Famine A Short History:

Famine Cormac Ó Gráda, 2009 History A Brief History of Death W. M. Spellman, 2014-02-15 As humans death its certainty its inevitability consumes us We make it the subject of our literature our art our philosophy and our religion Our feelings and attitudes toward our mortality and its possible afterlives have evolved greatly from the early days of mankind Collecting these views in this topical and instructive book W M Spellman considers death and dying from every angle in the Western tradition exploring how humans understand and come to terms with the end of life Using the work of archaeologists and paleoanthropologists Spellman examines how interpreting physical remains gives us insight into prehistoric perspectives on death He traces how humans have died over the centuries both in the causes of death and in the views of actions that lead to death He spotlights the great philosophical and scientific traditions of the West which did not believe in an afterlife or see the purpose of bereavement while also casting new light on the major religious beliefs that emerged in the ancient world particularly the centuries long development of Christianity He delves into three approaches to the meaning of death the negation of life continuity in another form and agnosticism from both religious and secular scientific perspectives Providing a deeper context for contemporary debates over end of life issues and the tension between longevity and quality of life A Brief History of Death is an illuminating look at the complex ways humans face death and the dying A Short History of Ireland, 1500-2000 John Gibney, 2025-06-24 A brisk concise and readable overview of Irish history from the Protestant Reformation to the dawn of the twenty first century Five centuries of Irish history are explored in this informative and accessible volume John Gibney proceeds from the beginning of Ireland s modern period and continues through to virtually the present day offering an integrated overview of the island nation s cultural political and socioeconomic history This succinct scholarly study covers important historical events including the Cromwellian conquest and settlement the Great Famine and the struggle for Irish independence Gibney s book explores major themes such as Ireland s often contentious relationship with Britain its place within the British Empire the impact of the Protestant Reformation the ongoing religious tensions it inspired and the global reach of the Irish diaspora This unique wide ranging work assimilates the most recent scholarship on a wide range of historical controversies making it an essential addition to the library of any student of Irish studies Short History of Human Error Oliver Thomson, 2013-12-09 This is a candid sometimes controversial study of the psychological or other flaws of political religious and economic leaders from ancient times to the present day from Rameses II to Colonel Gaddafi from Genghis Khan to Stalin and Hitler from Buddha or Saint Paul to Martin Luther or Ron Hubbard from bipolar insecure asthmatic or sex addicted presidents to alcoholic prime ministers mad kings obese emperors and kleptomaniac dictators Amongst their followers we find psychopathic police chiefs gay generals crazed philosophers epileptic prophets and ludomaniac business men We look at how the minor personality disorders and health problems of the few have led frequently to considerable misery for the many Without slavish adherence to the latest psychiatric fashions the author uses at least some of these concepts to help analyse the anti social behaviour traits of leaders past and present and to assess the degree to which their mental or physical state contributed to most of the world s worst man made disasters wars genocides famines persecutions enslavements and recessions We consider the questions How many millions died because the Archangel Gabriel supposedly appeared to both the Virgin Mary and Mohammed How many millions died because Napoleon was bullied at school because Hitler failed to get into the Vienna Academy because Stalin had an alcoholic father or because Mao suffered from attention deficit hyperactivity disorder

Ireland, Sweden, and the Great European Migration, 1815-1914 Donald Harman Akenson,2011-08-23 This book is the product of Donald Akenson s decades of research and writing on Irish social history and its relationship to the Irish diaspora it is also the product of a lifetime of trying to figure out where Swedish America actually came from and why These two matters Akenson shows are intimately related Ireland and Sweden each provide a tight case study of a larger phenomenon one that for better or worse shaped the modern world the Great European Diaspora of the true nineteenth century Akenson's book parts company with the great bulk of recent emigration research by employing sharp transnational comparisons and by situating the two case studies in the larger context of the Great European Migration and of what determines the physics of a diaspora no small matter as the concept of diaspora has become central to twenty first century transnational studies He argues against the increasing refusal of mainstream historians to use empirical databases that the history community still has a lot to learn from economic historians and simultaneously that despite the self confidence of their proponents narrow economically based explanations of the Great European Migration leave out many of the most important aspects of the whole complex transaction Akenson believes that culture and economic matters both count and that leaving either one on the margins of explanation yields no valid explanation at all

The Routledge History of Death since 1800 Peter N. Stearns, 2020-10-13 The Routledge History of Death Since 1800 looks at how death has been treated and dealt with in modern history the history of the past 250 years in a global context through a mix of definite often quantifiable changes and a complex qualitative assessment of the subject The book is divided into three parts with the first considering major trends in death history and identifying widespread patterns of change and continuity in the material and cultural features of death since 1800 The second part turns to specifically regional experiences and the third offers more specialized chapters on key topics in the modern history of death Historical findings and debates feed directly into a current and prospective assessment of death as many societies transition into patterns of ageing that will further alter the death experience and challenge modern reactions Thus a final chapter probes this topic by way of introducing the links between historical experience and current trajectories ensuring that the book gives the reader a framework for assessing the ongoing process as well as an understanding of the past Global in focus and linking death to a variety of major developments in modern global history the volume is ideal for all those interested in the multifaceted history of how death is dealt with in different societies over time and who want access to the rich and growing historiography on the subject Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
