Moore](#) John Zheng, 2024-10-23 Known internationally for his Japanese style poetry Lenard D Moore b 1958 has published eight poetry collections over the course of his career Moore has distinguished himself especially in such forms as jazz poetry haiku tanka renga sequence and haibun expressing moments of aesthetic delight as well as a voice enriched with African American culture Conversations with Lenard D Moore is a fundamental collection of sixteen interviews with the esteemed writer and former president of the Haiku Society of America To Moore jazz is a joyful celebration of American life and culture The impacts of such great jazz musicians as Max Roach John Coltrane Thelonious Monk Duke Ellington and Ray Charles are clear in his poetry The conversations collected here lead the reader into Moore's creative mind demonstrating his fusion of African American music culture and history into poetry especially his jazz poetry jazzku and bluesku In interviews that range from 1995 to 2023 Moore reveals his capabilities and responsibilities as a contemporary poet professor mentor editor and organizer This volume serves as an indispensable source for writers and readers of poetry and African American literature

Conversations with Margaret Walker Margaret Walker, 2002 Margaret Walker 1915 1998 began her writing career as a poet in the late 1930s But she was cast into the limelight in 1966 when her novel Jubilee was published to wide critical and commercial acclaim In interviews ranging from 1972 to 1996 Conversations with Margaret Walker captures Walker's voice as she discusses an incredibly wide range of interests The same erudition wit and love of language on display in Jubilee comes through in conversations as well as her sense of moral authority imbued by a resonant Christian humanism and her attention to historical detail In a long 1972 conversation with fellow poet Nikki Giovanni Walker argues about the tribulations and triumphs of motherhood the presence of black women in literature and race relations in American culture from 1900 to the present With Marcia Greenlee in 1977 she talks extensively about her family's history and her love of botany In several of the interviews her friendship with Richard Wright rises to the forefront Even in her interviews with Claudia Tate and John Griffin Jones in which the interviewers try to direct the conversations toward the mechanics and thought processes behind Walker s writing the talks often sweep into broader issues of African American culture family history and the past s influence on the present This collection amply shows that Margaret Walker was a writer who considered her work to be deeply influenced by the culture around her She viewed her writing as part of her larger life and not separate or distanced from her existence Bracingly direct witty and oddly charming the writer in Conversations with Margaret Walker is complicated passionate forceful and piercingly intelligent

Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood Heather Snell, Lorna Hutchison, 2013-11-07 The essays in this collection address the relationship between children and cultural memory in texts both for and about young people The collection overall is concerned with how cultural memory is shaped contested forgotten recovered and re circulated sometimes in opposition to dominant national narratives and often for the benefit of young readers who are assumed not to possess any prior cultural memory From the innovative development of school libraries in the 1920s to the role of utopianism in fixing cultural memory for teen readers it provides a critical look into children and ideologies of childhood as they are represented in a broad spectrum of texts including film poetry literature and architecture from Canada the United States Japan Germany Britain India and Spain These cultural forms collaborate to shape ideas and values in turn contributing to dominant discourses about national and global citizenship The essays included in the collection imply that childhood is an oft imagined idealist construction based in large part on participation identity and perception childhood is invisible and tangible exciting and intriguing and at times elusive even as cultural and literary artifacts recreate it Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood is a valuable resource for scholars of children s literature and culture readers interested in childhood and ideology and those working in the fields of diaspora and postcolonial studies

In Search of Our Warrior Mothers La Donna Forsgren, 2018-04-15 The Black Arts Movement 1965-76 consisted of artists across the United States deeply concerned with the relationship between politics and the black aesthetic In Search of Our Warrior Mothers examines the ways in which black women playwrights in the movement advanced feminist and womanist perspectives from within black nationalist discourses La Donna L Forsgren recuperates the careers artistic theories and dramatic contributions of four leading playwrights Martie Evans Charles J e Franklin Sonia Sanchez and Barbara Ann Teer Using original interviews production recordings playbills and unpublished manuscripts she investigates how these women despite operating within a context that equated the collective well being of black people with black male agency created works that validated black women s aspirations for autonomy and explored women s roles in the struggle for black liberation In Search of Our Warrior Mothers demonstrates the powerful contributions of women to the creation interpretation and dissemination of black aesthetic theory thus opening an interdisciplinary conversation at the intersections of theater performance feminist and African American studies and identifying and critiquing the gaps and silences within pivotal era and the artists who followed in their footsteps to become the force behind contemporary liberation music. Joining authentic voices with a bittersweet narrative covering more than fifty years of fighting oppression through song, Keep On Pushing defines the soundtrack to revolution and the price the artists paid to create it. Exclusive interviews with Yoko Ono, Richie Havens, Len Chandler, Buffy Sainte Marie, Michael Franti, Solomon Burke, Wayne Kramer, John Sinclair, Phranc, plus musician activist Elaine Brown on the Black Panthers, Nina Simone, collaborator Al Schackman, Penelope Houston, and Debora Iyall on San Francisco punk rock, Ed Pearl on the L.A. folk scene, and the Ash Grove and other musical and political icons.

