The Beautiful Skin Vlad Dima, 2020-09-01 In this original and provocative study of contemporary African film and literature Vlad Dima investigates the way that football and cinema express individual and collective fantasies and highlights where football and cinema converge and diverge with regard to neocolonial fantasies. Shedding new light on both well known and less familiar films by Mahamat Saleh Haroun Abderrahmane Sissako Jean Pierre Bekolo Moussa Tour Safi Faye Cheick Doukour and Joseph Ga Ramaka among others the study asks just whose fantasy is articulated in football and African cinema. Answering this question requires the exploration of body and identity issues here through the metaphor of skin fantasy as a skin the football jersey as a skin and ultimately film itself as a skin that has visual aural and haptic qualities. The neocolonial body is often depicted as suffering and in the process of being flattened or emptied. So frequently do African cinema and literature replicate this hollowed body all skin as it were that it becomes the very type of body that defines neocolonialism. Could the body of film the depth of both characters and story within the cinematic skin hold the key to moving into a post neocolonial era an era defined by full bodies and personal affirmation. This is the question Dima seeks to answer.

This book is an attempt to provide such a chronicle by no means the last word but perhaps a useful and entertaining first word toward answering the question. What the heck.
