Fragmented Melodies Fragmented Melodies

Linda Cummins

Fragmented Melodies Fragmented Melodies:

Fragmented Melodies Kangsen Feka Wakai, 2007 Fragmented Melodies is a seminal introspective work of exceptional freshness and contemplative diction transmitted in an enriched style that immediately grasps the reader's attention. Between Part I Medusa's Spell and Part IV Homebound the reader is instantly immersed into a multifaceted poetic universe that is both enigmatic and mystifying reminiscent of Jared Angira's Silent Voices. Wakai's personae are inimitable and diverse oftentimes imbued with passionate sensuality despondent lives and brutal nostalgia the nostalgia of prison walls defeated idealism and incarcerated voices yearning for release behind blood smeared prison walls. From Ethiopia to Brazil Kigali to Bamenda from the smoked stained vocal cords in Soweto to the clanging steel doors of the Kondengui maximum security prison in Yaoundé Wakai's poetic voices resonate the sound of traditional drums the cacophony of jazz the isolated acoustic notes of guitar strings and the suffocating stench of the dictator's funeral pyre. The diverse voices in the poems are unified into a single poetic journey of desolation hope idealism lamentation exile and freedom. Babila Mutia Professor of Literature ENS University of Yaoundé 1 Cameroon. Kangsen Wakai's poetic landscape in Fragmented Melodies encompasses all that is human as well as all that defies humanity. The poems cascade from the passionate songs of his heart through defiant rhythms of resistance to songs in distant lands beyond our desecrated shores but in the end Wakai's poetic compass is homebound to amongst common places and common people who affirm the human zeal for music of truth and peace. Yet it is Wakai's imagistic canvass which confirms the birth of a compelling poetic voice in this season of waiting. Joyce Ashuntantang Department of English University of Connecticut USA. With poems like these that are crafted to sound like music to the ears no reader can afford to leave the dance floor. This is indeed the trademark of a new writing that has come to stay. Mwalimu George Ngwane writer and Chairman of National Book Development Council Cameroon a leading voice in the ongoing renaissance of Anglophone Cameroon literature in the Diaspora. Dibussi Tande USA based Journalist and Poet. The lay of the last minstrel. Ballads. Songs. Fragment. Miscellaneous poems. Poetry published in Border Minstrelsy Walter Scott, 1839

Debussy and the Fragment Linda Cummins, 2006-01-01 Rather than solid frames some less than perfect aesthetic objects have permeable membranes which allow them to diffuse effortlessly into the everyday world. In the parallel universes of music and literature Linda Cummins extols the poetry of such imperfection. She places Debussy's work within a tradition thriving on anti-Aristotelian principles motley collections crumbling ruins real or fake monstrous hybrids patchwork and palimpsest hasty sketches ellipses truncated beginnings and endings meandering arabesques irrelevant digressions auto quotations. Sensitive to the intermittences of memory and experience and with a keen ear for ironic intrusion Cummins draws the reader into the Western cultural past in search of the surprisingly ubiquitous aesthetic of the unfinished negatively silhouetted against expectations of rational coherence. Theories popularized by Schlegel and embraced by the French Symbolists are only the first waypoint on an elaborately illustrated tour reaching back to Petrarch. Cummins meticulously applies the derived results to Debussy's scores and finds convincing correlations in this chiasmatic crossover

Music Borrowing and Copyright Law Enrico Bonadio, Chen Wei Zhu, 2023-10-19 This ground breaking book examines the multifaceted dynamics between copyright law and music borrowing within a rich diversity of music genres from across the world. It evaluates how copyright laws under different generic conventions may influence or be influenced by time honoured creative borrowing practices. Leading experts from around the world scrutinise a carefully selected range of musical genres including pop, hip hop, jazz, blues, electronic and dance music as well as a diversity of region specific genres such as Jamaican music, River Plate Tango, Irish folk music, Hungarian folk music, Flamenco, Indian traditional music, Australian indigenous music, Maori music and many others. This genre conscious analysis builds on a theoretical section in which musicologists and lawyers offer their insights into fundamental issues concerning music genre categorisation, the typology of music borrowing and copyright law's ontological struggle with musical borrowing in theory and practice. The chapters are threaded together by a central theme, i.e. that the cumulative nature of music creativity is the result of collective bargaining processes among many musicking parties that have socially constructed creative music authorship under a rich mix of generic conventions.

