has been telling its own story Its photographers were concerned witnesses to history and artists on the hunt for decisive moments their pictures were humanist documents of the postwar world Based in unprecedented archival research The Decisive Network peels back layers of the Magnum mythology to offer a new history of what it meant to shoot edit and sell news images after World War II Between the 1940s and 1960s Magnum expanded the human interest story about the everyday life of ordinary people to global dimensions while bringing the aesthetic of news pictures into new markets Its best known work started as humanitarian aid promotion travel campaigns corporate publicity and advertising Working with this range of clients Magnum made photojournalism integral to visual culture Yet Magnum's photographers could not have done this alone This book unpacks the collaborative nature of photojournalism as it transpired on a daily basis focusing on how picture editors sales agents spouses and publishers helped Magnum photographers succeed in their assignments and achieve fame The Decisive Network concludes in the late 1960s and early 1970s when amidst the decline of magazine publishing and the rise of an art market for photography Magnum turned to photo books and exhibitions to manage its growing picture archives and consolidate its brand In that moment Magnum's photojournalists became artists and their assignments turned into oeuvres Such ideas were necessary publicity and they also managed to shape discussions about photography for decades
