews in the Netherlands Hans Blom, David J. Wertheim, Hetty Berg, Bart T. Wallet, 2021-09-15 The two decades since the last authoritative general history of Dutch Jews was published have seen such substantial developments in historical understanding that new assessment has become an imperative This volume offers an indispensable survey from a contemporary viewpoint that reflects the new preoccupations of European historiography and allows the history of Dutch Jewry to be more integrated with that of other European Jewish histories Historians from both older and newer generations shed significant light on all eras providing fresh detail that reflects changed emphases and perspectives In addition to such traditional subjects as the Jewish community's relationship with the wider society and its internal structure its leaders and its international affiliations new topics explored include the socio economic aspects of Dutch Jewish life seen in the context of the integration of minorities more widely a reassessment of the Holocaust years and consideration of the place of Holocaust memorialization in community life and the impact of multiculturalist currents on Jews and Jewish politics Memory studies diaspora studies postcolonial studies and digital humanities all play their part in providing the fullest possible picture This wide ranging scholarship is complemented by a generous plate section with eighty fully captioned colour illustrations Translated by David McKay Bijdragen tot de geschiedenis van de Tweede Wereldoorlog 7 Navorsings- en studiecentrum voor de geschiedenis van de Tweede Wereldoorlog, 1982 The Allied Defense of the Malay Barrier, 1941-1942 Tom Womack, 2015-12-01 Though few realize it the Netherlands East Indies were the object of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor in December 1941 Likewise their invasions of Guam Wake Island and the Philippines were mainly diversionary operations to safeguard their main assault on Dutch and British colonies Since the end of World War I Japan had coveted the vast East Indies oil reserves and the colony had feared invasion since Germany overran Holland in May 1940 Isolated politically the weakly defended archipelago was a tempting prize The East Indies government initially maintained a strict policy of neutrality while desperately working to build up its military strength As Japanese actions pushed the region toward war the Dutch reluctantly embraced closer ties with America and Britain For a brief period the East Indies were key players in Pacific War strategy This book details for the first time in English the Dutch prewar strategy their efforts to counter Japanese espionage and their sizable though largely forgotten military contribution in the early months of the Pacific War Wartime Schooling and Education Policy in the Second World War Sarah Van Ruyskensvelde, 2016-08-18 This book deals with the development of private secondary schooling during the Second World War in Belgium It focuses on how the German occupier used education to gain acceptance of the regime and discusses the attitudes of Belgian education authorities schools teachers and pupils towards the German occupation Suggesting that the occupation forced Belgian education authorities such as the Roman Catholic Church to take certain positions the book explores the wartime experiences and memories of pupils and teachers It explains that the German Culture Department was relatively weak in establishing total control over education and that Catholic schools were able to maintain their education project during the war However the book also reveals that in some cases the German occupation did not need total control over education in order to find support for some authoritarian ideas As such Van Ruyskenvelde s analysis presents a nuanced view of the image of the Catholic Church schools teachers and pupils as mere victims of war

Dutch Racism Philomena Essed, Isabel Hoving, 2014-03-01 Dutch Racism is the first comprehensive study of its kind The approach is unique not comparative but relational in unraveling the legacy of racism in the Netherlands and the former colonies Authors contribute to identifying the complex ways in which racism operates in and beyond the national borders shaped by European and global influences and intersecting with other systems of domination Contrary to common sense beliefs it appears that old fashioned biological notions of race never disappeared At the same time the Netherlands echoes if not leads a wider European trend where offensive statements about Muslims are an everyday phenomenon Dutch Racism challenges readers to question what happens when the moral rejection of racism loses ground The volume captures the layered nature of Dutch racism through a plurality of registers methods and disciplinary approaches from sociology and history to literary analysis art history and psychoanalysis all different elements competing for relevance truth value and explanatory power This range of voices and visions offers illuminating insights in the two closely related questions that organize this book what factors contribute to the complexity of Dutch racism And why is the concept of racism so intensely contested The volume will speak to audiences across the humanities and social sciences and can be used as textbook in undergraduate as well as graduate courses Philomena Essed is professor of Critical Race Gender and Leadership studies Antioch University USA PhD in Leadership and Change Program Her books and edited volumes include Everyday Racism Understanding Everyday Racism Race Critical Theories A Companion to Gender Studies outstanding 2005 CHOICE award and Clones Fakes and Posthumans Cultures of Replication Isabel Hoving is diversity officer at the Leiden University and affiliated with the Department of Film and Literary Studies of Leiden University Her books include In Praise of New Travellers Veranderingen van het alledaagse and several other volumes on migration Caribbean literatures African literature and art In addition to her academic work she is an awarded youth writer

