Sounding the Virtual: Gilles Deleuze and the Theory and Philosophy of Music Dr Nick Nesbitt, Professor Brian Hulse, 2013-01-28 It is the contention of the editors and contributors of this volume that the work carried out by Gilles Deleuze where rigorously applied has the potential to cut through much of the intellectual sedimentation that has settled in the fields of music studies Deleuze is a vigorous critic of the Western intellectual tradition calling for a philosophy of difference and despite its ambitions he is convinced that Western philosophy fails to truly grasp or think difference as such It is argued that longstanding methods of conceptualizing music are vulnerable to Deleuze s critique But as Deleuze himself stresses more important than merely critiquing established paradigms is developing ways to overcome them and by using Deleuze s own concepts this collection aims to explore that possibility

The Additional Element in Architecture Pedro Ignacio Alonso, Paulina Bitran, 2025-05-13 An ingenious reconstruction and revealing analysis through visual archaeology of avant garde artist Kazimir Malevich s lost arkhitektons Among the Russian avant garde artist Kazimir Malevich s most intriguing works the arkhitektons are also the most enigmatic as these quasi architectural sculptures made in the 1920s were almost entirely lost along with many of the accompanying drawings or planits In The Additional Element in Architecture Pedro Ignacio Alonso and Paulina Bitr n bring Malevich s elusive arkhitektons to startling three dimensional life and show how these objects form a comprehensive universe that embodies the artist s Suprematism his belief in the supremacy of pure artistic sensation in abstraction The book features digital reconstructions of 15 arkhitektons and planits that are lost in their original physical form Using a method they call visual archaeology Alonso and Bitr n explore how these structures figure in Malevich s investigations of spatial form In the authors view the arkhitektons and planits constitute a series of changing configurations or states rather than fixed or closed monolithic sculptures that can be reckoned with individually They are provisional assemblages of prismatic volumes linked only by gravity and equilibrium ephemeral arrangements that digital modeling exposes and opens to new analysis Along with its illustrations and analysis of the ingeniously recreated arkhitektons and planits Alonso and Bitr n provide historiographical notes on the different appearances of these models as well as a critical consideration of how Malevich s own conception of the additional element might place these beguiling figures within a wider history of modern architecture

Deleuze, Bergson, Merleau-Ponty Dorothea E. Olkowski, 2021-09-07 Deleuze Bergson Merleau Ponty The Logic and Pragmatics of Creation Affective Life and Perception offers the only full length examination of the relationships between Deleuze Bergson and Merleau Ponty Henri Bergson 1859 1941 Maurice Merleau Ponty 1908 1961 and Gilles Deleuze 1925 1995 succeeded one another as leading voices in French philosophy over a span of 136 years Their relationship to one another s work involved far more than their overlapping lifetimes Bergson became both the source of philosophical insight and a focus of criticism for Merleau Ponty and Deleuze Deleuze criticized Merleau Ponty s phenomenology as well as his interest in cognitive and natural science Author Dorothea Olkowski points out that each of these philosophers situated their thought in relation to their understandings of crucial developments and theories taken up in the history and philosophy of science and this has been difficult for Continental philosophy to grasp She articulates the differences between these philosophers with respect to their disparate approaches to the physical sciences and with how their views of science function in relation to their larger philosophical projects In Deleuze Bergson Merleau Ponty Olkowski examines the critical areas of the structure of time and memory the structure of consciousness and the question of humans relation to nature She reveals that these philosophers are working from inside one another s ideas and are making strong claims about time consciousness reality and their effects on humanity that converge and diverge The result is a clearer picture of the intertwined workings of Continental philosophy and its fundamental engagement with the sciences

Letters and Other Texts Gilles Deleuze, 2020-06-23 A posthumous collection of writings by Deleuze including letters youthful essays and an interview many previously unpublished Letters and Other Texts is the third and final volume of the posthumous texts of Gilles Deleuze collected for publication in French on the twentieth anniversary of his death It contains several letters addressed to his contemporaries Michel Foucault Pierre Klossowski Fran ois Ch telet and Cl ment Rosset among others Of particular importance are the letters addressed to Félix Guattari which offer an irreplaceable account of their work as a duo from Anti-Oedipus to What is Philosophy? Later letters provide a new perspective on Deleuze's work as he responds to students' questions. This volume also offers a set of unpublished or hard to find texts including some essays from Deleuze's youth, a few unusual drawings and a long interview from 1973 on Anti-Oedipus with Guattari.

Psychoanalysis of Sense Guillaume Collett, 2016-10-26 Guillaume Collett questions to what extent we can locate Deleuze within the Lacanian School during the late 1960s prior to Guattari. In so doing he offers a new integrated reading of Deleuze's The Logic of Sense 1969 by understanding it as a psychoanalysis of sense and gives a new interpretation of Deleuze's conception of philosophy itself. The Psychoanalysis of Sense shows that Deleuze was not merely aware of the debates animating the Lacanian School during the 1960s; he sought to contribute to them. Emphasising his appropriation of the work of post-Lacanian Serge Leclaire, Collett explains how Deleuze constructed a more singular and immanent theory of the linguistic structure of the unconscious, granting the erogenous body a larger structuring role.

Deleuze Over Bacon Fatema Kabir, 2010-09 This book is a Reader's Guide for the book Francis Bacon The Logic of Sensation. This book unfolds the art of painting through Deleuze's philosophy and then narrates Francis Bacon's Paintings as a story, though Bacon is strongly against narration in his paintings, reflecting the understanding of The Logic of Sensation. This guide is intended as a quick reference of Deleuze's philosophy over Bacon's paintings with Kant's philosophy as complementary theory. This book does not follow the order of Logic of Sensation; instead, its complete data is rephrased in Deleuze Over Bacon to assist better flow and understanding.

The Pathos of the Real Robert Buch, 2010-12-15 This book is about the ambition in a set of paradigmatic writers of the twentieth century to simultaneously enlist and break the spell of the real: their fascination with the spectacle of violence and suffering and the difficulties involved in capturing this kind of excess by aesthetic means. The works at the center of this study by Franz Kafka, Georges Bataille, Claude Simon, Peter Weiss, and Heiner Müller zero in on scenes of agony, destruction, and death with an astonishing degree of precision and detail. The strange and troubling nature of the appeal engendered by these sights is the subject of The Pathos of the Real. Robert Buch shows that the spectacles of suffering conjured up in these texts are deeply ambivalent: available neither to cathartic relief nor to the sentiment of compassion. What prevails instead is a peculiar coincidence of opposites: exaltation and resignation, disfiguration and transfiguration, agitation and paralysis. Featuring the experiences of violent excess in strongly visual and often in expressly pictorial terms, the works expose the nexus between violence and the image in twentieth-century aesthetics. Buch explores this tension between visual and verbal representation by drawing on the rhetorical notion of pathos as both insurmountable suffering and codified affect and the psychoanalytic notion of the real that is the disruption of the symbolic order. In dialogue with a diverse group of thinkers from Erich Auerbach and Aby Warburg to Alain Badiou and Jacques Lacan, The Pathos of the Real advances an innovative new framework for rethinking the aesthetics of violence in the twentieth century.
