First Ladder Education Classic Reprint:

The First Round in the Ladder of Education (Classic Reprint) James Brown, 2015-07-11 Excerpt from The First Round in the Ladder of Education Although I have neither been an instructor of a school nor a Professor in any Literary institution I have given considerable attention to the methods and principles of several books used both in common schools and Academies And I regret that I cannot speak of these works in terms of praise It is not my intention to give a catalogue of these books The following paragraphs taken from The Pictorial Primer designed as a First Book for Children in Families and Schools will serve as a fair specimen of the merits of all these productions Well Frederic what did you see at the fair today Do you not think you had better have been at home with your mother and sister Caroline What did you see to day is no better than what did you see next week And had have been is neither better nor worse than the rest of the Pictorial Primer which is almost a fac similie of the numerous books that are decent in nothing but mechanical execution This bird is an owl he has large eyes and can see in the night Here is a clear intimation that no creature except an owl can see in the night Nor is this all for it is here strongly implied that the owls capacity to see in the night is derived from the size of its eyes A substitute This is an owl and although he has good eyes he cannot see except in the night About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The

Journal of Education ,1882 Resources in Education ,1996 How to Succeed in School Without Really Learning

David F. Labaree,1997-01-01 David Labaree claims that by thinking of education primarily as the route to individual advancement we are defining it as a private good a means of gaining a competitive advantage over other people He endorses an alternative vision one that defines education as a public good providing society with benefits that can be collectively shared for example by producing citizens who are politically responsible and workers who are economically productive

Educational Times ,1896 Preservation and Place Katherine Crawford-Lackey,Megan E. Springate,2019-09-04

Significant historic and archaeological sites affiliated with two spirit lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer history in the United States are examined in this unique volume The importance of the preservation process in documenting and interpreting the lives and experiences of queer Americans is emphasized The book features chapters on archaeology and interpretation as well as several case studies focusing on queer preservation projects The accessible text and associated activities create an interactive and collaborative process that encourages readers to apply the material in a hands on setting
