The Business of Human Rights Aurora Voiculescu, Helen Yanacopoulos, 2011-01-13 In a time when multinational corporations have become truly globalised demands for global standards on their behaviour are increasingly difficult to dismiss Work conditions in sweatshops widespread destruction of the environment and pharmaceutical trials in third world countries are only the tip of the iceberg This timely collection of essays addresses the interface between the calls for corporate social responsibility CSR and the demands for an extension of international human rights standards Scholars from a vast variety of backgrounds provide expert yet accessible accounts of questions of law politics economics and international relations and how they relate to one another while also encouraging non legal perspectives on how businesses operate within and around human rights The result is an essential incursion for a wide range of scholars practitioners and students in law development business studies and international studies in this emerging area of human rights

Societal Peace and Ideal Citizenship for Turkey Rasim Özgür Dönmez, Pinar Enneli, 2011-08-16 Globalisation and neo liberalism have been impacting the nation state and leading the full citizenship concept into crisis not only in Turkey but also in the world While one reason for this crisis is the decline of the welfare state another reason stems from the fluidity of borders that distorts the classical patterns of the nation state such as meta identity The existing Turkish citizenship inherited a strong state idea with passive citizenship tradition from the Ottoman Empire However this understanding is no longer sustainable for Turkish society The definition of citizenship through state led nationalism secularism and a free market economy creates societal crises in politics and society The aim of this book is to find out the answer of what should be the ideal citizenship regime for Turkey Various scholars dealing with Turkish socio politics analyze different aspects and problems of Turkish citizenship regime that should be tackled for finding a recipe for ideal citizenship in Turkey Handbook of Political Citizenship and Social Movements Hein-Anton van der Heijden, 2014-10-31 This Handbook uniquely collates the results of several decades of academic research in these two important fields The expert contributions successively address the different forms of political citizenship and current approaches and recent development Critical Environmental Politics Carl Death, 2013-12-04 The aim of this book is to review central concepts in the study of environmental politics and to open up new questions problems and research agendas in the field The volume does so by drawing on a wide range of approaches from critical theory to poststructuralism and spanning disciplines including international relations geography sociology history philosophy anthropology and political science The 28 chapters cover a range of global and local studies illustrations and cases These range from the Cochabamba conference in Bolivia to climate camps in the UK UN summits in Rio de Janeiro and Johannesburg to climate migrants from Pacific islands forests in Indonesia to Dutch energy governance reform indigenous communities in Namibia to oil extraction in the Niger Delta survivalist militias in the USA to Maasai tribesmen in Kenya Rather than following a regional or issue based e g water forests pollution etc structure the volume is organised in terms of key concepts in the field including those which have been central to the social sciences for a long time such as citizenship commodification consumption feminism justice movements science security the state summits and technology those which have been at the heart of environmental politics for many years including biodiversity climate change conservation eco centrism limits localism resources sacrifice and sustainability and many which have been introduced to these literatures and debates more recently biopolitics governance governmentality hybridity posthumanism risk and vulnerability Features and benefits of the book Explains the most important concepts and theories in environmental politics Reviews the core ideas behind crucial debates in environmental politics Highlights the key thinkers both classic and contemporary for studying environmental politics Provides original perspectives on the critical potential of the concepts for future research agendas as well as for the practice of environmental politics Each chapter is written by leading international authors in their field This exciting new volume will be essential textbook reading for all students of environmental politics as well as provocatively presenting the field in a different light for more established researchers Green Culture Kevin Wehr, 2011-05-03 Green Culture An A to Z Guide explores the on going paradigm shift in culture and lifestyles toward promoting a sustainable environment After years of discussion about the environment dating back to the 1960s counter culture the recent explosion of green initiatives has induced the general public to embrace all things green from recycling in the home to admiring green celebrities This volume assesses the green cultural transformations by presenting some 150 articles of importance to students of sociology history political science communications public relations anthropology literature arts and drama Presented in A to Z format the articles include appealing topics from green Hollywood to green spirituality green art and green restaurants This work culminates in an outstanding reference available in both print and

