Handbook of Sustainability Science in the Future Walter Leal Filho, Anabela Marisa Azul, Federica Doni, Amanda Lange Salvia, 2023-08-14 Humanity will have to cope with many problems in the coming decades for instance the world population is likely grow to to 8 8 billion people by 2035 Also changing climate conditions are negatively affecting the livelihoods of millions of people In particular environmental disasters are causing substantial damages to properties From a social perspective the inequalities between rich and poor nations are becoming even deeper and in many countries conflicts between national and international interest groups are intensifying The above state of affairs suggest that a broader understanding of the trends which may lead to a more sustainable world is needed especially those which may pave the way for future developments In other words we need to pave the way for sustainable futures Consistent with this reality the proposed Encyclopedia of Sustainability Futures aims to identify document and disseminate ideas experiences and visions from scientists member of nongovernmental organisations decision makers industry representatives and citizens on themes and issues which will be important in pursuing sustainable future scenarios In particular the publication will focus on scientific aspects as well as on social and economic ones also considering matters related to financing and infra structures which are important in pursuing a sustainable future The Encyclopedia of Sustainability Futures will involve the contributing authors in line with the principle of co generation from across a wide range of disciplines e g education and social sciences natural sciences engineering the arts languages etc with papers adopting a long term sustainability perspective with a time horizon until 2050 The focus will be on themes which are felt as important in the future and the chapters are expected to interest and motivate a world audience This book is part of the 100 papers to accelerate the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals initiative

The One Mind Matthew A. Fike, 2013-10-08 The One Mind C G Jung and the Future of Literary Criticism explores the implications of C G Jung s unus mundus by applying his writings on the metaphysical the paranormal and the quantum to literature As Jung knew everything is connected because of its participation in universal consciousness which encompasses all that is including the collective unconscious Matthew A Fike argues that this principle of unity enables an approach in which psychic functioning is both a subject and a means of discovery psi phenomena evoke the connections among the physical world the psyche and the spiritual realm Applying the tools of Jungian literary criticism in new ways by expanding their scope and methodology Fike discusses the works of Hawthorne Milton Shakespeare Wordsworth and lesser known writers in terms of issues from psychology parapsychology and physics Topics include the case for monism over materialism altered states of consciousness types of psychic functioning UFOs synchronicity and space time relativity The One Mind examines Goodman Brown s dream Adam s vision in Paradise Lost the dream sequence in The Wanderer the role of metaphor in Robert A Monroe s metaphysical trilogy Orfeo Angelucci s work on UFOs and the stolen boat episode in Wordsworth s The Prelude The book concludes with case studies on Robert Jordan and William Blake Considered together these readings bring us a significant step closer to a unity of psychology science and spirituality The One Mind illustrates how Jung s writings contain the seeds of the future of literary criticism Reaching beyond archetypal criticism and postmodern theoretical approaches to Jung Fike proposes a new school of Jungian literary criticism based on the unitary world that underpins the collective unconscious This book will appeal to scholars of C G Jung as well as students and readers with an interest in psychoanalysis literature literary theory and the history of ideas