Dissonant Voices Joseph Pizza, 2023-09-28 Dissonant Voices uncovers the interracial collaboration at the heart of the postwar avant garde. While previous studies have explored the writings of individual authors and groups, this work is among the first to trace the cross-cultural debate that inspired and energized midcentury literature in America and beyond. By reading a range of poets in the full context of the friendships and romantic relationships that animated their writing, this study offers new perspectives on key textual moments in the foundation and development of postmodern literature in the U.S. Ultimately, these readings aim to integrate our understanding of New American Poetry, the Black Arts Movement, and the various contemporary approaches to poetry and poetics that have been inspired by their examples. Renegade Poetics Evie Shockley, 2011-10 Beginning with a deceptively simple question, what do we mean when we designate behaviors, values, or forms of expression as black, Evie Shockley's Renegade Poetics teases out the more complex and nuanced possibilities the concept has long encompassed. She redefines black aesthetics descriptively, resituating innovative poetry that has been marginalized because it was not recognizably black, and avant-garde poetry dismissed because it was Black cover. The Muse is Music Meta DuEwa Jones, 2011 This wide-ranging, ambitiously interdisciplinary study traces jazz's influence on African American poetry from the Harlem Renaissance to contemporary spoken word poetry. Examining established poets such as Langston Hughes, Ntozake Shange, and Nathaniel Mackey, as well as a generation of up-and-coming contemporary writers and performers, Meta DuEwa Jones highlights the intersections of race, gender, and sexuality within the jazz tradition and its representation in poetry. Applying prosodic analysis to emphasize the musicality of African American poetic performance, she examines the gendered meanings evident in collaborative performances and in the criticism, images, and sounds circulating within jazz cultures. Jones also considers poets who participated in contemporary venues for black writing, such as the Dark Room Collective and the Cave Canem Foundation, including Harryette Mullen, Elizabeth Alexander, and Carl Phillips. Incorporating a finely honed discussion of the Black Arts Movement, the poetry-jazz fusion of the late 1950s, and slam and spoken word performance milieus such as Def Poetry Jam, she focuses on jazz and hip-hop-influenced performance artists including Tracie Morris, Saul Williams, and Jessica Care Moore. Through attention to cadence, rhythm, and structure, The Muse is Music fills a gap in literary scholarship by attending to issues of gender in jazz and poetry and by analyzing recordings of poets both with and without musical accompaniment. Applying the methodology of textual close reading to a critical close listening of American poetry's resonant soundscape Jones's analyses include exploring the formal innovation and queer performance of Langston Hughes's recorded collaboration with jazz musicians delineating the relationship between punctuation and performance in the post soul John Coltrane poem and closely examining jazz improvisation and hip hop stylization An elaborate articulation of the connections between jazz poetry and spoken word and gender The Muse Is Music offers valuable criticism of specific texts and performances and a convincing argument about the shape of jazz and African American poetic performance in the contemporary era

