Following the Brush John Elder, 2000 Following the Brush John Elder, 1994-03-01 An American professor recounts the year that he and his family lived in Kyoto Japan discussing his experiences with an elementary school a calligraphy class a Go club and Noh acting Following the Brush John Elder, 1993 Following the Brush is the engaging story of an American's experience as a student and observer of traditional Japanese culture A professor of English John Elder lived for a year with his family in Kyoto As a cultural outsider and devoted amateur Elder brings a distinctive and sympathetic eye to arts and institutions that are as the author points out peopled by Japanese who are these days themselves outsiders in an important sense lovers of pursuits which have been swirled off into eddies by the velocity of the economic mainstream Elder's portraits are detailed and dramatic In the title essay the author submits to the traditional Japanese approach to learning shodo or calligraphy week after week he patiently returns to class until at the end we can all see quite clearly the outlines of a world that blossoms from the ink We are given an insider's look at a Japanese elementary school attended by all three of the author's children that is both startling and admiring There is a beautifully drawn portrait of a Noh actor one of the very few women to establish herself at the highest professional level a woman pretending to be a man pretending to be a woman Elder describes the sisterhood of Kyoto geishas as they venture out self possessed and superbly eccentric in their errands along the noisy streets of Japan And we watch with fascination as Elder is allowed in as the only foreigner to a traditional Go club where men only pursue the austere beauty and the pure competition of the world's most demanding game Elder's experience as a leading writer on nature leads him also to reflect in other essays on distinctly Japanese attachments to nature and wildness Bashō's Journey Matsuo Bashō, 2010-03-29 In Bash's Journey David Landis Barnhill provides the definitive translation of Matsuo Bash's literary prose as well as a companion piece to his previous translation Bash's Haiku One of the world's greatest nature writers Bash 1644-1694 is well known for his subtle sensitivity to the natural world and his writings have influenced contemporary American environmental writers such as Gretel Ehrlich John Elder and Gary Snyder This volume concentrates on Bash's travel journal literary diary Saga Diary and haibun The premiere form of literary prose in medieval Japan the travel journal described the uncertainty and occasional humor of traveling appreciations of nature and encounters with areas rich in cultural history Haiku poetry often accompanied the prose The literary diary also had a long history with a format similar to the travel journal but with a focus on the place where the poet was living Bash was the first master of haibun short poetic prose sketches that usually included haiku As he did in Bash's Haiku Barnhill arranges the work chronologically in order to show Bash's development as a writer These accessible translations capture the spirit of the original Japanese prose permitting the nature images to hint at the deeper meaning in the work Barnhill's introduction presents an overview of Bash's prose and discusses the significance of nature in this literary form while also noting Bash's significance to contemporary American literature and environmental thought Excellent notes clearly annotate the
