Ong, 1967-01-01 This provocative exploration of the nature and history of the word in some of its social psychological literary phenomenological and religious dimensions argues that the word is initially aural and in the last analysis always remains sound it cannot be reduced to any other category Father Ong contends that sound is essentially an event manifesting power and personal presence and his descriptive analysis of the development of the media of verbal expression from their oral sources through the laborious transfer to the visual world and then to contemporary means of electronic communication shows that the predicament of the human word is the predicament of man himself Examining the close alliance of the spoken word with the sense of the sacred particularly in the Hebrew Christian tradition he reveals that in a world where presence has penetrated time and space as never before modern man must find the God who has given himself in the Word which brings man more into the world of sound than of sight Thorez-Staline 1944-1947, 1996 André Malraux et le rayonnement culturel de la France Charles-Louis Foulon, 2004 J'écris ton nom, liberté Raymonde Tillon, 2002
