Food Film And Culture A Genre Study:

Food, Film and Culture James R. Keller, 2014-11-04 Culinary imagery much like sexual and violent imagery is a key cinematic device used to elicit a sensory response from an audience In many films culinary imagery is central enough to constitute a new subgenre defined by films in which food production preparation service and consumption play a major part in the development of character structure or theme This book defines the food film genre and analyzes the relationship between cinematic food imagery and various cultural constructs including politics family identity race ethnicity nationality gender and religion Chapters examine these themes in several well known food films such as The Cook the Thief His Wife and Her Lover Chocolat Babette's Feast and Eat Drink Man Woman and lesser known productions including Felicia's Journey Kitchen Stories Magic Kitchen and Chinese Feast The work includes a filmography of movies within the food genre

Bower, 2012-08-06 Reel Food is the first book devoted to food as a vibrant and evocative element of film featuring original essays by major food studies scholars among them Carole Counihan and Michael Ashkenazi This collection reads various films through their uses of food from major food films like Babette's Feast and Big Night to less obvious choices including The Godfather trilogy and The Matrix The contributors draw attention to the various ways in which food is employed to make meaning in film In some cases such as Soul Food and Tortilla Soup for example food is used to represent racial and ethnic identities In other cases such as Chocolat and Like Water for Chocolate food plays a role in gender and sexual politics And of course there is also discussion of the centrality of popcorn to the movie going experience This book is a feast for scholars foodies and cinema buffs It will be of major interest to anyone working in popular culture film studies and food studies at both the undergraduate and graduate level Food on Film

Tom Hertweck, 2014-10-30 From early cinematic depictions of food as a symbol of ethnic and cultural identity to more complex contemporary portrayals movies have demonstrated how our ideas about food are always changing On the big and small screens representations of addiction starvation and even food as fetish reinforce how important food is in our lives and in our culture In Food on Film Bringing Something New to the Table Tom Hertweck brings together innovative viewpoints about a popular yet understudied subject in cinema This collection explores the pervasiveness of food in film from movies in which meals play a starring role to those that feature food and eating in supporting or cameo appearances The volume asks provocative questions about food and its relationship with work urban life sexual orientation the family race morality and a wide range of appetites The fourteen essays by international interdisciplinary scholars offer a wide range of perspectives on such films and television shows as The Color Purple Do the Right Thing Ratatouille The Road Sex and the City Twin Peaks and even Jaws From first course to last Food on Film will be of interest to scholars of film and television sociology anthropology and cultural history Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken Albala, 2013-05-07

Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia Scholars are increasingly using foodways food systems and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students scholars and all those interested in food related research a one stop easy to use reference guide Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions resources for research including archives grants and fellowship opportunities as well as suggestions for further study Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies This clear direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food related project Strongly interdisciplinary this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities Dining with Madmen Thomas Fahy, 2019-02-13

In Dining with Madmen Fat Food and the Environment in 1980s Horror author Thomas Fahy explores America's preoccupation with body weight processed foods and pollution through the lens of horror Conspicuous consumption may have communicated success in the eighties but only if it did not become visible on the body American society had come to view fatness as a horrifying transformation it exposed the potential harm of junk food gave life to the promises of workout and diet culture and represented the country's worst consumer impulses inviting questions about the personal and environmental consequences of excess While changing into a vampire or a zombie often represented widespread fears about addiction and overeating it also played into concerns about pollution Ozone depletion acid rain and toxic waste already demonstrated the irrevocable harm being done to the planet The horror genre from A Nightmare on Elm Street to American Psycho responded by presenting this damage as an urgent problem and through the sudden violence of killers vampires and zombies it depicted the consequences of inaction as terrifying Whether through Hannibal Lecter's cannibalism a vampire's thirst for blood in The Queen of the Damned and The Lost Boys or an overwhelming number of zombies in George Romero's Day of the Dead 1980s horror uses out of control hunger to capture deep seated concerns about the physical and material consequences of unchecked consumption Its presentation of American appetites resonated powerfully for audiences preoccupied with body size food choices and pollution And its use of bodily change alongside the bloodlust of killers and the desolate landscapes of apocalyptic fiction demanded a recognition of the potentially horrifying impact of consumerism on nature society and the self

The Sacred Foodways of Film Antonio D. Sison, 2016-02-18 The Sacred Foodways of Film explores the ways by which the portrayal of food in film offers creative spaces for theological insight From the Oprah Winfrey and Steven Spielberg produced title The Hundred Foot Journey 2014 to the Oscar Best Foreign Language Film winner from Japan Departures 2008 eleven diverse films invite us to taste and see the mutually enriching blend of food and faith depicted onscreen Smithsonian magazine describes the last two decades as The Era of Crazy Oral Gratification The explosion of interest in food culture what is touted as the foodie revolution is evident across media platforms in the United States as well as in many other parts of the world Curiously there has not been a book specifically dedicated to the confluence of theology religion and food films The Sacred Foodways of Film is a timely contribution to this fascinating area of interest that has long been simmering on the stovetop of scholarship

Food, Media and Contemporary Culture Peri Bradley, 2016-01-26 Food Media and Contemporary Culture is designed to interrogate the cultural fascination with food as the focus of a growing number of visual texts that reveal the deep psychological relationship that each of us has with rituals of preparing presenting and consuming food and images of food

