Getting Off Robert Jensen, 2007 Does porn make the man Contemporary Women Writers Look Back Alice Ridout, 2011-01-13 Long before John Barth announced in his famous 1967 essay that late 20th century fiction was The Literature of Exhaustion authors have been retelling and recycling stories Barth was however right to identify in postmodern fiction a particular self consciousness about its belatedness at the end of a long literary tradition This book traces the move in contemporary women s writing from the self conscious ironic parodies of postmodernism to the nostalgic and historical turn of the 21st century It analyses how contemporary women writers deal with their literary inheritances offering an illuminating and provocative study of contemporary women writers re writings of previous texts and stories Through close readings of novels by key contemporary women writers including Toni Morrison Doris Lessing Margaret Atwood Zadie Smith Emma Tennant and Helen Fielding and of the ITV adaptation Lost in Austen Alice Ridout examines the politics of parody and nostalgia exploring the limitations and possibilities of both in the contexts of feminism and postcolonialism Destabilising Manhood and Masculinity Bob Pease, 2025-07-01 This book addresses the debate within feminism and critical studies of men and masculinities on whether men should be encouraged to develop alternative masculinities or whether they should be challenged to renounce masculinity altogether It argues that men have to move beyond the illusion of masculinity to address their habitual ways of relating that reinforce dominance and oppression and instead foster subjectivities that are multiple and fluid Tracing the nature of the problem associated with men masculinity and gender Pease examines the implications of feminist engagements with Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari to explore the possibilities of destabilising and moving beyond manhood and masculinity The book will be of interest to scholars in Sociology Psychology Social Work and Environmental and Gender Studies especially as they relate to critical studies of men and masculinities Getting It, Having It, Keeping It Up Beth Montemurro, 2021-12-10 When straight men talk to each other about their sex lives they often boast about sexual exploits and brag about the hot women they have slept with Yet this competitive bluster covers up deep seated anxieties about measuring up to impossibly virile cultural ideals of masculinity So how do straight men really feel about sex women and manhood and how do those feelings clash with their public performance of manliness This landmark sociological study emerges from in depth interviews with nearly one hundred straight American men aged 20 to 68 from a variety of socioeconomic and ethnic backgrounds Getting It Having It Keeping It Up examines how these men use sex with women as a way of affirming their manhood and how they view themselves as failures when they are unable to score It also explores the effects of aging and erectile dysfunction on the men s self image However the life stories collected here are not just about performance anxiety as this research reveals ways that some straight men have resisted masculine cultural scripts to form mutually nurturing relationships with women The Nature of Masculinity Steve Garlick, 2016-10-11 Social theorists have argued that as the complexity of our ecosystems becomes more apparent the line between nature and culture human and nonhuman and technology and bodies becomes less distinct Yet contemporary masculinity studies has generally failed to incorporate this new way of thinking In this penetrating analysis of the relationship between gender and nature Steve Garlick proposes that masculinity is best understood as a technology that shapes both our engagement with the natural world and how we define freedom Extending the work of the Frankfurt School and Heidegger s critique of modern technology The Nature of Masculinity draws on case studies and new materialist theories to argue that the essence of technology is not in mechanical devices but in a particular relationship to natural forces Within this critical framework masculinity is a technology of embodiment and freedom does not lie in the domination of nature but rather in fostering a new relation to it

An Inconvenient Apocalypse Wes Jackson, Robert Jensen, 2022-09-01 Confronting harsh ecological realities and the multiple cascading crises facing our world today An Inconvenient Apocalypse argues that humanity s future will be defined not by expansion but by contraction For decades our world has understood that we are on the brink of an apocalypse and yet the only implemented solutions have been small and convenient feel good initiatives that avoid unpleasant truths about the root causes of our impending disaster Wes Jackson and Robert Jensen argue that we must reconsider the origins of the consumption crisis and the challenges we face in creating a survivable future Longstanding assumptions about economic growth and technological progress the dream of a future of endless bounty are no longer tenable The climate crisis has already progressed beyond simple or nondisruptive solutions The end result will be apocalyptic the only question now is how bad it will be Jackson and Jensen examine how geographic determinism shaped our past and led to today s social injustice consumerist culture and high energy high technology dystopias The solution requires addressing today s systemic failures and confronting human nature by recognizing the limits of our ability to predict how those failures will play out over time Though these massive challenges can feel overwhelming Jackson and Jensen weave a secular reading of theological concepts the prophetic the apocalyptic a saving remnant and grace to chart a collective realistic path for humanity not only to survive our apocalypse but also to emerge on the other side with a renewed appreciation of the larger living world The
