Conversations With Audre Lorde Conversations With Audre Lorde:

Conversations with Audre Lorde Audre Lorde, 2004 Audre Lorde 1934 1992 the author of eleven books of poetry described herself as a Black feminist lesbian poet warrior mother but she added that this phrase was inadequate in capturing her full identity The interviews in this collection portray the many additional sides of the Harlem born author and activist She was also a rebellious child of Caribbean parents a mastectomy patient a blue collar worker a college professor a student of African mythology an experimental autobiographer in her book titled Zami a critic of imperialism and a charismatic orator Despite her intense engagement with the major social movements of her time Lorde told interviewers that she was always an outsider a position of weakness and of strength Most of her schoolmates were white She married a white legal aid attorney and after their divorce she was the partner of a white psychologist for many years These intimate alliances with whites caused some African Americans of both genders to question the depth of her solidarity Lorde expressed distrust of some white feminists and charged that they lacked real understanding of African American struggles Writing proved to be her powerful weapon against injustice Painfully aware that differences could provoke prejudice and violence she promoted the bridging of barriers These interviews reveal the sense of displacement that made Lorde a champion of the outcast and the forgotten whether in New York Mississippi Berlin or Soweto Bury My Heart in a Free Land Hettie V.

Williams, 2017-12-01 Covering the history and contributions of black women intellectuals from the late 19th century to the present this book highlights individuals who are often overlooked in the study of the American intellectual tradition This edited volume of essays on black women intellectuals in modern U S history illuminates the relevance of these women in the development of U S society and culture The collection traces the development of black women's voices from the late 19th century to the present day Covering both well known and lesser known individuals Bury My Heart in a Free Land gives voice to the passion and clarity of thought of black women intellectuals on various arenas in American life from the social sciences history and literature to politics education religion and art The essays address a broad range of outstanding black women that include preachers abolitionists writers civil rights activists and artists A section entitled Black Women Intellectuals in the New Negro Era highlights black women intellectuals such as Jessie Redmon Fauset and Elizabeth Catlett and offers new insights on black women who have been significantly overlooked in American intellectual history Conversations with Sarah Schulman Will Brantley, 2024-01-30 The twenty four interviews collected in Conversations with Sarah Schulman roughly a fifth of those that exist have enabled Schulman to expound upon her distinctive fusion of art and social commitment Ranging from major forums to smaller venues and covering a period of more than thirty years these interviews provide full evidence of Schulman's value as a pivotal player in the intellectual life of her time Schulman's career as a writer activist teacher and oral historian is now in its fifth decade Spanning multiple fiction genres her eleven novels include After Delores 1988 Rat Bohemia 1995 The Child 2007 and Maggie Terry 2018 A native New Yorker Schulman b 1958 writes for the people that she writes about women and men making the most of a society that seems continually marked by homophobia which Schulman regards as less a phobia than an unacknowledged pleasure system Readers have come to relish Schulman s provocations nowhere more so than through her books of nonfiction on topics such as gentrification and the interlocking nature of conflict and abuse And since the early 1980s when Schulman worked as a journalist readers have come to applaud her searing indictments of the nation s woeful response to its AIDS crisis Schulman has received the Kessler Award from CLAGS The Center for LGBTQ Studies in honor of her body of work that has influenced the field of gay and lesbian studies as well as the Bill Whitehead Award from Publishing Triangle for lifetime achievement She holds an endowed chair in creative writing at Northwestern University