Clinical Applications of Music Therapy in Developmental Disability, Paediatrics and Neurology Tony Wigram, Jos De Backer, 1999 Reflecting on and developing the applications of music therapy, this collection will help establish effective therapy methods in which the creative use of music is employed by skilled and clinically experienced music therapists in a client oriented interactive process.

May It Fill Your Soul Timothy Rice, 1994-07-13 In this vivid musical ethnography Timothy Rice documents and interprets the history of folk music song and dance in Bulgaria over a seventy year period of dramatic change. From 1920 to 1989 Bulgaria changed from a nearly medieval village society to a Stalinist planned industrial economy to a chaotic mix of capitalist and socialist markets and cultures. In the context of this history Rice brings Bulgarian folk music to life by focusing on the biography of the Varimezov family including the musician Kostadin and his wife Todora, a singer. Combining interviews with his own experiences of learning how to play, sing and dance Bulgarian folk music, Rice presents one of the most detailed accounts of traditional aural learning processes in the ethnomusicological literature. Using a combination of traditionally dichotomous musicological and ethnographic approaches, Rice tells the story of how individual musicians learned their tradition, how they lived it during the pre Communist era of family farming, how the tradition changed with industrialization brought under Communism and finally how it flourished and evolved in the recent unstable political climate. This work, complete with a compact disc and numerous illustrations and musical examples, contributes not only to ethnomusicological theory and method but also to our understanding of Slavic folklore, Eastern European anthropology and cultural processes in Socialist states.

Music Writing Literature, from Sand via Debussy to Derrida Peter Dayan, 2017-07-05 Why does poetry appeal to music? Can music be said to communicate as language does? What between music and poetry is it possible to translate? These fundamental questions have remained obstinately difficult despite the recent burgeoning of word and music studies Peter Dayan contends that the reasons for this difficulty were worked out with extraordinary rigour and consistency in a French literary tradition echoed by composers such as Berlioz and Debussy which stretches from Sand to Derrida Their writing shows how it is both necessary and futile to look for music in poetry or for poetry in music necessary because each art defines itself by reference to what it is not and cannot be in order to point to an idealized totality outside itself futile because the musicality of poetry like the poetic meaning of music must remain as elusive as that idealized totality its distance is the very condition of the art Thus is generated a subtle but unmistakable general definition of the nature of art which has proved uniquely able to survive all the probings of poststructuralism That definition of art is inseparable from a disturbingly effective scepticism towards all forms of explication and explanation in critical discourse so it is doubtless not surprising that critics in general have done their best to ignore it But by bringing out what Sand Baudelaire Mallarmé Proust Debussy Berlioz Barthes and Derrida all do in the same way as they work on the limits of the analogy between music and literature this book shows how it is possible productive illuminating and fascinating to work on those limits though to do so as we find repeatedly in Chopin's dreams as in Derrida's tombeaux requires us to have the courage to face in music our literal death and the limits of our intelligence

Nordic Latin Manuscript Fragments

Åslaug Ommundsen, Tuomas Heikkilä, 2017-07-14 Much of what is known about the past often rests upon the chance survival of objects and texts Nowhere is this better illustrated than in the fragments of medieval manuscripts re-used as bookbindings in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Such fragments provide a tantalizing yet often problematic glimpse into the manuscript culture of the Middle Ages Exploring the opportunities and difficulties such documents provide this volume concentrates on the c 50 000 fragments of medieval Latin manuscripts stored in archives across the five Nordic countries of Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden This large collection of fragments mostly from liturgical works provides rich evidence about European Latin book culture both in general and in specific relation to the far north of Europe one of the last areas of Europe to be converted to Christianity As the essays in this volume reveal individual and groups of fragments can play a key role in increasing and advancing knowledge about the acquisition and production of medieval books and in helping to distinguish locally made books from imported ones Taking an imaginative approach to the source material the volume goes beyond a strictly medieval context to integrate early modern perspectives that help illuminate the pattern of survival and loss of Latin manuscripts through post-Reformation practices concerning reuse of parchment In so doing it demonstrates how the use of what might at first appear to be unpromising source material can offer unexpected and rewarding insights into diverse areas of European history and the history of the medieval book

