Dean Allen, 2002 L Dean Allen analyzes both groups constructions of masculinity and social ethics in relation to the family the church and a prominent social issue Evangelical Christian leaders designed both organizations in response to their alarm at men's absence from evangelical churches and they sought to increase men's participation in churches and to improve society as a whole by their efforts Each group faced important social changes during its era such as new economic realities women's activities and perceived moral crises Despite their similarities as groups for evangelical Christian men only MRFM and PK developed contrasting constructions of masculinity and divergent social ethical calls for action BOOK JACKET

Why Guys Need God Mike Erre, 2008-01-01 Is the Christian community doing a good job of presenting the message of Jesus in a compelling way to men Women greatly outnumber men in attendance and active participation in American churches Pastor Mike Erre offers a solution for this imbalance a thoroughly biblical and engaging theology of manhood that is missing in many churches today This call to move past cultural definitions of masculinity goes straight to the heart of the issue Creation men and women bear the image of God in unique and surprising ways The fall men cannot experience significance on their own so their lives often feel meaningless and empty Redemption God redeems a man's work his sexuality and his relationships Unmasking unhelpful stereotypes of masculinity this presentation of godly manhood inspires men to more effectively grow in Christ's image and empowers women to understand and encourage the men in their lives
