Women Who Succeed Susan Durbin, 2016-02-16 The number of women in senior management remains stubbornly low Women Who Succeed examines the real life experiences of forty six senior women who have made it into senior management It considers the strategies that these women adopted the support they received and the relationships they formed in building their careers Identity and Agency in England, 1500-1800 J. Barry, H. French, 2004-11-23 This collection of essays is arranged around the central issue raised by a raft of new empirical research the relationship between social identity or the vision of the self and the ways in which this can explain historical agency If identities in early modern society were multiple complex and dependent on context rather than homogenous consistent or easily determined then it is difficult to make simple causal links to behaviour This collection aims to make innovative new research on the structures of English society available to the wider scholarly audience The essays use a number of detailed contextual case studies to explore the twin themes of the nature of identities in early modern society and their role in influencing historical agency They examine the variety of identities available to individuals in early modern England and the ways in which these were invoked and employed

Tafari-Ama, 2017-06-11 Fifth Edition The true story of Blood Bullets and Bodies a critical multimedia expos about the factors subverting the political will to act in the best interest of the poor even when explicit just cause exists for such altruistic action to take place Blood Bullets and Bodies is a strange and paradoxical story that needs to be read as much as it needs to be told It is a riveting story of sex violence political intrigue and survival by any means necessary The book is a literary mirror that provides a revealing and frightening reflection for a self destructing society to see itself profiled in the throes of its own possible demise Sure to stir controversy the new book contains a compelling rendition of the historical circumstances that have made crime and violence bullets blood and dead bodies the number one problem in late 20th and early 21st century Jamaica Despite the historic One Love Peace Concert and the Peace Truce in 1978 young gunmen seem to have gone wild ever since Using a variety of sophisticated methodological tools including literary sources oral interviews ethnographic studies and the lyrics of popular Reggae songs Imani Tafari Ama details the influences and implications of this violent social discourse for everyday performances of femininity and masculinity in Kingston's inner city environment as well as in the wider Jamaican society Tafari Ama's stated objective in publishing her thesis as a book is to separate fact from fiction in order to find real and enduring solutions that will reduce the distressing flood of blood bullets and bodies that is overflowing the streets of Kingston She hopes that by highlighting some of the facts and exposing much of the fiction about life below the poverty line her provocative book will be a catalyst in motivating the political and community willpower necessary to find and implement the real time solutions that she proposes in her suggested Options for Development

EBOOK: Women in Later Life: Exploring Race and Ethnicity Haleh Afshar, Myfanwy Franks, Mary Ann Maynard, Sharon Wray, 2008-05-16 The authors argue that much of the research into later life has neglected ethnic and cultural variation Their aim is to help us to understand what is important in older women's lives across a range of ethnic groups They have certainly achieved this in what is a readable and detailed analysis of their findings Highly recommended Nursing Standard the first book to comprehensively examine the lives of older women from ethnic minorities in the UK as well as non migrant White women The authors draw on extensive qualitative research to provide novel ways of looking at the priorities and concerns of older women providing insights into what enhances their quality of life Mary Maynard and colleagues have written an outstanding book Women in Later Life will be essential reading for students on undergraduate and postgraduate courses on gender ethnicity and later life Sara Arber University of Surrey what is it like to be an older person and particularly an older woman This carefully crafted and wide ranging book seeks to answer this question The book reminds us that age is a social construct one which profoundly disadvantages women For minority ethnic women where this book makes an important contribution to a largely unexplored territory the situation is even more dire The authors have opened up a huge area of policy demonstrating despite the rhetoric of government how badly we treat our elders Professor Gary Craig University of Hull Britain along with other Western and industrialized countries has an ageing population We already live in one of the demographically oldest societies to have ever existed and the population is going to get older By 2020 it is estimated that one third of the population will be aged over 50 Furthermore older women outnumber older men since men tend to die at a younger age than women In the academic mainstream relatively little is known about older women from minority ethnic communities This groundbreaking book is based on interviews and focus groups with women of different backgrounds and ethnicities whose lives illustrate the strength of character and optimism that have often enabled them to live through hard times but who in general view later life positively In seeking to understand the relationships between age gender and ethnicity the authors focus on a number of key themes including Family and networks Health and well being Religion faith and spirituality Income pensions and housing The meaning of identity and life course events Death and dying Women in Later Life will be key reading for students and practitioners with an interest in gender and or issues surrounding later life
