Sahbi Hidri,2018-01-12 This book presents an overview of revisiting the assessment of language abilities It also showcases

how the measurement of such constructs can result in negative or positive washback and how outcomes might be conducive to repercussions that decide on the future of many stakeholders The 23 chapters were selected among tens of chapters received from different contexts that addressed the issue of revisiting the assessment of language abilities such as Tunisia Ukraine Algeria Russia KSA Sudan Egypt Canada Kurdistan UK USA Iran Turkey etc These contexts have highlighted the necessity to revisit the different constructs which should be assessed with a clear and straightforward foundation on students learning objectives and their actual language ability To do so most of the chapters present hands on use of relevant statistical tests that might serve in revisiting the construct definition both theoretically and operationally Perhaps the sole and intricate question that the authors of these contributions ask is what it means to revisit the assessment of the construct of individualized language ability and how In addition the book accentuates the momentousness and significance of reflecting on test fairness and validation as the mainspring and backbone for democratization of assessment This book appeals to a broad readership such as English Language Teaching ELT practitioners language teachers students testing organizations policy makers test designers writers of test specifications testing experts researchers program evaluators especially in the Middle East and North Africa MENA as well as other international contexts

Abstracts of Theses and Dissertations in Education Indiana University. School of Education,1927 The psychology of learning Edward Lee Thorndike,1913

Educational Psychology: The psychology of learning Edward Lee Thorndike,1921 Stem, steam, computational thinking and coding: Evidence-based research and practice in children's development Stamatios Papadakis,Michail Kalogiannakis,Ali Ibrahim Can Gözümlü,2023-03-13 Connecting Physics Education Research and Practice Italo Testa,Marisa Michelini,Salvatore Esposito,2025-08-15 This book presents a selection of the most recent research results from the Italian physics education research community aimed at enhancing the teaching and learning of physics The motivation for this publication arises from the lack of a comprehensive reference for teachers on research results in physics education Despite various physics curriculum reform initiatives such as the introduction of modern physics into high school curricula their effectiveness in improving the quality of physics teaching in schools has been limited The book offers a contextualized view of the main topics in physics education along with a comprehensive overview of the current challenges faced by physics education in Italy and abroad It also presents research findings that could potentially enhance students learning of physics Throughout the book the implications of these studies are outlined acknowledging issues and knowledge gaps that will guide future research in physics education Specifically rather than covering all the contents addressed in the physics curriculum the book presents research contributions that suggest potentially effective strategies methods and practices at different school levels from primary school to secondary school and university level Regarding physics content the book presents teaching proposals highlighting conceptual aspects and exemplary methodologies of interpretation in physics such as the physics of fluids and quantum mechanics It also includes research contributions on different methods and proposals for implementing practical activities reflecting on the role of the laboratory in learning the discipline and providing examples of integrating experimental and cognitive skills The book also addresses the role of affective variables such as physics identity self efficacy and attitudes toward physics in the learning process Additionally studies on teachers professional development are presented which can inform the design of proposals for educational paths and methods within a framework of close collaboration between schools and physics departments Educational Psychology Edward Lee Thorndike,1914

Education Psychology E.L. Thorndike,2013-08-21 This is Volume VIII of thirty two in a series on Developmental Psychology Originally published in 1923 the author writes that our knowledge of human instincts and capacities of the processes of learning and remembering of mental work and fatigue and of individual differences and their causes has been much increased in the past score of years This Briefer Course represents a simpler treatment of the more fundamental subject matter of these volumes organized as a text book in Educational Psychology for students in colleges and schools