The Racial Complex Fanny Brewster, 2019-10-28 In The Racial Complex A Jungian Perspective on Culture and Race Fanny Brewster revisits and examines Jung's classical writing on the theory of complexes relating it directly to race in modern society In this groundbreaking exploration Brewster deepens Jung's minimalist writing regarding the cultural complexes of American blacks and whites by identifying and re-defining a psychological complex related to ethnicity Original and insightful this book provides a close reading of Jung's complexes theory with an Africanist perspective on raciality and white black racial relationships Brewster explores how racial complexes influence personality development cultural behavior and social and political status and how they impact contemporary American racial relations She also investigates aspects of the racial complex including archetypal shadow as core constellations and their expression and cultural trauma in the African diaspora The book concludes with a discussion of racial complexes as a continuous psychological state and how to move towards personal cultural and collective healing Analyzing Jung's work with a renewed lens and providing fresh comparisons to other literature and films including Get Out Brewster extends Jung's work to become more inclusive of culture and ethnicity addressing issues which have been left previously unexamined in psychoanalytic thought Due to its interdisciplinary nature this book will be of great importance to academics and students of Jungian and post Jungian studies sociology politics history of race African American studies and African diaspora studies As this book discusses Jung's complexes theory in a new light it will be of immense interest to Jungian analysts and analytical psychologists in practice and in training

This Is Her Century Doaa Abdelhafez Hamada, 2014-07-24 This book is a study of the works of Margaret Walker 1915-1998 in chronological order in the social and intellectual context of twentieth century America Walker is a writer who is known by name for her works however very little criticism is written on her literary contributions This is the first monograph on Walker's work by a single author and is an attempt to establish the importance of Walker's representation of twentieth century America against its critical obscurity This book shows that Walker is a woman writer who slipped to the margins of the African American literary canon for improper reasons Material presented in this study is based on research on available criticism published on Walker's work It is also based on research on the social intellectual and political aspects of twentieth century America This text also incorporates information derived from the researcher's close reading of Walker's work It argues that issues of race gender and class are always connected in twentieth century America and in Walker's work as reflective of this century in America It also argues that Walker's feminist consciousness develops from one work to another until it reaches its peak in her later poetry

Encyclopedia of Feminist Literature Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2015-04-22 Presents articles on feminist literature including significant authors, themes and history

Jazz Griots Jean-Philippe Marcoux, 2012-06-27 This book studies how four representative African American poets of the 1960s Langston Hughes, Umbra, David Henderson and the Black Arts Movement's Sonia Sanchez and Amiri Baraka engage in the tradition of griots in poetic dialogues with aesthetics, music, politics and Black History. In so doing they narrate using jazz as meta language, genealogies, etymologies, cultural legacies and Black histories. In intersecting and complementary ways, Hughes, Henderson, Sanchez and Baraka fashioned their griotism from theorizations of artistry as political engagement and in turn formulated a Black aesthetic based on jazz performativity on a series of jazz-infused iterations that form a complex pattern of literary, musical, historical and political moments in constant cross-fertilizing dialogues with one another. This form of poetic call and response becomes a definitional literary template for these poets as it allows both the possibility of intergenerational dialogues between poets and musicians and dialogic potential between song and politics between Africa and Black America between vernacular continuums in their poems

Black Prophetic Fire Cornel West, Christa Buschendorf, 2014-10-07 An unflinching look at nineteenth and twentieth-century African American leaders and their visionary legacies. In an accessible conversational format, Cornel West with distinguished scholar Christa Buschendorf provides a fresh perspective on six revolutionary African American leaders: Frederick Douglass, W. E. B. Du Bois, Martin Luther King Jr., Ella Baker, Malcolm X, and Ida B. Wells. In dialogue with Buschendorf, West examines the impact of these men and women on their own eras and across the decades. He not only rediscovers the integrity and commitment within these passionate advocates but also their fault lines. West, in these illuminating conversations with the German scholar and thinker Christa Buschendorf, describes Douglass as a complex man who is both the towering Black freedom fighter of the nineteenth century and a product of his time who lost sight of the fight for civil rights after the emancipation. He calls Du Bois undeniably the most important Black intellectual of the twentieth century and explores the more radical aspects of his thinking in order to understand his uncompromising critique of the United States, which has been omitted from the American collective memory. West argues that our selective memory has sanitized and even Santa Clausified Martin Luther King Jr., rendering him less radical and has marginalized Ella Baker, who embodies the grassroots organizing of the civil rights movement. The controversial Malcolm X, who is often seen as a proponent of reverse racism, hatred and violence, has been demonized in a false opposition with King, while the appeal of his rhetoric and sincerity to students has been sidelined. Ida B. Wells, West argues, shares Malcolm X's radical spirit and fearless speech but has often become the victim of public amnesia. By providing new insights that humanize all of these well-known figures in the engrossing dialogue with Buschendorf and in his insightful introduction and powerful closing essay, Cornel West takes an important step in rekindling the Black prophetic fire