Environment and Citizenship Benito Cao, 2015-03-05
The increasing awareness of the human impact on the environment is having a profound effect on the concept and content of citizenship one of the fundamental institutions that structures human relations In what is the first introduction of its kind this book provides an accessible stimulating and multidimensional overview of the many ways in which concern for the environment driven primarily by the preoccupation with sustainability is reshaping our understanding of citizenship Environment and Citizenship is structured into three parts Part I introduces the reader to the concept and theories of citizenship and explores the impact that environmental concerns is having on contemporary formulations of citizenship both traditional e g national liberal and republican and emerging e g cosmopolitan ecological and ecofeminist Part II explores the practical manifestations of environmental citizenship with each chapter focusing on a particular actor citizens governments and corporations These chapters include references to examples and case studies from a wide range of countries broadly categorized as belonging to the Global North and the Global South Part III explores the making of green citizens and outlines the dominant articulations of environmental citizenship that emerge from formal education news media and popular culture The book concludes with a general reflection on the present and future of environmental citizenship The book contains a variety of illustrations boxed case studies links to online resources and suggestions for further reading This original and engaging text is essential reading for students and scholars of environmental politics sustainability studies and development studies as well as for environmental activists policy practitioners and environmental educators More broadly this book will appeal to anyone interested in and concerned with issues of sustainability social justice and citizenship in the twenty first century

Sustainability Citizenship in Cities Ralph Horne, John Fien, Beau Beza, Anitra Nelson, 2016-04-28 Urban sustainability citizenship situates citizens as social change agents with an ethical and self interested stake in living sustainably with the rest of Earth Such citizens not only engage in sustainable household practices but respect the importance of awareness raising discussion and debates on sustainability policies for the common good and maintenance of Earth s ecosystems Sustainability Citizenship in Cities seeks to explain how sustainability citizenship can manifest in urban built environments as both responsibilities and rights Contributors elaborate on the concept of urban sustainability citizenship as a participatory work in progress with the aim of setting its practice firmly on the agenda This collection will prompt practitioners and researchers to rethink contemporary mobilisations of urban citizens challenged by various environmental crises such as climate change in various socio economic settings This book is a valuable resource for students academics and professionals working in various disciplines and across a range of interdisciplinary fields such as urban environment and planning citizenship as practice environmental sociology contemporary politics and governance environmental philosophy media and communications and human geography

The Politics of Citizenship in Indonesia Eric Hiari, Kristian Stokke, 2022-02-10 This book highlights the gains that a citizenship approach offers to the study of democracy in Indonesia demonstrating that the struggle for citizenship and the historical development of democracy in the country are closely interwoven The book arises from a research agenda aiming to help Indonesia s democracy activists by unpacking citizenship as it is produced and practiced through movements against injustice taking the shape of struggles by people at grassroots levels for cultural recognition social and economic injustice and popular representation Such struggles in Indonesia have engaged with the state through both discursive and non discursive processes The authors show that while the state is the common focal point these struggles are fragmented across different sectors and subject positions The authors thus propose that developing chains of solidarity is highly important to motivating a democracy that not only has sovereign control over public affairs but also robust channels and organisations for political representation In advocating the development of transformative agendas organisations and strategies as an important need and an enduring challenge for the realization of citizenship this book is timely and relevant to the study of contemporary Indonesia s socio political landscape It is relevant to students and scholars in political science anthropology sociology human geography and development studies

