Genocides by the Oppressed Nicholas A. Robins, Adam Jones, 2009-05-12 In the last two decades the field of comparative genocide studies has produced an increasingly rich literature on the targeting of various groups for extermination and other atrocities throughout history and around the contemporary world However the phenomenon of genocides by the oppressed that is retributive genocidal actions carried out by subaltern actors has received almost no attention The prominence in such genocides of non state actors combined with the perceived moral ambiguities of retributive genocide that arise in analyzing genocidal acts from below have so far eluded serious investigation Genocides by the Oppressed addresses this oversight opening the subject of subaltern genocide for exploration by scholars of genocide ethnic conflict and human rights Focusing on case studies of such genocide the contributors explore its sociological anthropological psychological symbolic and normative dimensions Primate Life Histories, Sex Roles, and

Adaptability Urs Kalbitzer, Katharine M. Jack, 2018-10-29 Professor Linda M Fedigan Member of the Order of Canada and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada has made major contributions to our understanding of the behavioural ecology of primates Furthermore Linda Fedigan pioneered and continues to advance scholarship on the role of women in science as well as actively promoting the inclusion of women in the academy A symposium in honour of her career was held in Banff Alberta Canada in December 2016 during which former and current students and collaborators as well as scientists with similar research interests presented and discussed their work and their connections to Linda Fedigan These presentations and discussions are here presented as chapters in this festschrift The original works presented in this book are organized around four major research areas that have been greatly advanced and influenced by Linda Fedigan Primate life histories Sex roles gender and science Primate environment interactions Primate adaptation to changing environments Billboard

Work! Elspeth H. Brown,2019-04-11 From the haute couture runways of Paris and New York and editorial photo shoots for glossy fashion magazines to reality television models have been a ubiquitous staple of twentieth and twenty first century American consumer culture In Work Elspeth H Brown traces the history of modeling from the advent of photographic modeling in the early twentieth century to the rise of the supermodel in the 1980s Brown outlines how the modeling industry sanitized and commercialized models sex appeal in order to elicit and channel desire into buying goods She shows how this new form of sexuality whether exhibited in the Ziegfeld Follies girls performance of Anglo Saxon femininity or in African American models portrayal of black glamour in the 1960s became a central element in consumer capitalism and a practice that has always been shaped by queer sensibilities By outlining the paradox that queerness lies at the center of capitalist heteronormativity and telling the largely unknown story of queer models and photographers Brown offers an out of the ordinary history of twentieth century American culture and capitalism