What's Eating You? Cynthia J. Miller, A. Bowdoin Van Riper, 2017-02-23 Divided into four thematic sections What's Eating You explores the deeper significance of food on screen the ways in which they reflect or challenge our deepest fears about consuming and being consumed Among the questions it asks are How do these films mock our taboos and unsettle our notions about the human condition How do they critique our increasing focus on consumption In what ways do they hold a mirror to our taken for granted beliefs about food and humanity asking if what we eat truly matters Horror narratives routinely grasp those questions and spin them into nightmares Monstrous others dine on forbidden fare the tables of consumption are turned and the consumer becomes the consumed Overindulgence as Le Grande Bouffe 1973 and Street Trash 1987 warn can kill us and occasionally as films like The Stuff 1985 and Poultrygeist 2006 illustrate our food fights back From Blood Feast 1963 to Sweeney Todd 2007 motion pictures have reminded us that it is an eat or be eaten world Consuming Gothic Lorna Piatti-Farnell, 2017-03-10 This book offers a critical analysis of the relationship between food and horror in post 1980 cinema Evaluating the place of consumption within cinematic structures Piatti Farnell analyses how seemingly ordinary foods are re evaluated in the Gothic framework of irrationality and desire The complicated and often ambiguous relationship between food and horror draws important and inescapable connections to matters of disgust hunger abjection violence as well as the sensationalisation of transgressive corporeality and monstrous pleasures By looking at food consumption within Gothic cinema the book uncovers eating as a metaphorical activity of the self where the haunting psychology of the everyday the porous boundaries of the body and the uncanny limits of consumer identity collide Aimed at scholars researchers and students of the field Consuming Gothic charts different manifestations of food and horror in film while identifying specific socio political and cultural anxieties of contemporary life The Deep End of South Park Leslie Stratyner, James R. Keller, 2014-01-10 No American television show of the past decade has been vilified as has Comedy Central's South Park This is the show that has featured in turn a nine year old boy enmeshed in an affair with Ben Affleck a maniacal Mel Gibson smearing feces everywhere and the misadventures of Mr Hankey the Christmas Poo a talking bouncing singing piece of poop While it's not always an exercise in good taste South Park is a socially significant satire that has also devoted entire episodes to interpretations of Great Expectations Ken Burns Civil War and Hamlet This volume explores the popularity and cultural relevance of South Park and its place as an artistically and politically worthy satire Asian American Film Festivals Erin Franziska Högerle, 2020-10-26 Responding to a lack of studies on the film festival's role in the production of cultural memory this book explores different parameters through which film festivals shape our reception and memories of films By focusing on two Asian American film festivals this book analyzes the frames of memory that festivals create for their films constructed through and circulated by the various festival media It further establishes that festival locations both cities and screening venues play a significant role in shaping our experience of films Finally it shows that festivals produce performances which help guide audiences towards certain readings and direct the film's role as a memory object Bringing together film festival studies and memory studies Asian American Film Festivals offers a mixed methods approach with which to explore the film festival phenomenon thus shedding light on the complex dynamics of frames locations and performances shaping the festival's memory practices It also draws attention to the understudied genre of Asian American film festivals showing how these festivals actively engage in constructing and performing a minority group's collective identity and memory Fantasy Fiction into Film Leslie Stratyner, James R. Keller, 2015-01-21 This work examines the symbolism of fantasy fiction literal and figurative representation in fantastic film adaptations and the imaginative differences between page and screen Essays focus on movies adapted from various types of fantasy fiction novels short stories and graphic novels and study the transformation and literal translation from text to film in the Lord of the Rings The Chronicles of Narnia Charlie and the Chocolate Factory Howl s Moving Castle Finding Neverland The Wizard of Oz Wicked and Practical Magic Masks in Horror Cinema Alexandra Heller-Nicholas,2019-10-15 First critical exploration of the history and endurance of masks in horror cinema Written by an established award winning author with a strong reputation for research in both academia and horror fans Interdisciplinary study that incorporates not only horror studies and cinema studies but also utilises performance studies anthropology Gothic studies literary studies and folklore studies Diaspora and Cultural Negotiations Shilpa Daithota Bhat,2022-03-30 Diaspora and Cultural Negotiations The Films of Gurinder Chadha explores critical and theoretical conceptualizations of identity globalization intersectionality and diaspora among other topics in the films of Gurinder Chadha This book argues that Chadha s work offers relevant and sensitive portrayals of the members of the diaspora community that make these films of contemporary and enduring value highlighting their challenges in hybridization and acculturation in the societies they migrate to and the historical and political exigencies that influence their everyday existence Contributors analyze Chadha s films in the context of cultural milieus including multiculturalism narration and representation ethnicity literary adaptation and intercultural negotiations while also exploring Chadha s own role as an auteur Scholars of film studies Indian cinema diaspora studies sociology and cultural studies will find this book particularly useful Shakespeare on Screen: King Lear Victoria Bladen,Sarah Hatchuel,Nathalie Vienne-Guerrin,2019-09-26 An up to date survey of Shakespeare s King Lear on screen and the aesthetic social and political issues raised by screen versions

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