Challenging Legitimacy at the Precipice of Energy Calamity Debra J. Davidson, Mike Gismondi, 2011-08-30 Human history has often been described as a progressive relinquishment from environmental constraints Now it seems we have come full circle The ecological irrationalities associated with industrial societies have a lengthy history and our purpose in the proposed book is not to catalogue this litany of wrongs Rather this book is about political responses to global environmental crisis at a crucial turning point in history by focusing on the political discourses surrounding the tar sands in Alberta Canada Neoliberalism and Environmental Education Joseph Henderson, David Hursh, David Greenwood, 2018-10-08 This timely book situates environmental education within and against neoliberalism the dominant economic political and cultural ideology impacting both education and the environment Proponents of neoliberalism imagine and enact a world where the primary role of the state is to promote capital markets and where citizens are defined as autonomous entrepreneurs who are to fulfill their needs via competition with and surveillance of others These ideas interact with environmental issues in a number of ways and Neoliberalism and Environmental Education engages this interplay with chapters on how neoliberal ideas and actions shape environmental education in formal informal and community contexts International contributors consider these interactions in agriculture and gardening state policy enactments environmental science classrooms ecoprison and in professional management and educational accountability programs The collection invites readers to reexamine how economic policy and politics shape the cultural enactment of environmental education This book was originally published as a special issue of Environmental Education Research Feminism, Republicanism, Egalitarianism, Environmentalism Yulia Maleta, 2019-08-23 This book addresses hegemonic ruling class masculinity and emphasized femininity within renewables organisational governance and critiques Anglo Celtic male privilege as a barrier to women's leadership participation Primarily using the Australian socio political context the author considers the patriarchal control of organisations and renewables governance and argues that women led emphasized femininity resistance strategies can challenge the hegemonic status of ruling elites to create a leadership that is less power oriented more collaborative and open to change Utilising detailed interviews with Australian women environmentalists together with feminist sociological and social movement theory whilst considering the historic context of Red Vienna and contemporary political challenges Brexit Monarchism etc it puts forward an innovative policy framework for an Australian Bill of Rights Act and republican constitutional change Written for academics activists and policymakers alike this book offers a unique insight into women's inequity within patriarchal institutionalist governance It will be engaging and inspiring reading for feminist and environmentalist activists and practitioners in addition to professional associations focussing on gender justice and environmental change Academics and postgraduates in Gender Studies Ecofeminism Sociology and Organisational Studies will also find the book of key interest in its interdisciplinary discussions of Sustainable Scientific Technological Development Initiatives SSTDI and feminism in an Australian political context What We Are Fighting For Federico

Campagna, Emanuele Campiglio, 2012-09-06 Shortlisted for the Bread and Roses Prize 2013 From the pens of major figures of the anti austerity movement comes the first radical collective manifesto of the new decade From participatory democracy to media reform from direct action to communal living What Are We Fighting For is a bold look at alternatives to the economic social and political travesty of contemporary capitalism Chapters from Owen Jones David Graeber John Holloway Nina Power Mark Fisher Franco Berardi Bifo and Marina Sitrin show a multifaceted but collective desire for a better world Anarchists communists feminists and autonomists come together to inspire us to think beyond neoliberalism Space, Place and Inclusive Learning Judy Hemingway, Felicity Armstrong, 2016-04-08 This collection explores ways in which theories of space and place can be used in understanding processes of exclusion and inclusion in education The contributions foreground how the spatial turn and geographical knowledges can inform debates on the relationships between learning space and place understandings of the ways in which space and place affect education and learning familiar research agendas through the application of conceptual perspectives from different disciplines The ten chapters which make up this book are by contributors from Australia Italy and the United Kingdom who draw in very different ways on spatial theory as a means of exploring processes of inclusion and exclusion in education Each one of the authors not only seeks to challenge growing orthodoxies in their respective field but is interested in cross disciplinarity and spatial theory in education This book provides key readings for experienced and beginning teachers studying for bachelors masters and research degrees or professional qualifications It will be particularly useful to equality and diversity post holders lecturers researchers and policy makers working in all education establishments which take issues of inclusion seriously The international content of the diverse papers in Space Place and Inclusive Learning will be of interest not only to those practising in the United Kingdom but to educationists working in other countries who seek to understand how space and place modulate opportunities for inclusion This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Inclusive Education
