Ernesto Valiente,2015-12-01 In the past one hundred years alone more than 200 million people have been killed as a consequence of systematic repression political revolutions or ethnic or religious war The legacy of such violence lingers long after the immediate conflict Drawing on the author's experiences of his native El Salvador Liberation through Reconciliation builds on Jon Sobrino's thought to construct a Christian spirituality and theology of reconciliation that overcomes conflict by attending to the demands of truth justice and forgiveness Pearson's Magazine ,1896 Encyclopedia of the Atlantic World, 1400-1900 David Head,2017-11-16 A first of its kind reference resource traces the interactions among four Atlantic facing continents Europe Africa and the Americas including the Caribbean between 1400 and 1900 Until recently the age of exploration and empire building was researched and taught within imperial and national boundaries The histories of Europe Africa North America and South America were told largely as independent stories with the development of individual places within each continent further separated from each other The indigenous populations of places colonized by Europeans fit into the history even more uneasily often mentioned only in passing Encyclopedia of the Atlantic World 1400 1900 synthesizes a generation of historical scholarship on the events on four continents providing readers an invaluable introduction to the major people places events movements objects concepts and commodities of the Atlantic world as it developed during a key period in history when the world first started to shrink The entries discuss specific topics with an eye toward showing how individual items people and events were connected to the larger Atlantic world This accessibly written reference book brings together topics usually treated separately and discretely alleviating the need for extra legwork when researching and it draws from the latest research to make a vast body of scholarship about seemingly far flung places available to readers new to the field

The Hebrew Word for 'sign' and its Impact on Isaiah 7:14 Mark D. Schutzius, 2015-07-24 Isaiah 7 14 is one of the most debated verses in all of Scripture Scholars from all backgrounds have provided countless works on the interpretation of this one verse Yet there is no decisive material that confirms exactly what the verse means The implications of this one verse carry into prophecy biblical inspiration biblical infallibility and numerous other issues This book analyzes the way the writers of the Old Testament used the Hebrew word of which is often translated sign The author then takes that information and discusses the implications of that usage regarding Isaiah 7 14 For example in some instances the word referred to miraculous events In others it may have referred to something symbolic Throughout the work the writer analyzes various aspects of the usage of the word and seeks to determine if there is a relevant pattern to apply to the way the word is used in Isaiah 7 14

The Hermeneutics of Participation Greg McKinzie, 2025-07-15 Many theological interpreters of Scripture have claimed that church practices produce well formed readers But which practices Greg McKinzie argues that missional hermeneutics challenges the church to include participation in God s mission among the indispensable components of readerly formation After a quarter century of contemporary reflection on missional theology however the meaning of participation in God s mission remains vague In order to explain why it is a critical hermeneutical experience therefore McKinzie sets out to develop a theological account of missional participation that incorporates the concepts of the sis embodied narrativity and solidarity Then in conversation with the hermeneutical phenomenology of Paul Ricoeur the study suggests how theologically recontextualizing a model of the movement from embodied commitments to textual interpretation in terms of participation in God s mission illuminates the epistemic reconstitution of the church s theological interpretation of Scripture Understanding participation in God s mission as theological interpretation s proper locus theologicus should reorient the notion of readerly formation because the formation of missional readers is the process in which God opens the reading community s embodied eyes of faith through the works of faith seeking understanding

When Sickness Heals Siroj Sorajjakool, 2006-04 In When Sickness Heals Dr Siroj Sorajjakool draws on more than ten years of studies on health benefits in relation to spirituality especially focusing on the function of meaning He expounds on his theory that healing is primarily the function of meaning and meaning transcends sickness and even death itself He concludes that what people ultimately seek in life is the healing of their souls Sorajjakool brings many Eastern and Western resources to his conversation on health meaning and healing He incorporates the perspectives of theologians and philosophers like Paul Tillich Carl Jung S ren Kierkegaard Raimundo Panikkar Dietrich Bonhoeffer and John Macquarrie as well as references to religious texts including yin and yang and alchemy A clear distinct understanding of spirituality in clinical contexts is presented with an argument for the role of meaning in the healing process based on evidence that there may be healing even in the face of death Sorajjakool identifies the transitional processes people may go through as they seek to make sense of their experiences during a health crisis He suggests an alternative approach to spiritual assessment and provides methods of spiritual care that speak to the soul

Peace Education James Page, 2008-09-01 Peace education is now well recognized within international legal instruments and within critical educational literature as an important aspect of education Despite this little attention has been given in the critical literature to the philosophical foundations for peace education and the rationale for peace education thus remains substantially an assumed one This investigation explores some possible ethico philosophical foundations for peace education through an examination of five specific ethical traditions 1 virtue ethics whereby peace may be interpreted as a virtue and or virtue is interpreted as peacefulness and peace education as education in that virtue 2 consequentialist ethics whereby peace education may be interpreted as education regarding the consequences of our action and inaction both as individuals and collectivities 3 conservative political ethics whereby peace education may be interpreted as emphasizing the importance of the evolution of social institutions and the importance of ordered and lawful social change 4 aesthetic ethics whereby peace may be interpreted as something beautiful and valuable in itself and peace education as emphasizing the importance of that beauty and value and 5 the ethics of care whereby care may be interpreted as a core element in peace and peace education as encouraging trust and engagement with the other The study addresses major contributions to each of these ethical traditions the strengths and weaknesses of the tradition and the ways in which the tradition provides support for peace education It is argued in the thesis that each tradition provides only a partial basis for peace education and that ultimately a holistic and integrative understanding is required one that encourages a culture of peace an important addition to the emerging literature on peace education and the culture of peace From the Foreword by Koichiro Matsuura Director General of UNESCO

Toward a Theology of Struggle Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2009-02-01 The Theology of Struggle is a genuinely popular Filipino theology rooted in the history and culture of a people who have endured colonial oppression at the hands of Spain North America and Japan as well as neo colonialism and home grown dictatorship Because Christianity has played a role in assisting the history of oppression in the Philippines a theology of struggle must include a struggle in theology to wrest Christian symbols from the hands of the oppressors and return them to the poor This theology which is otherwise expressed in articles poems art and action receives its first systematic treatment in Toward a Theology of Struggle In Part One Fernandez establishes the historical and cultural context out of which the Theology of Struggle has emerged Part Two represents Fernandez's own constructive work in which he shows how a theology of struggle must address the quest for identity and peoplehood In Part Three Fernandez explores the question of theological method outlining the areas of convergence and distinction between the Theology of struggle and other Third World theologies as well as setting forth the distinctive challenge that this theology of the Philippines poses to the authority and dominance of Western theology as a whole
