Baer, 1902 The Captive's Address to Fancy and Other Poems (Classic Reprint) James Gardner, 2015-07-16 Excerpt from The Captive's Address to Fancy and Other Poems The Captive's Address To Fancy Spread out thy wings my Fancy O wild bird blythe and gay Spread out thy strong swift pinions and speed thee on thy way Far from the gleaming heavens Night's curtain is unrolled And rosy tides of morning are flooding hill and wold Untrammelled thou mayst wander nor will I call thee home Though o'er the world forever thy restless wings may roam Though I am held in fetters and base captivity O Fancy chainless Fancy thy wings are always free As free as proudest eagle that soars the heavens wide As free as streamlet dashing from down the mountain's side As free as wildest charger that roams the desert plain About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

A Book of Cambridge Verse (Classic Reprint) Ernest Edward Kellett, 2018-02-02 Excerpt from A Book of Cambridge Verse Nevertheless after all deductions have been made how much true poetry is yet left He must be hard to please who cannot find intense enjoyment in the Eclogues of Phineas Fletcher in Cowley's epitaph on Harvey in the Miltonic stanzas of Gray's Installation Ode in a score of other pieces grave quaint or classical in their allusive ness of phrasing Especially grateful must we be to the number of poets of exquisite feeling and easy mastery of form who during the last fifty or sixty years have enriched the language with delicate and elegant verse from which it has been only too difficult to choose because its quantity is so great and its merit so even Of this we trust we have given a tolerably adequate selection but it would have been easy to multiply it fourfold About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book

Nature and Other Poems (Classic Reprint) Alfred Williams, 2015-07-09 Excerpt from Nature and Other Poems Look not herein any who would delight In tricks of fancy and unnatural thought Strained types and similes rags and tatters brought From distant nowhere to confound the sight Those crooked shapes descending from the height Of unsubstantial space or deeply sought In caverns with much fearful labour wrought Not in such torments would I choose to write But were I master I would pay good heed First to be straight and simple not too bold Too over florid fond of tinsel gold But strong in substance native to the deed Where the most stubborn wit could plainly read Like those clear voiced immortal bards of old About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

George Gordon Byron Baron Byron,1835 Classics in Extremis Edmund Richardson,2018-12-13 Classics in Extremis reimagines classical reception Its contributors explore some of the most remarkable hard fought and unsettling claims ever made on the ancient world from the coal mines of England to the paradoxes of Borges from Victorian sexuality to the trenches of the First World War from American public school classrooms to contemporary right wing politics How does the reception of the ancient world change under impossible strain Its protagonists are marginal figures who resisted that definition in the strongest terms Contributors argue for a decentered model of classical reception where the marginal shapes the central as much as vice versa and where the most unlikely appropriations of antiquity often have the greatest impact What kind of distortions does the model of centre and margins produce How can marginal receptions be recovered most effectively Bringing together some of the leading scholars in the field Classics in Extremis moves beyond individual case studies to develop fresh methodologies and perspectives on the study of classical reception On Anthologies Jeffrey R. Di Leo,2004-01-01 Over the course of the past twenty five years anthologies have shifted from playing a relatively minor role in academic culture to a position of dominance The essays in this collection explore the significant intellectual economic political pedagogical and creative resonance of anthologies through all levels of academic life They show that anthologies have consequences and are grounded in commitments Striving to articulate these consequences and commitments is a priority in higher education today Most of the contributors to this volume are editors of anthologies and they draw on personal experiences to provide a rare glimpse into the economics and logic of anthology publication Their essays illustrate the ways in which editing an anthology involves negotiation and compromise between intellectual ideal and realistic practice On Anthologies includes discussion of a wide range of anthologies used and produced by teachers and scholars Though the emphasis is on literature and theory anthologies the insights in this volume speak to professionals in all areas of academic life Collectively these essays establish the foundation for continuing critical analysis of anthology production and consumption in all disciplines HSC Golden Guide to English Wafa Khan,2017-02-05 HSC Golden Guide to English
