This book offers a broad selection of statistical applications to everyday situations illustrating how exciting and diverse statistical analysis can be. It covers a wide variety of topics including offering hearing impaired people the option to enjoy music, extracting meaningful quantitative data from texts, and modeling flood disasters to help get a better grip on them. Most of the examples are not typically found in textbooks but directly relate to real life problems encountered by the average person, including topics relevant for sustainable development. Technical jargon and formalism have been avoided as much as possible, and a detailed statistical background is not assumed of the reader, making the book accessible to anyone interested in current research in statistical applications.