Kabwe Nicosia Shakes Nina Callaghan Ntomboxolo Makhutshi and Rehane Abrahams In Conversation with Karen Barad Karin Murris, Vivienne Bozalek, 2022-12-27 In Conversation with Karen Barad Doings of Agential Realism is an accessible introduction to Karen Barad's agential realist philosophy. The authors take on a unique approach to involve the readers in formal conversations between Karen postgraduate and other researchers at a research event held in 2017 at Cape Town South Africa. It features chapters that have been contributed by seminar delegates and organisers which put forth the continuing impact that Karen Barad has had on their empirical work, research writing and drawing practices. The text further discusses the ethical and political significance of Karen's work especially in the context of decolonizing South African higher education. The chapters offer a series of worked posthumanist pedagogical examples and describe how a research seminar was organised differently and more in line with Baradian radical philosophy. At its heart, this book makes a methodological and pedagogical contribution to the surge in literature on agential realism whilst simultaneously challenging dominant research binaries and arguing for a more egalitarian way of working together in knowledge creation by troubling human and more than human hierarchies. The book's uniqueness is further fortified through its description of formal conversations which are diffracted through chapters a doing of agential realism to reconfigure relationships between lecturer and student, expert and novice, supervisor and supervised researcher and research participants. These radical conversations are continuing. This book will be invaluable for students and individuals interested in advancing their understanding of agential realism and Karen Barad's influence at large as well as students and scholars interested in postqualitative methods in all disciplines. Pluriversal Conversations on Transnational Feminisms Nina Lykke, Redi Koobak, Petra Bakos, Swati Arora, Kharnita Mohamed, 2023-10-27 This edited volume brings transnational feminisms in conversation with intersectional and decolonial approaches. The conversation is pluriversal; it voices and reflects upon a plurality of geo and corpopolitical as well as epistemic locations in specific Global South East North West contexts. The aim is to explore analytical modes that encourage transgressing methodological nationalisms which sustain unequal global power relations and which are still ingrained in the disciplinary perspectives that define much social science and humanities research. A main focus of the volume is methodological. It asks how an engagement with transnational intersectional and decolonial feminisms can stimulate border crossings. Boundaries in academic knowledge building shaped by the limitations imposed by methodological nationalisms are challenged in the book. The same applies to boundaries of conventional disembodied and ethically unaffected academic writing modes. The transgressive methodological aims are also pursued through mixing genres and shifting boundaries between academic and creative writing. Pluriversal Conversations on Transnational Feminisms is intended for broad global audiences of researchers, teachers, professionals, students from undergraduate to postgraduate levels, activists and NGOs interested in questions about decoloniality, intersectionality and transnational feminisms as well as in methodologies for boundary transgressing knowledge building. The Epistemology of Disasters and Social Change Jordan

Pascoe, Mitch Stripling, 2024-05-09 An earthquake in Mexico City spurs the rise of democracy A plague in South Africa lays the foundations for apartheid A terrorist attack on New York City triggers massive shifts in global security A global pandemic sets the stage for the largest civil rights protests in generations Beyond their physical impact disasters assault our certainty and shape a narrow space to alter the structure of what we believe That change can lead us toward disinformation and authoritarianism or it can lead us toward greater solidarity and human rights It all depends on the choices we make as we live through crisis on how in fact we choose to know each other The Epistemology of Disasters and Social Change draws on social epistemology disaster sociology psychology and feminist philosophy to investigate how disasters function as cauldrons of social transformation for good and ill We wrestle with how disasters change us moment by moment and provide new strategies to help these tragic events produce positive social transformation leading to a brighter future during this century of crisis

Phillis Isabella Sheppard, 2022-03-21 Tilling Sacred Grounds examines Black women's interiority and negotiation of race gender and sexuality in religious spaces and religious practices Phillis Isabella Sheppard argues for the importance of the exchange between interiority and public spaces and examines religion in cyberspace art ritual and street ministry She refigures the location of religious experience by retrieving Black women's interiority as religious space Often excluded from Black religious studies interiority is necessary for understanding Black women's complex and even unconscious relationship with religion The book weaves a thread by stressing that interiority has subjective intersubjective conscious unconscious and relational dimensions formed in historical and social contexts

Conversations with Sonia Sanchez Sonia Sanchez, 2007 Collected interviews with the poet activist and author of Home Coming and We a BaddDDD People Conversations with Lorraine Hansberry Mollie Godfrey, 2020-12-28 Honorable Mention Recipient of the Modern Language Association Prize for Collaborative Bibliographical or Archival Scholarship Spanning from the debut of A Raisin in the Sun on Broadway in 1959 to her early death from cancer in January 1965 Lorraine Hansberry's short stint in the public eye changed the landscape of American theater With A Raisin in the Sun Hansberry 1930-1965 became both the first African American woman to have a play produced on Broadway and the first to win the prestigious New York Drama Critics Circle Award Resonating deeply with the aims of the civil rights movement Raisin also ushered in a new era of Black representation on the stage and screen displacing the cartoonish stereotypes that were the remnants of blackface minstrelsy in favor of complex three dimensional portrayals of Black characters and Black life Hansberry's public discourse in the aftermath of Raisin's success also disrupted mainstream critical tendencies to diminish the work of Black artists helping pave the way for future work by Black playwrights Conversations with Lorraine Hansberry is the first volume to collect all of her substantive interviews in one place including many radio and television interviews that have never before appeared in print The twenty one pieces collected here ranging from just before the Broadway premiere of A Raisin in the Sun to less than six months before Hansberry's death offer an incredible window into Hansberry's aesthetic and political thought. In these conversations Hansberry explores many of the questions most often put to Black writers of the mid twentieth century including everything from her thinking about the relationship between art and protest, universality and particularity and realism and naturalism to her sense of the relationship between Black intellectuals and the Black masses, integration and Black Nationalism and African American and Pan African liberation. Taken together these interviews reveal the insight, intensity and eloquence that made Hansberry such a transformative figure in American letters.
