With reference to the theoretical framework of Michel Foucault and Pierre Bourdieu this book offers a critical investigation into such epic issues as the end of art and the inherent laws of literature s evolution while conflating the two into one major argumentation The book proceeds from Hegel s claim of the end of art to tackle the universal yet essential problem of literature its legitimacy in a sociological sense It invests Bourdieu s sociological terms power capital habitus field and so forth into the study of literature and art while taking on other theoretical enquiries particularly the Marxist exploration into ideology as well as aspects of economics and communication studies This book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars of the sociology of literature cultural studies and those with specific interests in Chinese literature literary and art theory Cultural Repertoires G. J. Dorleijn,Herman L. J. Vanstiphout,2003 It is apparent that every linguistic and literary tradition will wish to distinguish broad periods in its historical evolution One way of demarcating such periods is by isolating and identifying dominant repertoires of texts styles or types which may be seen as preserving repositories of material promoting literary models privileging formal constraints or inspiring theoretical reflections or all of these The present collection of studies represents the results of a colloquium held at the University of Groningen in 2001 The contributions range widely in area time and theme from general theory of acceptation into the canon to particular case studies from overall descriptions of cultural repertoires to their very manufacture from Ancient Mesopotamia to the European avant garde taking in Homeric Greece the Arabic world the Middle Ages Renaissance Humanism and modern Dutch literature along the way