Inventing the Modern Self and John Dewey T. Popkewitz, 2005-12-10 This collection includes original studies from scholars from thirteen nations who explore the epistemic features figured in John Dewey s writings in his discourses on public schooling Pragmatism was one of the weapons used in the struggles about the development of the child who becomes the future citizen The significance of Dewey in the book is not about Dewey as the messenger of pragmatism but in locating different cultural political and educational terrains in which debates about modernity the modern self and the making of the citizen occurred

The History of the Jews in the Netherlands Hans Blom, R.G. Fuks-Mansfeld, I. Schöffner, 2001-12-01 This acclaimed history of the Jewish role in Dutch society through the ages now available in English considers the internal evolution of the Jewish community as well as the social cultural and economic interaction with the wider population This general survey should appeal to a wide public interested in the history of the Jews of the Netherlands Het Parool

Enterprise in the Period of Fascism in Europe Harold James, 2017-07-05 The essays in this volume consider the involvement of business corporations and of individual businessmen in the politics of the 1930s and 1940s in the move away from the market and also from democracy towards state control and authoritarianism including the massive intervention of the state in property rights How far did businesses attempt to guide this intervention for their own purposes and to what extent did they succeed This debate deals centrally with the role of German business of banks of industrial corporations and of small tradesmen in the Nazi regime An older discussion of how they may have facilitated the Nazi takeover has been supplemented here by an investigation into how they made the regime's policies possible and the extent to which the profit motive drove them to participate with sometimes more sometimes less enthusiasm in the politics of inhumanity Such discussion has been given further impetus by legal action initially in the United States in the form of class action suits on behalf of the victims of Nazism What do such legal and political debates mean for business history What are the current responsibilities of business facing the consequences of historical action And what lessons should be learned concerning the ethics of business behaviour The contributions to this volume were originally presented as papers at a conference organised by the Society for European Business History in Paris in November 1998

Holocaust Intersections Axel Bangert, 2017-07-05 Recent representations of the Holocaust have increasingly required us to think beyond rigid demarcations of nation and history medium and genre Holocaust Intersections sets out to investigate the many points of conjunction between these categories in recent images of genocide The book examines transnational constellations in Holocaust cinema and television in Europe disclosing instances of border crossing and boundary troubling at levels of production distribution and reception It highlights intersections between film genres through intertextuality and pastiche and the deployment of audiovisual Holocaust memory and testimony Finally the volume addresses connections between the Holocaust and other histories of genocide in the visual culture of the new millennium engaging with the questions of transhistoricity and intercultural perspective Drawing on a wide variety of different media from cinema and television to installation art and the internet and on the most recent scholarship on responses to the Holocaust the volume aims to update our understanding of how visual culture looks at the Holocaust and genocide today With the contributions Robert S C Gordon Axel Bangert Libby Saxton Introduction Emiliano Perra Between National and Cosmopolitan 21st Century Holocaust Television in Britain France and Italy Judith Keilbach Title to be announced Laura Rascaroli Transits Thinking at the Junctures of Images in Harun Farocki's Respite and Arnaud des Pallières's Drancy Avenir Maxim Silverman Haneke and the Camps Barry Langford Globalising the Holocaust Fantasies of Annihilation in Contemporary Media Culture Ferzina
