Faith And Learning A Practical Guide For Faculty:

Faith and Learning Kenneth Rea Badley, Patrick Allen, 2014-09-01 Christian colleges expect faculty to clearly articulate an understanding of the impacts that Christian faith has on their teaching research and service Many faculty find this dimension of their work often labeled the integration of faith and learning confusing and difficult to realize in practice to assess and to describe This volume begins by clarifying two things It summarizes the faith learning discussion and offers a working conception of faith integration specifically for Christian college faculty It then outlines what deans provosts and tenure promotion committees typically expect faculty in Christian colleges to know and do Allen and Badley introduce the highly regarded framework of Ernest Boyer and the Carnegie Foundation Scholarship Reconsidered 1990 They then present both a framework for assessing faith learning integration in the three dimensions of teaching research and service and step by step instructions for reporting and describing the individual faculty member s approach and success The book closes by calling both the Christian college and the individual professor to the vocation of teaching shaping and sending

The Scandal of the Evangelical College Martin Spence, 2025-06-30 Despite heady claims about Christ centeredness Evangelical colleges are scandalously secular institutions in thrall to the regnant assumptions of the market economy and mainstream higher education Paradigms intended to integrate faith and learning often ironically fracture and distort Christianity Even the spiritual dimensions of the Christian college presumed to keep it safe from religious declension are prone to secularizing tendencies because the American Evangelical culture from which the college receives its spiritual cues and from which it accepts its donors money is itself captive to a set of sub biblical economic social and political assumptions This book argues that the cause of the scandal is the absence of the church in the imagination of the Evangelical college It therefore proposes that the mission and practice of the Evangelical college should be to summon equip and renew the people of God While this may sound like a return to an obsolete bible school model of Christian education the ecclesial vision only sounds narrow because we lack a robust understanding of the vocation of the church itself By simultaneously restricting our vision of the Evangelical college while broadening our understanding of the church a more fully evangelical educational endeavor might emerge