Melodies of a New Monasticism Craig

Gardiner, 2018-03-09 The New Monastic Movement is a vibrant source of renewal for the church's life and mission Many involved in this movement have quoted Dietrich Bonhoeffer's conviction that the church must recover ancient spiritual disciplines if it is to effectively engage the powers that be Melodies of a New Monasticism adopts a musical metaphor of polyphony the combination of two or more lines of music to articulate the way that these early Christian virtues can be woven together in community Creatively using this imagery this book draws on the theological vision of Bonhoeffer and the contemporary witness of George MacLeod and the Iona Community to explore the interplay between discipleship doctrine and ethics A recurring theme is the idea of Christ as the cantus firmus the fixed song around which people perform the diverse harmonies of God in church and world including worship ecumenism healing peace justice and ecology Music Discovery Daniel J. performances and tribute to Yves Hellegouarch The Routledge Handbook of Music Signification Esti Sheinberg, William P. Dougherty, 2020-03-17 The Routledge Handbook of Music Signification captures the richness and complexity of the field presenting 30 essays by recognized international experts that reflect current interdisciplinary and cross disciplinary approaches to the subject Examinations of music signification have been an essential component in thinking about music for millennia but it is only in the last few decades that music signification has been established as an independent area of study During this time the field has grown exponentially incorporating a vast array of methodologies that seek to ground how music means and to explore what it may mean Research in music signification typically embraces concepts and practices imported from semiotics literary criticism linguistics the visual arts philosophy sociology history and psychology among others By bringing together such approaches in transparent groupings that reflect the various contexts in which music is created and experienced and by encouraging critical dialogues this volume provides an authoritative survey of the discipline and a significant advance in inquiries into music signification This book addresses a wide array of readers from scholars who specialize in this and related areas to the general reader who is curious to learn more about the ways in which music makes sense Metafilm Music in Jean-Luc Godard's Cinema Michael Baumgartner, 2022 Hailed as a leading innovator of visual montage unique storytelling style and ground breaking cinematography Jean Luc Godard is a prominent pioneer in sculpting complex soundtracks altering the familiar relationship between sound and image but his achievements in sound have been largely overlooked Such a lacuna in the extensive research on Godard s work is unfortunate as Godard s lifelong preoccupation of exploring self reflexively all aspects of filmmaking particularly affects film music With the novel approach of metafilm music extrapolated from Jean Luc Godard s oeuvre this book not only closes up a crucial gap in Godard research but also offers detailed analyses of the music as metafilm music in Contempt Alphaville Band of Outsiders Pierrot le fou First Name Carmen Histoire s du cin ma among other films and video productions The innovative scholarly concept of metafilm music enriching the burgeoning field of music in audio visual media describes how Godard thinks about film music with film music This book thus provides a thorough examination of Godard s self reflexive approach to film music which has resulted in a lifelong creation of multi layered soundtracks pushing the envelope of film music and sound to the limit Kitawa

Literary Fragments Giancarlo M. G. Scoditti, 2025-03-31 The Nowau oral texts collected in this volume were recorded by Scoditti during the several years of fieldwork on Kitawa Island Papua New Guinea devoted mainly to understanding the mental mechanisms followed by the image creators that are the makers of the kula ceremonial canoes the poets the magicians the female and male singers who perform a poetic text orally written by a poet to an oral score composed by a musician With these early works Scoditti identifies within Kitawa culture a clear distinction between the author and the performer interpreter of a given oral text be it a verbal and a non verbal one a distinction that has called into question the hypothesis that in a culture that does not know or use any form of phonetic writing a text is composed at the time of its performance so that composition and performance would coincide A first result of his interpretation is Kitawa A linguistic and aesthetic analysis of visual art in Melanesia 1990 De Gruyter Mouton then by Kitawa oral poetry An example from Melanesia 1996 ANU Press Notes on the cognitive texture of an oral mind Kitawa a Melanesian culture 2012 Sean Kingston Publishing and now Kitawa Literary Fragments How Storytelling Shapes Spacetime in a Melanesian Matrilineal Culture
